Uneasiness Felt Over Russia's Preparations for War.

POLAND IS NOW A VAST MILITARY CAMP.

The Czar Now Has Quartered 130,000 Soldiers on His Southern Frontier-Canada's Copyright Law Discussed-Chamberlain on Gladstone-General Foreign News-Brief Cablegrams.

VIENNA, May 7 .- Considerable uneasiness is in military circles owing to the renewed reports of apparent preparations for war on the part of Russia and the movement of troops toward the western frontier. Ad vices from Russian Poland state that the officers of the reserve are daily receiving sealed orders to be opened only upon further instructions, these orders being intended for a case of sudden mobilization. There can be no doubt that every possible measure is be the taken to prepare to selze the first advantage in case of a declaration of war.

According to advices received at Cracow from Warsaw, the constant movement of troops in Russian Poland continues to excite military transport trains have been passing have been billeted on the inhabitants in the surrounding districts. According to an official statement there are now 130.000 troops quartered in Russian Poland. Two new guns, of colossal size, weighing 118 tons each, have arrived from the Obous-hoff works at Sebastopol. They are intended for the Russian Black Sea tronclad squadron. The special train containing these heavy pleces of artillery travelled only thirty-nine miles an hour, and at every station the trucks were carefully inspected by a number of ex-

CANADIAN COPYRIGHT.

DOMINION PUBLISHERS AT A DISADVANTAGE-REMEDIES PROPOSED.

OTTAWA. May 7.- In the House of Commons vesterday afternoon Mr. Edgar drew attention to the unsatisfactory condition of the copyright law. He said that in 1889 an act was passed containing many changes which were considered advantageous. Three years had now elapsed and yet the law was not in eration. True, there was a provision in statute that it should not come into force ill after a proclamation by the Governor neral in council. The statute was not diseneral in council. The statute was not dis-lowed at the time, therefore it could not by be constitutionally disallowed. He asked the leader of the House why the statute had be been placed in force. No one had spoken ore strongly on the act than Sir John hompson himself. The Government had been pressed from the reforms of the House toward the end of the last session and had duced and had passed an address to the asking the Imperial Government to the necessary steps to have the proclaimed and also to condemn the ult of the Berne convention on copyright, as to liberate Canada if possible. o as to liberate Canada it possible. Things aving gone so far he wanted Sir John Chompson to show courage and bring the ctinto operation. They knew that under he law a Canadian publisher could not rerint an English copyright at all, but that opyright act which came into force last ear was most injurious to Canadian authors. Now English authors can copyright in the United States, but Canadian publishers can-not reprint at all, hence Canadians were not reprint at all, hence chandlans were worse off than ever, as the Canadian pub-lisher cannot obtain any of these works. There was an evident feeling in the press contrary to the decision of the Minister of Justice against American citizens taking out copyright here: He could not understand the cause of the difference. If an American me here and complied with the Canadian ws as a Canadian does in the United States ought to be able to do what he desired. If he came here and was domicfled here his work could be printed in this country the same as a Canadian's book could in the United States. It was a little curious that in order to publish here a book must be both printed and published here. In England this was not necessary.

Sir John Thompson said that it was incum bent on Canada to insert in the statute a clause submitting the putting of the act in force to the Imperial authorities. The reason for this was that copyright was one of those questions in which the mother country held a separate policy and separate opinions as well as distant relations with other countries. The proclamation had not been issued be-cause the Imperial Government had not withdrawn their objections. Last year both Houses joined in an address to Her Majesty's Government asking them to pass an act to enable the proclamation to issue, but what occurred since was not of such a nature as he could disclose at present. The American act on this subject was the issue of a proclamation more desirable. He would be very glad when he was able to state fully the most recent communications on the subject between Canada and the Imperial authorities as to reciprocity in conversal. perial authorities as to reciprocity in copy-right. Complaints had been made on behalf of the United States that reciprocity had not been observed by Canada. The matter was still under discussion. His own decision had been given on the part of the subject only which had been brought under his notice. There had been so many changes desired by Her Majesty's government. The Canadian government had answered that they would consider the matter when the act of 1889 was put in force and as amendments to the act. The matter was then dismissed.

Minneapolis—Other Losses.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 7.—At 2 o'clock this morning fire started in the office of the Northern Car Manufacturing Co. at Robinsdale, a suburb of this city, and in an hour the entire plant was destroyed. The loss on building and machinery will be $100,000, of which amount not more than $10,000 is on the buildings, the remainder being on the machinery and uncompleted cars. The Minneapolis fire Department was not notified until the fire was well under way, and then on the fire was well under way, and then on account of the distance, between four and five miles, they did not reach the scene until too late to be of any assistance. Between one hundred and fifty and two hundred men will be thrown out of employment. The insurance will not probably cover more than balf the loss.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7 .- The appropria tions by the first session of this Congress will by $23,000,000. This is due, however, entirely acts of the billion-dollar Congress which, by its pension legislation, increased the amount necessary to be appropriated by this Congress over tha of the last $40,000,000. Then the permanent annual appropriation to be made by this Con-gress was increased $30,000,000 over that of the last by the sugar bounty act, the shipping subsidy act and the tariff bill, no ap propriations for which were made by the last nake a reduction of $70,000,000 on other bills o come down to an equality with the first session of the Fifty-first. As a matter of fact this Congress has reduced expenses $50,000, 000 over the first session of the last, but the additional $70,000,000 provided for by the last but necessary to be appropriated by this increases the amount about $23,000,000.

The difference between the two 'Congresses is that the Reed Congress was economical at its first session but made a raid upon the treasury in the second session, even with the Republican extravagance left to be appropriated by this Congress. The appropriations for the two sessions will come under a billion for this session. The total appropriations will be $486,000,000.

CONGRESSIONAL.

IVER AND HARBOR APPROPRIATIONS CLAIM THE ATTENTION OF THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7 .- In the Hous everal bills were passed this morning, afte which the House went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Hatch in the chair) on the river and harbor bill, the pending amend ment being that by Mr. Whiting of Michigan, who moved to strike out of the bill the appropriation for a ship channel 21 feet in depth, connecting the waters of the great lakes between Chicago, Duluth and Buffalo, and inserting in lieu thereof a provision authorizing the Secretary of War to appoint a board of engineers, to whom shall be referred the report of Col. O. M. Poe upon the subject of a twenty-foot channel from Duluth to Buffalo, through the great lakes. The board shall also report as to the practicability of raising the water level of the lakes and connecting harbors by damming the Niagara River. Mr. Castle of Minnesota defended the provision for a twenty-one-foot channel as reported by the committee. The amendment of the genileman from Michigan would, of course, benefit the elevator interests of Port Huron, Mr. Whitting's home.

At present the deeply laden ships must stop off at Port Huron, and leave a portion of the freight there, to be transhipped by rail to another portion of the lakes.

Mir. Vincent A. Taylor of Ohlo thought, if the amendment prevailed, the proposed channels in other sections of the country of the bill the appropriation for a ship

Mr. Vincent A. Taylor of Olio thought, if the amendment prevailed, the proposed channels in other sections of the country should also be so referred.

Mr. Tarsney of Missouri advocated the amendment of Mr. Whiting on the ground that if they had large vessels on the lakes they could only enter one or two harbors, and the other harbors would be destroyed. The Government would thus be called upon to appropriate untold millions.

Mr. Chipman of Michigan opposed the Whiting amendment, and said that the country between Duluth and Buffalo represented cereal products of 29,000,000 people. Congress should not allow the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada to absorb the entire transportation from the St. Clair river to the seaboard. He protested against the little city at the head of the St. Clair river (Port Huron) standing in the way of the prosperity of the whole country. hole country.

LABOR NEWS. Longshoremen and Employers Fixing a Schedule-Strikes.

ASRLAND, Wis., May 7 .- A meeting of mill nen, lumber shippers and transportation companies took place at the Business Men's rooms this afternoon, at which the matter of wages insisted upon by the Longsho Union of 50 cents per hour for loading lumber was discussed. Two years ago the price per hour at which they started in to load lumber was 30 cents, last year 40 cents, and this year the longshoremen have settled on 50 cents per hour, although they had assured shippers and transportation companies a month ago that they would not ask over 40 cents per hour, and prices for transportation have been made upon this basis. At the meeting this afternoon a committee of five was appointed to confer with the Longshoremen's Union and to arrange, if possible, to have the m load the lumber at the port at a fixed rate per thousand, "instead of by the hour." It is thought that an amicable understanding will be had between the shippers and the union, as many prominent members of the latter are in favor of a "per thousand" rate of wages.

At a largely attended meeting of the Longshoremen's Union in Chicago a resolution was adopted practically abolishing contract labor. The men will henceforth deal directly with the companies. per hour, although they had assured ship-

THE LEATHER TRADE

Curtailment of Production Proposed by Leading Dealers.

NEW YORK, May 7 .- Prominent trade men representing large producers in he South and West and other parts of the country, are in session at the office of Schultz, Ivins & Co., pursuant to a cal sent out by the local trade for a meeting to consider a proposition not to wet hides for a period of proposition not to wet hides for a period of sixty or ninety days. Thomas F. Proctor of Boston, representing large Pennsylvania tanneries, is presiding. The object of this meeting is to feel the pilse of the operators regarding a cutaliment of production in the market. Nearly fifty men were in attendance, and after a half hour's general discussion on the subject, the members went into secret session. It is hoped to come to a general agreement among the largest producers to stop work for a period of fully ninety days, and thereby allow the heavy stock on hand to be disposed of.

The price of leather is at the present time very low, no profit resulting for the tanners or dealers. Until recent years a shut down has taken place during the summer months, but owing to improved processes of tanning, this is not necessary, and there becomes a tendency to gitt the market.

The body of William Healy, the farmer living hear Chandlerville, Ill., who was found dead at his home April 28, was exhumed yesterday and a further examination made, which showed that the bullet which caused his death was fired from the rear.

WANTED AS WITNESSES. Arrest of Wm. Walker and Ben Jones at a Nebraska Village. CRAWFORD, Neb., May 7 .- William Walker and Ben Jones were arrested last night by Marshal Morrison on a telegram from Wyoming. These two are important witnesses of the late killing of the two men, Champion and Ray, in Wyoming, and escaped from the Buffalo jail a day or so ago. Several cattlemen arrived in Crawford to-day and de nanded the prisoners, who asked for protection from the cattlemen. A special train was sent from Chadron, and the prisoners and the varshal were taken there half an hour ahead of the regular train, on which were several rustlers and cattlemen. Considerable excitement prevails, and much feeling is shown in favor of the prisoners and against the cattlemen.

Two German Bankers Try It, and One

BERLIN, May 7.-A sensation has been caused in business circles here by the suicide of Victor Jaegerstrom, chief member of a noted commission firm, and the attempted suicide of his brother. They left home on Thursday and they did not return. Last night they were found in the Thiergarten. Victor was dead, having been shot with a revolver. His brother had attempted to hang himself, but the rope, part of which was attached to a limb of a tree, had broken. He was partly unconscious, however, and was at once removed to the Moabit Hospital, where his condition was pronounced critical. No reason for the acts of the brothers is known. Their affairs were supposed to be in a most prosperous condition.

Will Break a Record. New York, May 7 .- All steamship records may be broken if the steamship Feurst Bismarck keeps up the gait which the oil tank Brilliant, just arrived, saw her going Thurs-Brilliant, just arrived, saw her going Thursday. Her Captain reported passing the Fuerst Bismarck 100 miles east of Sandy Hook. Her speed had been 21.4 sea miles an hour. If the Feurst Bismarck can keep it up she ought to arrive in 5 days and 18 hours, equal to 5 days, 4 hours and 30 minutes from Queenstown, which time will be 13 hours 1 minute better than the record held by the Teutonic. The Feurst Bismark's best time 18 6 days, 11 hours and 44 minutes, equal to 5 days, 22 hours and 14 minutes from Queenstown.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., May 7 .- Miss Minnie Albright, daughter of Jesse Albright, a prosperous farmer, who resides near Urbana, has mysteriously disappeared from her home. She accompanied her father to Urbana Saturday, where he left her to spend Sunday with friends. The first of the week he returned for her, and was informed that her friends had not seen her. He has been diligently searching for her ever since without success. She is a pretty girl about 18 years of age.

Koreschenites in Chicago

CHICAGO, May 7 .- Dr. Cyrus Teed, the Kore chicago, May 7.—Dr. Cyrus Teed, the Koreschenite, has completed the purchase of the Hillyard property at Washington Heights, where he and his flock are to make their new home. The price paid is $35,000. He says he also has 500 acres in I diana and 60 in Illinois, here other homes will be established, and that there is a balance of $250,000 in the treasury. The home will be known as the "Koreschenity."

Out of Funds.

CHICAGO, May 7 .- The World's Columbian Commission has run out of funds. It had on May 4 last a balance of just $1,012.25 to pay salaries, rent, etc., for the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30. The monthly expenditure account averages $5,000, therefore it will have $1,000 to pay of $10,000 worth of debts. As Congress has made no appropriation for next year there is a probability that the commission will have to go around beginn for pocket money. Commission has run out of funds. It had on

TEN BADLY INJURED VICTIMS HAVE REEN RESCUED.

Many Unaccounted For and Supposed to Be Beneath the Debris-Two Bailroad Men Injured in a Collision at Knob Knoster-Fatal Gas Explosion-Other

LONDON, May 7 .- The roof of the Mackintosh Co.'s rubber factory at Manchester col-lapsed to-day. The factory at the time was full of employes. These were first startled by a rumbling sound, as of thunder, and looking up they saw the roof cracking and splitting. The working people felt the danger and rushed for an exit, but in an instant the roof came down, burying a number of people. The air was filled with a cloud of dust and debris from the ruin, and the shrieks and groans of sufferers coals be heard for a long distance. A multitude of people rushed to to the rescue and the police and fremen hastened to the scene. No fire was found and work was at once begun to get the victims out of the ruins. Ten have already been taken to the hospital, and of thes three were seriously injured and one in a dying condition. Whether there are any dead in the ruins remains to be discovered. shricks and groans of sufferers coul

RAILEOAD COLLISION.

AN ENGINEER LOSES A FOOT AND A FIREMAN BADLY INJURED.

KNOB NOSTER, Mo., May 7 .- A bad railroad accident occurred here at 8:26 this morning, the St. Louis fast mail colliding with freight engine No. 948, on the main line of the Missouri Pacific. The freight train was lying on the side track at this place and the engine was doing some switching on the main line. As No. 7, the St. Louis fast mail, being drawn by engine No. 23, rounded the curve, it collided with the freight engine. Wood Wiley, engineer of engine No. 948, had his foot crushed off, and Fireman Grosuch his shoulder dislocated. The front end of both engines are considerably damaged and several freight cars are off the track. The track is being cleared and the fast mail was only delayed a few hours, no mail being damaged. No one was killed. Engineer Wiley is in quite a critical condition. W. E. Donnelly was in charge of the fast mail engine, with Frank Sargeant as conductor, R. 6. Foster being the conductor of the freight train. The accident is the fault of the freight train. The mail train leaves St. Louis at 3 o'clock a. m., and is due in Kansas City at 10 o'clock a. m. The accident will cause a delay in all Western mails, the fast mail not reaching Kansas City in time to-day to make connections. the engine was doing some switching on the connections. Garden the fast mail were connections. Two postal clerks on the fast mail were slightly injured. Their names were John W. Saiwainter, 2152 Walnut street, St. Louis, and Al Koeling of St. Louis.

STAUNTON, III., May 7 .- Another gas exploion occurred in the Clyde mine yesterday whereby Wm. Diester was killed and Joe Gahagan seriously injured. This is the seco explosion within two months, one man being killed about eight weeks ago. Experienced men from this city left for Clyde to get the mine in working order.

OPPRESSION IN OFFICE. A Lady Brutally Treated by Chicago Policemen. CHICAGO, May 7.—A glaring piece of op-pression in office was revealed in the police court here when Mrs. Etta Robinson was brought up for examination. The police have been hunting for Miss Ella C. White, an alleged forger of Elmira, N. Y. Some days ago Mr. J. O. Newton, who says he knows the White woman, met Mrs. Robinson and informed the police that the much wanted Miss White was Mrs. Robinson. Mrs. Robin son was arrested and kept under surveillance, so the police say, but she claims she was locked up and ill-treated. Finally, Mr. was locked up and lil-treated. Finally, Mr. C. P. Norman, cashier of the Second National Bank of Elmira, came to this city and identified Etta Robinson as Ella C. White. When the case came up in the police court to-day Miss Robinson proved that she was not Miss White and the judge discharged the prisoner. Her friends are very indignant at the police for their share in bringing about the incarceration and subsequent abuse of Mrs. Robinson.

Social Science Club Meeting.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., May 6.-The Social is assembled in its twelfth annual convention in the Presbyterian Church in this city. large number of ladies prominent in the two States of Kansas and Missouri, besides a number of distinguished ladies from the East, are in attenuence. The club exists only for the purpose of advancing and elevating society in all of its branches, and the questions under discussion are to that end. President Mrs. Laura E. Scammon of Kansas City is presiding.

Looking to Oklahoma

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 7.-The negroes in this section still have a hankering after Oklahoma. The recent action of the mob near Nashville has stirred them to fresh activity and preparations are being made for an ex-odus on a large scale. Nearly every negro is hearding this money to take him to the prom-ised land. One of the ringleaders in the coming migration said to-day that before June 12,000 negroes would be on the march.

WEBSTER PAR

This largest Subdivision of WEBSTER GROVES was recently designed by a Landscape Architect of national reputation, and is unusually attractive as a place for suburban homes.

Over three thousand shade trees have been planted; the roads (over four miles in extent) graded, and the contractor is now preparing to pave them in the best manner. Substantial sidewalks will be provided.

Building restrictions will be enforced and all nuisances prohibited.

THIRTY-TWO TRAINS DAILY afford quick and frequent communication. Fast trains morning and evening make the trip between Webster and Union Depot in 25 and 30 minutes.

The outlook from WEBSTER PARK is commanding. On the north the Court House at Clayton (four miles away) is easily seen; on the east the spires and large buildings in the western part of the city loom up as if only a mile or two away; while on the south and west the billowing hills of the Meramec are in plain view.

THERE is one strong objection to the reelection of HARRISON, which is becoming stronger every day. Russ is his son.

THE Republican Senate should be given an opportunity to throw out a free coal bill. The party of special privileges should be made to declare its friendship for the anthracite monopoly.

A PIRST-CLASS Sunday newspaper and indemnity for serious accident form a journalistic combination that cannot be beaten. It is what the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH gives all of its subscribers and purchasers.

The SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH accepts advertising on a distinct and unequivocating ee that its circulation in the City of St. Louis and suburbs is more than double that of the "Republic" and larger than any other Sunday newspaper.

IT is not necessary for a person to die to get the benefit of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH insurance coupon. It covers a list of disabling accidents. It is a possible relief to all who run the risk of accidents to which all are liable.

THE report that Mr. HARRISON will not accept the nomination if he has to depend upon Southern delegates is the work of a first visit of a ship of commerce which humorist. A man who depends for election upon purchased votes will not be to uninterrupted traffic. That would be particular about the means of nomination.

PRESIDENT HARRISON is rightly confident of renomination, but he cannot cruiser visits and all the war navies of the afford to sleep until the battle is over. Abharrent forces are at work against him, people of the Mississippi Valley should be a combination of which would destroy his chances. Mr. HARRISON has done well by his plutocratic friends, but there is no doubt Mr. REED is willing to do better.

dignantly refuse the Vice-Presidency if tendered him. He will consider such an is a man of splendid abilities and fine menoffer an insult. Think of it! An honor sought and accepted by JOHN ADAMS, THOMAS JEFFERSON, JOHN C. CALHOUN and HENRY WILSON rejected by a veteran with a damaged record. Who is this proud man? He is a rich lumber merchant.

Isn'T it strange that the American worksuch weak-kneed qualities that they cannot stand alone? Gov. FIFER repeats the old sayings on this subject like all the other Republican orators, but it is not explained why the stalwart American, enjoying any other and with a character of more than usual manliness, needs to be protected from the people who are described as paupers and semi-humans.

THE WORLD insists that there is law enough to break up the coal conspiracy if be cured without the risk of killing them. those charged with its enforcement do Buggy whips, cowhides and fists have their duty. The trouble is there is too much law. Every "interest" with an axe to grind gets a little legislation until the statute books swarm with enactments conferring special privileges on the few which are so many subtractions from the of insurrection, proposes to compensate equal rights of all. If some of the laws the victims by a compulsory and general which sustain these conspiracies were repealed it would not be necessary to enact any to overthrow them.

TO THE FIRST PLACE.

Merit will win. The history of the POST-DISPATCH is vidence of this. The last completed chapter is indisputable proof. The POST-DISPATCH for the month of April just passed has eclipsed all previous records in volume of business, receipts, circulation, and last, but not least, quantity and quality of its news service. The business of the current month promises to exceed the unparalleled showing of the month of April.

Pressure of business has necessitated in creasing the size of the paper, and the issue of ten, twelve or sixteen page papers were of almost daily occurrence.

The size of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH. a forty-page paper, and its great circulation, have taxed the mechanical possibilities of our stereotyping and press-rooms to the furthest point. These facilities are being increased as expeditiously as possible. The issue of the first number of the SUN-DAY POST-DISPATCH marked a new epoch in journalism in the West.

It was founded on the confidence that the best Sunday paper would win. The accomplished fact justifies the theory. It has reached the first place as a Sunday

It has been awarded the patronage of the people and now publishes SEVEN times more bona fide "want ads" than the Republic. It is read by more people in this city and immediate vicinity than the Globe-Democrat and excepting the Globe-Democrat in the same territory, is read by more people than the Republic and all other Sunday publications combined.

It is from four to eight pages larger than the Republic, prints more reading matter than either of its competitors and represents each Sunday more money invested in literary features than any two issues of the Globe-Democrat.

Its business has increased nearly 25 pe cent in one year, probably a greater increase than can be shown by any other successful paper west of the Mississippi.

The SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH makes no special plea for favors. To all readers, at all times, its single request and challenge is, compare the SUN-

DAY POST-DISPATCH with its competitors A HINT TO CONGRESS.

Whether the naval cruiser Concord visits St. Louis or not this spring, the consideration of the possibility and advisability of her attempting the trip may prove of value because it draws public attention to the Mississippi River at a critical period in its

The question of the permanent improvement of the river is now before Congress and the country, and the fact is brought out by the Concord's proposed visit that the great stream cutting into the heart of the continent is subject in point of usefulness to the chances of the weather in the valley. Capable at its best of bearing great war ships, at its worst it scarcely permits free passage for mud scows. Thus, through the neglect and folly of the people's representatives, much of the incalculable advantage of a trade vitalizing artery of commerce is lost. The sand-bars and shallows which are urged as the reasons for not bringing the Concord to this city should be urged upon Congress as a convincing reason for providing for the

The first visit of a naval cruiser from the ocean would be of deep interest to the people of St. Louis, but it would not compare in interest and importance with the would mark the opening of the Mississippi occasion for boundless demonstrations of joy. An all-year channel and a merchant navy are worth any number of occasional world. Every energy at command of the enlisted in securing these things.

IN Senator JOHN G. CARLISLE the Hentucky Democrats will present to the Democratic National Convention not only the statesman of his party. Senator CARLISLE tal poise. His judgment is excellent, his views sound, and he is in sympathy with the best aspirations of his party. He commands the respect and confidence of the country, but there are several considerations which will cause the Democratic Convention to hesitate before nominating CARLISLE even were a greater favorite not ingman's dignity and consequence are in the way. Not the least of them is the location of his State.

What the Workers Want.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: The many friends of Baron Gottlieb will be pleased to learn that he is a one-sided-dyedwith socialistic tendencies. The Baron buys his tin in Wales-the cheapest market-and sells it in the United States—the dearest mar ket.

He is a protectionist when he sells, only, and a free trader when he buys. He also employs the cheapest labor in the world.

If it is suggested to have freedom of trade the Baron holds up his hands in horror, and plantitively exclaims: "Why, my dear sir, don't you know that if we throw down the tax-me-rich barriers of our benevolent protective tariff the foreigners will flood us with their pauper-made goods? Don't you know that in that case our mills, foundries and infant tin industries will be destroyed and our own people be without work? We must keep our own market for our own people, etc."

If the Baron will reason a little further her products, thereby giving work to our own people, etc.,"

If the Baron will reason a little further he will find that what he practically means is that "we should keep our own appetite for our own transportation for our own logs."

The Baron need not trouble himself about the poor workingman.

We don't want to be protected. What we want is not more work but more wages; we desire to get the good things—or goods—as quick and as cheap as possible, instead of the privilege (?) of working for them all our lives without getting them. All that protection does for us is to lengthen our roads, to make the cobblestones bigger over which we have to travel; to make it harder for us to get a living, and at the end we are patted on our backs and told that protection is the friend of American labor. Rats!

UNCLE TOM.

Brute and Human.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Tuesday's Post-Dispatch and cannot let it pass unanswered. That is, the general manner in which every one looks at the state of matter how much the poor, helpless animal must suffer. As long as they cannot express their agony but endure it silently why bother about them at all. The writer does not seem to remember how very much in the city of St. Louis alone is spent in charities for the human kind, how many hospitals, infirmaries, nurseries, etc., are maintained and how very little, comparatively, for the dumb creation. Our humans societies struggle with all kinds of obstacles and it is up-hill work all the time. Then the writer ought to bear in mind that a great many of the poor of our city are to blame for their own condition, and any one, no matter how poor, can have at least kindness and mercy for their dumb servant. Cruelty to animals is a crime, and if the family of a the brute, who starves and beats his animal should also bear the consequences. Let our little band of workers for the prevention of cruelty to animals not be discouraged, though nine-tenths of the numan race think as does the writer of the article in your Tuesday's paper. their agony but endure it silently why bother

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I would like to ask if there are no rights of rivate citizens which the constabulary is bound to respect. My family is law abiding. the rights of our neighbors, and neither thieve or receive stolen goods. In short, we have no dealings with those officers. We love flowers, and had just purchased and planted in our back yard some beautiful roses, juli of buds and blooms. Last Tuesday business called us all away from home. On our return the roses had been plucked. There was the print of a man's shoe or boot beside the rose bush. Our neighbors informed us later that three constables had been prowling all over our premises, tool house, barns, etc., during our absence. I can think of no business they could lawfully have had, and the inference is that they were the ones who plucked my dearly prized flowers. If so, they may have taken other of our possessions. The theft of a flower is no less a theft than that of a pocket-book. Is there no law to compel such people to respect the home rights of private citizens? If they had a search warrant for any supposed article in have no dealings with those officers. We search warrant for any supposed article in our possession, should they not have come while we were at home, and show themselves in lawful business? READER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: The assertions of "True American" that "we, the poor, enjoy more liberties" in this country than elsewhere is untrue, for when and where did the poor ever enjoy any liberties?

fortably if we care to work" is fiction. If fortany if we care to work is notion. If this is the case what is the reason the husband does not get enough to support a family, why is the wife compelled to take in washing or sewing, why must our daughters work in mills and factories when they ought to be at home learning housekening and why are children who when they ought to be at home learning housekeeping, and why are children who ought to be at school forced to work to help to support their parents and themselves? "True American's" criticism of "Uncle Tom" conclusively proves that he does not know anything about political economy. As the writer understands it, the sentence quoted from "Uncle Tom" refers to land-lordism on the whole earth, and not alone in the United states. If "True American" has a head for figures he can easily find the militons who go hungry and naked.

AMERICAN MOTHER.

Mary Institute.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: In a short article published in the Globe Democrat of May 1, M. Sears, the new principal of Mary Institute, calls that institution 'a famous school."

It is natural then to ask who has rendered favorite son of his State but a favorite this school famous, if not the direction anterior to his own, aided by the same teachers whom, scarcely arrived here, he hastens to Before having replaced Principal Diliard,
M. Sears had a school in Portrail

This is the secret of his action against which protests justice, as well as the best interests of the institution.

State Republican Committee Elects L M. Hall Secretary.

HE IS AN ACTIVE MEMBER OF THE KERENS-REYNOLDS FACTION

Republican State Executive Committee Holds an Important Conference To-Day With Maj. William Warner Present-Campaign to Be Opened in the Middle of June-Filley to Be Ousted From the National Committee-General Politics.

The Executive Committee of the New State Republican Committee held a meeting to-day n Parlor 22 of the Lindell Hotel. In the bsence of Chairman J. H. Bothwell of sedalia, who succeeded Channey I. Filley Vice-Chairman John T. Blake of Kansas City presided. Judge Charles G. Burton of levada was also absent. The members present, in addition to Vice Chairman Blake, were Maj. J. L. Bittings of St. Joseph, T. B. Tuttle o Carthage and Collector Henry Zeigenheir were Maj. J. L. Bittinger of the Tenth Congressional District, St. Louis. When the conference opened Maj William Warner, the Republican nominee fo most cordial reception. The gubernatorial candidate was feeling in excellent health and spirits, and told the Executive Committee that he was ready for the fray. He was requested by the committee, having been invited here by that body, to remain in he meeting and offer whatever sugges. tions he desired. Maj. Warner simply said he was ready to begin speaking at any time, that he proposed to make a thorough cam-paign, and that he would be glad if the ommittee secured a number of eminent speakers to participate in the campaign. An executive session was then held and plans discussed for the management of the campaign. It has already been decided by the General State Committee to have the he detail work of the canvass. That organization will select and assign the speakers for the various appointments.

HALL ELECTED SECRETARY.

The next subject broached was the election f.a secretary of the Executive Committee . M. Hall, formerly Secretary of the State Republican League, was suggested and he was elected without opposition. He was summoned to the meeting and promptly accepted the secretaryship, pledgring himself to give all of his time necessary to the work of the campaign. The committee then adjourned.

to the work of the campaign. The committee then adjourned.

The election of Hall is another bitter pill to the Filley crew. Hall has been shoulder to shoulder with R. C. Reynolds, Matt G. Reynolds and the other Silks ever since his advent to the political field. It was for this reason that the Filleyties who controlled the last state League Convention held in Sedalia, in February threw him overboard and elected Filley's man, Isaacs of Kansas City, as his successor. Mr. Hall is one of the political aggregation that received some warm shot from Filley just before the State Convention.

warm shot from Filiey just before the State Convention.
When Mr. Hall was seen to-day he simply said: "I am a Republican, not a actional. If my party wants me to be Secretary I will accept it, but understand I am not seeking and do not intend to seek anything."

FILLEY NOT IN IT.

When the Executive Committee adjourned, one of the members, who, after explaining that the preservation of harmony in the party ranks required the suppression of his name, said: "We learn from the St. Louis papers that the Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth Congressional Districts have elected delegates to the National Convention favorable to Mr. Filley's retention as National Committeeman for Missouri, but I can tell you authoritatively that he will not have enough voices to re-elect himself when the caucus is held at Minneapolis. The Congressional Districts have elected delegates to the National Convention favorable to Mr. Filley's retention as National Committeeman for Missouri. but I can tell you authoritatively that he will not have enough voices to re-elect himself when the caucus is held at Minneapolis. The county districts are for harmony and their delegates to Minneapolis will not support Mr. Filley. The Missouri delegation will have thirty-four votes in the convention and I cannot see where Mr. Filley can get half the delegation or anywhere near it. There have been other names mentioned notably that of Mr. R. C. Kerens who won such a spiendid'victory at Jefferson City, but I don't think it would be bad policy to elect him. Spendad victory at denerson city, but I don't think it would be bad policy to elect him. What we want is to get some Republican out-side of the delegation who has not taken part in any of these factional disturbances. We do not want to antagonize hir. Kerens nor do we want to terens nor do we wan njure Mr. Filley or any of his friends. oure that the wisdom and good sense of the depublicans will prevail in Minneapolis and hat a National Committeeman will be chosen who will says y all the elements of the party. One thing is certain, though, and that is the delegates already chosen are larrely and filey, and this indicates that he will not be his own successor."

Maj. Warner Is Getting Ready. Maj. William Warner, the nominee of the Republican party of Missouri for Governor, arrived in the city this morning and went direct to the Lindeil Hotel when he had an engagement to meet the Excecutive Committee of the State Republican Committee. He was seen by a Post-Dispatch representative and asked when he would open his campaign. "Well. I am not fully decided yet," he said.
"I calculate, however, that we'll open up after the National Convention. That will be in the middle of next month. I admit, however, that it's a little bit awkward to get into a fight before the other fellow gets up to be hit at. The Democrats you know will not name their leader until the middle of July. I intend to make a clean gentlemanty campaign and I will so far as possible stick to State matters. We won't jump in and fight the war over again, as that affair was finally settled a long time ago. I did not want this nomination, but when the convention gave it to me by acclamation, I could not refuse it. Now that I am the cantidate I intend to make the race for all I am worth."

Maj. Warner will leave for Washington to morrow to confer with the administration leaders, particularly those appointed from Missourt. and went direct to the Lindell Hotel

Ed Butler greweloquent this morning when he denied the story that he was trying to die tate his running mate to the National Convention from the new Twefth District. "A lot of stories have been going the rounds," he said, "ever since George Allen and myself engaged in a little bantering in the Southern Hotel. I met the ex-Mayor there about two months ago, and we talked about the delegateships from the Twelfth District. He told me he was in the race and that he intended to charter a car to take his friends up to the Sedalia Convention. In a spirit of jest I said: 'George, wouldn't you put up another $1,000?' From this little remark, which was only a joke, grew the yarn that I had told Mr. Allen that unless he put up another thousand he could not be a delegate to the National Convention. Kindly say for me that have not been making any race at all, in fict I have not spoken to any of the Twelfth District Gelegates. The only land I took in the primary was to carry the First and Nineteenth Wards gainst Bill Swift's ticket, which our folks did without any great effort. While I would lie to be a delegate myself, still I am not breaking my neck to get it. The sory that I am attempting to tell the delegates who to elect to go with me is the sheerest nonserse. There are lots of good men whose names I have heard. Rolla Wells, George Allen, Git Blair, Dr. Frank J. Lutz, Jere Fruin and thers have been named. They are all good Democrats, deserving of party innors. So the delegate at large C. C. Mamitt will I am satisfied be the man, if the con-Hotel. I met the ex-Mayor there about two

Twenty-Fifth Ward Dispute. Late this afternoon Recorder of Voters Carlisle will attempt to straighten out the Voonan-Dalton and the regular Democratic people claim to have carried the primary. The whole trouble grows out of the row at Dalton and the opposition judges Dalton and the opposition judges. The latter wanted to throw out welve votes on the ground of irregularities, but the Dalton judge refused. As a result two returns were made from the same district showing a difference of twelve votes. Under the Noonan Dalton ticket is elected to the Sedalia Convention by 2 majority and Dr. R. C. Atkinson to the Jefferson City Convention by one vote. The combination ticket gets the balance. The vote is so close that the twelve votes will give the anti-Noonan Dalton ticket all the delegates if they are thrown out. Central Committeeman Fox. who supported the Noonan ticket, insists that the returns made by his judge are correct, and the other side claims that their judge is right.

Recorder Carlisle has asked all the judges and clerks to meet him this afternoon, when he hopes to settle the wrangle.

He Says No Advantage Was Taken of Him in Amputating His Leg. The story published in a morning paper ncerning Daniel B. Waterson, whose was amputated at the City Hospital, April 20, by Gen. Nicholas Senn, while the Associa tion of Military Surgeons was in session in this city, was denied by the officials of that hospital to-day. Dr. Heine Marks, superintendent of the institution, made the follow tendent of the institution, made the following statement:

"The story published this morning concerning Waterson is false in every particular, and the allegations made by his mother, Mrs. Ormod are wholly untrue. I do not ask you to take my denial for it; I want you to hear what Waterson has to say of the affair."

The reporter was taken to the bedside of Waterson, and the doctor asked him the following ouestions:

lowing questions:
"You are Dan Waterson, are you not?"
"That is my name."
"Were you drugged or otherwise influenced when I asked you if you would consent to have your leg amputated?"

"You have always been treated well here,

"You have always been treated well here, have you not?"
"I have."
"Here is a reporter, Waterson, and if you want to make a statement for the public you may do so."
Waterson said that he had consulted several eminent physicians before entering the hospital, but they had all told him that it would be best to amputate his leg. His mother, however, seriously objected and made a fuss every time the doctors proposed to perform the operation. He said that he had at last given up all hope and when the doctors told him that one of the best surgeons in the country was at hand to operate on him he readily consented, notwithstanding the opposition of his mother.
"I am my own boss," he said, "and I did not want to suffer any longer."

Ing the opposition of his mother.

'I am my own boss,' he said, "and I did not want to suffer any longer."

A man named Ryan, who occupies the cot next to Waterson, says that the latter was perfectly sensible when he consented to have the operation performed. He also says that Waterson has never complained of his treatment. Dr. Marks says that some time ago Mrs. Ormed came to him and asked him to sign a petition for subscriptions to buy her son a cork leg. He says that he now thinks that she wanted the money to enter suit for damages.

Leased Again to Bohle. Comptroller Stevenson to-day leased to Louis Bohle for a term of ten years the premises adjoining the City Hall, now occupied by the latter as a stable. The former rental was $2,500, but under the provisions of the ordinance a new appraisement of the value of the property was made, Fred Mott acting for the city, and Thos. Scott for Mr. Bohle.

The property was appraised at $50,000, which raised the yearly rental to $3,000. Franklin Avenue Neglected.

A delegation of Franklin avenue property olders, headed by Gen. Farrar, George Diehl and others, called on the Street Commissioner this morning, after a fruitless wait in the Mayor's office. They complained of the neglect of sweeping on Franklin avenue, and said the mud was not removed from their streets twice in a month. Most of the streets included in the sweeping contract are cleaned four times a week, never less than twice. The gentlemen week, never less than twice. The gentlemen stated that they rarely saw the sweeper, and that their street was discriminated against in favor of the resident districts. When Maj. Murphy heard their story he said the matter would be invested and the contractor fined if he neglected his duty. Franklin avenue is one of the heaviest business thoroughfares in the city and yet the merchants have to keep up a continual agitation to receive the same amount of attention as other streets from the city government.

Hard on the Rollins Family.

Judge Morris fined Henry Rollins, a colored man, $50 this morning for hitting Bartholomew Bloomer, a white man, with a base ball bat, and fined Rollins' wife $10 for the part she took in the assault. The Robbins family sne took in the assault. The Robbins family tried to show that Bloomer robbed them of some money, but the evidence was not satisfactory and the Court discharged Bloomer. The row occurred last Sunday at Forest Park, Bloomer was pretty well battered up. The Rollins family will spend most of the summer in the Work-house.

AGAINST O'CONNELL.

Judge Klein's Decision in the School Board Contest Case.

CONNELL'S WRIT OF PROHIBITION DE-NIED BY THE COURT.

The Board May Now Proceed With Its Investigation of the Election and Burke's Claim to the Seat-History of the Proceeding-News of the Civil

Judge Klein handed down his decision today in the School Board case, in which John W. O'Connell sought to prohibit the School day in the School Board case, in which John W. O'Connell sought to prohibit the School Board from investigating the contest of his election as a school director from the Eighth District by Thomas I. Burke. The writ of prohibition is denied.

Judge Klein in passing on the question, sets forth the whole proceedings in the matter, as also his views, in an opinion of twenty-three pages of closely type written matter. The facts of the election, Nov. 3, 1891, notice of contest by Mr. Burke, appointment of a committee by the board Jan. 12, last to investigate the contest, and subsequent proceedings in the matter which were published in the Posr-Disparch as they occurred, are all set forth in the opinion. The court mentions the fact that the matter of the contest had been referred to Attorney C.

B. Stark, Counsellor of the School Board, whed Mr. O'Connell submitted his notice denying the invisidation of the school for the submitted his notice denying the invisidation of the school of the submitted his notice denying the invisidation of the school of the submitted his and the submitted his and the submitted his and the submitted a protion of the submitted his and the submitted facts of the election, Nov. 8, 1891, notice of contest by Mr. Burke, appointment of a committee by the board Jan. 12, last to investigate the contest, and subsequent proceedings in the matter which were published in the Post-Disparch as they occurred, are all set forth in the opinion. The court mentions the fact that the factor of the contest had been referred to Attorney C. B. Stark, Counsellor of the School Board, whed Mr. O'Connell submitted his notice denying the jurisdiction of denying the jurisdiction board to investigate contest and that Mr. Stark had given an opinion to the effect that all the rules of the board which provided for a method of procedure for the trial of election contests are in nflict with sec. 9, art. 8 of the Constitution of the State, and that the board had no legal authority to appoint a committee to hear contests or to take any other action looking to that end, and that the board had no legal right to proceed with the hearing or determination of the contests pending before it. Notwithstanding the opinion, the court states the President of the hoars are produced. Woompittee on Contests board appointed a "Committee on Contests of Elections," and Mr. Stark's opinion was referred by the board to that committee of Elections," and Mr. Stark's opinion was referred by the board to that committee which was proceeding in conformity with the rules of the board concerning contested elections, when the present proceeding asking for a writ of prohibition was instituted. The court then, after giving the positions of the parties to the case, as gleaned from their pleadings, sets forth the rules of the School Board, referring to elections and contested elections, underscoring the words, "and shall decide who has been duly elected," in the rule which reads, "The board shall then judge of the qualifications, election and returns of the candidates for directorship, and shall decide who has been duly elected, reserving the right to declare null and void the election of any Director, when it shall deem the same fliegal."

The court then sets forth the sections of the constitution, bearing on the matter, under which if there were no other considerations, the court holds that the School Board would be barred from proceeding with the contest, as it is provided by the section quoted by Mr. Stark, Sec. 9 of art. 8 of the constitution of the State adopted in 1875, that the trial and determination of contested elections of all public officers, except the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, shall be by the courts of law, or by one or more judges thereof. But Judge Klein states the constitution does not vest the power in the carse of the School Board to determine who is elected in anyone or require the General Assembly to vest it in anyone other than the body that previously possessed the power. By the act of Feb. 13, 1833, the power to judge of the qualifications and elections of its members, is expressly conferred on the School Board, and the provision of Sec. 6 of the Drabelle act declares that the provisions of the act of 183 shall not be construed as affecting the existing right of the board to determine the election and qualification of its members. The provisions of the act of 1833 shall not be construed as affecting the existing right of the board to determine the election and qualification of its members. The court states it does not seem to be contended in this case that art. 8 sec. 9 of the constitution in any manner interferes with these powers of the board, and the plaintiff him self claims his office by virtue of and under the same. It may be regarded, therefore, as conceded and as justly conceded that the right and power of the School Board to conduct the elections of its own members and to judge of and determine the qualifications of its members.

f its members. The court then asks the question, What is an election contest? and answers it by a quotation from the Supreme Court, which states that an election contest "relates only to statutory contests, in which the contestant seeks not only to oust the intruder but to have himself inducted into office." Judge Klein bolds. but to have himself inducted into office." Judge Klein holds, under this definition, that the investigation of the School Board is not, in the nature of "an election contest," but an inquiry by the board as to the qualifications of one of its members which the board the court holds has a right to do under the law. The court refers to certain averments which are made by the plaintiff of proposed acts of the Investigating Committee, but states that a writ of prohibition is not to be issued on a mere surmise or possibility. The evidence, the court states, falls to disclose any act on the part of the defendents that indicate any intention to go beyond the purpose indicated, namely, "to invente the plain whether or not the plain fendents that indicate any intention to go beyond the purpose indicated, namely, "to inquire and ascertain whether or not the plaintiff is a person duly qualified to hold the office of director of the board, and whether or not the proceedings at the election were so irregular as to make the election invalid, and whether or not the plaintiff had in any manner so far misconducted himself with respect to the matter as that he might be expelled as a member af the board."

There is another matter to be considered, the court states, which relates to the regularity of the proceeding of the board in the matter. The court then recites the mode of prodedure in dealing with the matter which the court pronounces as regular in every respect, even to the service on Mr. O'Connell. It will be remembered that Mr. O'Connell. It will be found and a notice was served on a member of the family. Judge Kleip holds that there the proper service.

"It follows," concludes the opinion, "from the foregoing considerations and conclusions that the peremptory writ of prohibition prayed for must be denied at plaintiff's costs and it is so ordered."

METHODIST COUNCIL

To-Day's Session Opened by a Colored Brother.

A MASS OF UNINTELLIGIBLE RESOLU TIONS SWAMP THE SECRETARY.

Bishop Taylor's Report on His African Mission the Order of the Day-The Faribault System of Parochial Schools Disapproved by the Pope-Portugal's Queen Receives the Holy Rose.

OMAHA, Neb., May 7.—Bishop Fowler of San Francisco presided at the Methodist Conference. The devotional exercises of the morning were led by Rev. W. McDonald, a colored brother of Mississippi. Immediately after the reading of the minutes Dr. Fisk preaddress of Dr. Moulton, the English fraternal delegate, delivered the evening be-fore in the presence of the conference. The minutes of the several annual conferences were referred to the Committee on Itinerary, were referred to the Committee on Itinerary, on motion of Dr. Edwards. An invitation was read from the Omaha Y. M. C. A., extending to the delegates an invitation to accept the use of the reading-room of the Y. M. C. A., which was accepted with thanks.

Amos Shinkle was put on the Committee on Revisals. Dr. Ott of the West German conference moved that every resolution and every memorial be printed in the Daily Advocate. Secretary Monroe stated that the memorials and resolutions had been coming to him in such a shape that no living man could tell whether they were resolutions, memorials or what not; some of them were not signed, had not the name of a conference not signed, had not the name of a conference not signed, and not the name of a conference on them. He thought delegates should learn how to write resolutions and memorials in such a manner that they could be read. Dr. Buckley of New York said that his committee had received a document on sacred elequence that had been referred to his committee; he believed it should be referred to the bishop personally. [Laughter.] It was referred to the Committee on Education. Dr. F. M. Bristol of Chicago offered a resolution requesting the standing committee to sit with closed doors excepting to members of the general conference. The resolution was tabled by a vote of 202 to 114 against, and the announcement was greeted by slight ap-of the general conference. The resolution was tabled by a vote of 202 to 114 against, and the announcement was greeted by slight applause.

Dr. Neely of Philadelphia then read the report from the Committee on Rules of Order. Delegates opened their manuals of the previous session and compared the rules read with former rules. The reading had progressed but a short way when Dr. A. B. Leonard moved that the report of the committee be printed in the Daily Advocate; that the delegates could compare the new rules with the old. It was decided to print the rules on Monday.

Dr. Hristol of Ohicago called for the order of the day, which was the report of Bishop Taylor of Africa. The special order of the day was then taken up.

Bishop Taylor of Africa then came forward and was greeted with great applause. He said the evangelization of Africa was a stupendous work. A part of the Continent of Africa was poverty-stricken by nature on account of the unproductiveness of the country in its present state. The natives were unable to make use of even the resources that were within their reach. They needed brain culture and hand culture. Without hand culture they would starve on their barren plains. The best time to begin the education of the head and hand, which must be carried forward simultaneously in Africa, was in youth. It would not do to wait unglingorance and sin. "Day unto day and night unto night," said the speaker, "the work should go on. God's school has no vacation; it is continuous."

The galleries were filled to overflowing during the delivery of Bishop Taylor's address, and the interest was intense. The speaker claimed that even the heathen children could be brought up in the fear and admonition of the Lord, so that they would, when they grew up to maturity, establish homes and inally found a civilized and Christian state.

In closing Eishop Taylor said that the mission of Airlea needed the prayers and the help of the Motbodists of America.

"The work is succeeding, God is leading, and we are prepared to follow," we

"We call her Diana," said Bishop Taylor.
"How old is she?" called another.
"She is about 3 years old," replied the Bishop, "and nine months ago she was a heathen child. She has learned to talk English in that short time, and she has gotten into the General Conference, too." said Bishop Fowler, and the audience English in that short time, and she has gotten into the General Conference, too," said Bishop Fowler, and the audience laughed. The diminutive black youngster looked out in great wonderment at the sea of white faces, while the discussion of the rules of order was continued.

Bishop Taylor in his report recounted the bardships and dangers that beset the missionary work in Africa, and said that the work demanded men and women of heroic faith and courage. Some of the women missionaries, especially the Misses White, he commended heartily for their zeal in facing dangers in the Dark Continent. He spoke of the necessity of purchasing or redeeming the young African girls before they could be gotten away from their parents. The girls are marketable, and the parents will not let the missionaries have them to educate without first receiving the market price for them. He said it was useless to try to Christianize the young women. They must have Christian purposes for life or the work will fall. He told of one instance where a naked heathen African carried a child nearly three hundred miles to keep her out of the hands of the slave merchants. He then gave a list of the membership of the missions and Sunday-schools in Africa. He said there are over 3,000 church ship of the missions and Sunday-schools in Africa. He said there are over 3,000 church members, 38 Sunday schools, over 800 teach

THE HOLY ROSE.

THE QUEEN OF PORTUGAL THIS YEAR RECEIVES THE GIFT.

ROME, May 7.—It is announced that the Holy Rose, which the Pope bestows every year upon some Roman Catholic princess "for trute," fell this year to the Queen of Portugal. The estimated value of the jewel is 50,000 francs. The jeweler who made it is a member of an ancient family of goldsmiths which has worked in the neighborhood of St. Peter's for the past 300 years. His fee was 8,000 francs. The stem of the rose is of solid gold and measures is of the most delicate workmanship, and is of the properiors, stated that he had called him in only a few minutes before to tell him resemblance of dewdrops. The whole work of art lies in a magnificent case of white satin, mounted with silver studs.

Chief Harrigan Satisfied That No Undue Violence Was Used. The row that occurred at the corner of Man chester road and Prospect avenue last Sunvestigation in the First District Police Court. The testimony of James Moonan of No. 3633 Manchester road was taken this morning and the case was then again continued, this time to next Monday, when Henry Keele is ex ected to tell what he knows about it. Moonan, who is a solicitor for a tea company, made a very good witness for Officer John L. Butler, the policeman who arrested John Butler, the policeman who arrested John Bauhr, and who is charged by Bauhr with having clubbed him and knocked some of his teeth down his throat. According to Moonan's statement, Mrs. Banks called at Hamilton & Lardner's saloon on Prospect avenue and Manchester road last Sunday night and got into a row there with her son Mike and called on the officer. She was swearing and making a big racket and the policeman, as also her son, tried to quiet her. Finally the mother and son left the saloon, but the woman kept talking and swearing

the defendant this morning to May 14. She the defendant this morning to May 14. She is being prosecuted for keeping a house on Pine street, near Twelfth street, but the real object of the prosecution is to force her to move from 2222 Chestnut street, where the police claim she recently opened another house of the same kind. Capt. Young heard some time ago that furniture bought by Miss Marshall was being moved into 2223 Chestnut street, and he instructed one of his sergeants to investigate the matter. The woman was questioned by the Sergeant and she denied that she owned the place, and said that she had nothing to do with it. Capt. Young was, however, not satisfied, and he instructed the sergeant to keep a watch on the house. The instructions were obeyed, and about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the woman was seen entering the house, and a few minutes afterwards she was placed under arrest. As the police could not establish to a certainty the character of this house, they decided to send her to court for keeping the Pine street house. They say that she will have to give up her Chestnut street house and they intend to continue prosecuting her until she does.

"CONCORD, AHOY!"

Secretary Tracy Requested to Order the Cruiser to St. Louis.

THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE WIRES THE NAVY DEPARTMENT TO-DAY.

secretary Noble Also Asked to Use His Influence to Secure the Visit-The River Rises to the Occasion, With High Water Guaranteed for Fifteen Days-Daylight Travel Suggested.

The Merchants' Exchange to-day took formal official action to secure the consent of the Government for the United States cruiser Concord to visit St. Louis, following the celebration of the Bridge opening at Memphis, on which occasion the Concord will be present in the harbor of that city. At noon to-day, Capt. I. M. Mason of the Anchor Line, President of the Merchants' Exchange, arrived on the floor of the Exchange, at once held a conference with Messrs, E. O. Stanard, Wm. T. Anderson, Web M. Samuel and Wallace Delafield, the object of the conference being expressed by Capt. Mason as follows:

re is 25 feet of water registered on the gauge of the river at St. Louis this morning. There will be 28 feet by Tuesday next, and there will be good water for fifteen days. It is safe for the Concord to come to St. Louis now and we ought to get her. It will be probably the best opportunity this city will ever have to secure a visit from a United states crufser, and the opportunity should not be lost."

THE TELEGRAM.

Acting on this enthusiaslic report from the veteran river man, at 1 o'clock this after. noon the following telegrams were sent from the Merchants' Exchange: Hon. B. F. Tracy, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.

ington, D. C.

In behalf of the Merchants' Exchange I respectfully requesty ou to order the cruiser "Concord" to come to St. Louis after visiting Memphis. There is now twenty-five feet of water on the gauge here, and the rise will continue till Tuesday next, when there will be 28 feet on the gauge. The Upper Mississippl. Missourl and Illinois are high, which will insure a stage of water of 20 foot out to Cairo for the next fifteen days. The people of St. Louis and vicinity will be gratified to see the Concord in our harbor.

President Merchants' Exchange.

St. Louis, May 6, 1892.

Accompanying the above formal request was the following: ST. LOUIS, May 6, 1892.

John W. Noble, Secretary of the Interior, shington, D. C. Washington, D. C.

Have wired Secretary Tracy requesting him to orler "Concord" to come to St. Louis from Memphis.

makes it safe for her to come here. Please conferwith Secretary Tracy and urge his compliance with
E. O. STANARD.

WM. T. ANDERSON,
WALLACE DELAFIELD,
WEB M. SAMUEL,
ISAAC M. MASON,
President Merchants' Exchange.

Capt. Mason's VIEW.
Capt. Mason was seen following the sending of the above telegram and said:
"Until to-day I have been doubtful of the wisdom of having the Concord visit St. Louis, wisdom of having the Concord visit St. Louis, wing to the danger of being caught by low water; but for the reasons explained in the telegram sent to-day I now feel sure that it is perfectly safe for the visit to be made. I speak from an experience of forty-five years' knowledge of the Mississippi River. The Concord could leave Memphis on the 18th, and, making daylight tring only forty-five years' knowledge of the Mississippi River. The Concord could leave Memphis on the 13th, and, making daylight trips only, reach St. Louis on the 17th. This would not bring her here in time for the A. O. U. W. celebration, nor can she be brought safely to St. Louis by that time, as it would be unwise for any part of the trip to be made at night. I am heartily in favor of doing all possible to get the Concord to St. Louis under these circumstances, so that our people may get an idea of the new vessels constituting the United States Navy. I hope Secretary Tracy will accept our assurances of the perfect safety of the trip, and order the Concord to St. Louis."

The other gentlemen signing the telegram to Secretary Noble were equally enthusiastic with Capt. Mason, and the Merchants' Exchange as a body is heartily in favor of the movement. It is believed that Secretary Tracy will consent to the trip and issue the necessary order from the Navy Department. If so a special meeting will be called to arrange for the reception of the white squadron cruiser.

ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Former Decision at Evanston Reversed-Albert S. Mason Wins.

EVANSTON, Ill., May 7 .- The decision at last night's oratorical contest in Evanston has been reversed, and Albert S. Mason of the Northwestern University has been awarded first prize, $700, instead of J. F. A. Pyre of the university of Wisconsin. Mr. Pyre receives second prize instead of Jesse E. Roberts of second prize instead of Jesse E. Roberts of the University of Michigan. This change was announced in the convention of the Northern Oratorical League delegates held this morning at 10 o'clock in the Avenue House. The Executive Committee of the League reported that the judges, Solomon Thatcher, Prof. W. E. Dogart and Dr. J. Sturtevant, requested this morning to look over their markings and upon doing so Dr. Sturtevant ascertained that the figure 6 in the mark 65 for Mr. Pyre had been mistaken for an 8, which so changed the total result that Mr. Pyre was thrown out of first prize, and Mr. Mason put in. This announcement was received with considerable consternation and surprise by the delegates. The Wisconsin delegation claimed that the decision last night was official and questioned the power of the Executive Committee or the convention to accept any other decision. After a warm discussion the convention finally decided to accept the final report of the Judges and the Executive Committee, which gives first place to Northwestern and second to Wisconsin. Mr. Mason, the first prize man, spoke on the battle of Gettysburg, which, though not ranking as high as Mr. Pyre's oration in thought and composition, excelled in delivery.

No Liquors at the Fair. CHICAGO, Ill., May 7 .- If the opinion of two lawyers is sustained by the courts the Pro-hibitionists need circulate no more petitions to have the sale of intoxicating liquors at the World's Fair prevented. W. G. Carlisle, attorney of the World's Fair Board of Directors, and John P. Wilson, after carefully going over the Hyde Park code have reached the conclusion that under the present enactments no intoxicants can be sold on the Midway Pleasance, invalidating two contracts for valuable concessions which have been granted space on the pleasance. One of these concessions was for a German village, a chief feature of which was to be the sale of German wines.

"At the annual meeting of the Twenty-fifth National Encampment at Detroit in August last a proposition was made authorizing the commander-in-Chief to create a provisional encampment on the same territory where department had already existed if in his judgment it could be done without detriment to the objects of the or der. This proposition was rejected and der. This proposition was rejected and the convention decided that only one department should exist in the same territory, where all comrades, white and black, should be equally entitled to membership and representation. This subject had been a source of ahmoyance to my predecessors, but after the action of the Detroit convention no shadow of uncertainty any longer remained. "The duties of the commander-in-chief is to see that the rules of the order are obeyed. A meeting of the department encampment of Louisiana was recently held and the representatives from the colored posts were denied admission. This was in direct violation of the voice of the National Encampment, and it became my painful duty to suspend the commander of that department. I have no personal feeling whatever in the matter and regret the necessity of being compelled to take this action."

Some twenty prisoners, indicted by the present Grand-jury, were arraigned in the except Otto L. Paulet and Ed McHugh. When asked whether he was guilty or not when asked whether he was gulity or not guilty of an attempt to commit a rape on Goldie Chapman, Paulet answered: "Gullty of two years in the Penitentiary." The Judge sent him back to the cage and inquired into the crime committed by Paulet, and, hearing that his victim was a little girl, he called him back and sentenced him to five years in the penitentiary—the maximum punishment provided by the law for attempted rape. attempted rape.

Ed McHugh pleaded gullty to the charge of stealing a suit of clothes, a sliver watch and two bottles of whisky from Henry F. Winkelhake of 1900 North Broadwey. The Judge withheld sentence, desiring to first learn the particulars of the larceny.

Bicycle Rider Arrested.

New York, May 7 .- Horace Snodderly, one of the best known bicycle riders in the country, was arrested in Brooklyn this morning on a charge of grand larceny. The complainant is Joseph Haynes, his uncle, of Knoxville, Tenn., who charges Snodderly with appropriating $725 to his own use. Snodderly became famous some time ago by riding a one-wheeled cycle down the big steps in front of the capital at Washington. He will be taken to Knoxville.

Supposed to Be a Fraud. The police report that a man claiming to represent a trade journal has been soliciting advertisements for the paper and collecting money on them. One of his victims was Frank Campbell of 110 North Ewing avenue. He told Mr. Campbell that his name was Anderson and that the advertisement given him would appear in the next day issue last week. There is no such paper as the one Anderson was soliciting for and he is supposed to be a fraud.

Hit With a Brick.

Henry Pope, who lives at 306 South Levee, was sent to the City Hospital this morning with a couple of gashes on the left side of his head. He said an unknown man had hit him with a brick while he was lying down in an old warehouse on Main and Spruce streets. Is Something the Matter With Our Poetry?

From the Philadelphia Times.

During the past six weeks I have had the curiosity to make a canvass to ascertain just to what extent poetry is read by men. I selected 100 men of all professions; men absorbed in the more practical lines of commercial traffic and men interested in the finer professions. I succeeded in securing the opinions of eighty, and out of the entire number I found just two who either had a sincere liking for poetry or followed the current magazine verse. Only six of the eighty had ever read a collected volume of poetry. Without exception I found that when reading a periodical these men "skipped the poetry." Now, the significance of the result of this canvass lies in the fact that the men I selected were not what is commonly classed as "ordinary men;" they were, as a rule, men of mind, of excellent judgment, many of them possessed of leisure, and men who are known as wide readers and as being fond of good literature. Yet they shunned poetry.

Sam Jones' Son Bob.

From the New York Tribune. From the New York Tribune.

"Bob" Jones, the 7-year-old son of his father, was among the score of sinners who went up to the mourners' bench to be prayed for. The good brother who was "leadin' the meetin'" exhorted long and solemnly.

"My young brother in the Lord," he said in conclusion, "do you feel that the spirit of our Father has descended upon you and washed you of all your sins, washed you whiter than the snow?"

The church held its breath for Bob's answer, and almost rose from its foundation when the bad boy of the town lifted up his head and said.

"You be the ""

One of Sam Jones' Converts. From the New York Tribune.

From the New York Tribune.

One of Bob's playmates, a bright boy of 6 years, heard the revivalist preach from the text "Pray, brother, pray without ceasing," and upon reaching home immediately feil on his knees beside his mother's bed. Five minutes later he repeated the performance. In ten minutes he was kneeling for the third time, which attracted his mother's attention, "Why, Malcolm, what in the world do you mean?" she inquired of the young hopeful.

"Mamma," he replied, solemn as a judge, "Mr. Jones told me to pray without ceasing. I've done prayed three times and I'm going to pray again in a minute."

Suiting the Market.

From Leisure Hour.

Some English merchants observing that the Chinese and Japanese used thin flat iron boilers, which lasted a short time, ordered a consignment of thick English boilers, for cooking rice. Being much stronger and cheaper they were bought up, but a second cargo had no sale, it being found that the cost of repairing the native cooking implements. English needles sent to China in the usual black paper are not bought, black being an unlucky color. This is as bad as sending cotton goods to Morocco with texts from the Koran, which, instead of attracting buyers, are tabooed by the government there. From Leisure Hour.

Women have been ridiculed by men on ac count of the absurd little bonnets they wear and the gentle creatures have patiently endured the criticism because they knew the bonnets were becoming. But now it appears that the wealth of lovely hair which the crownless bonnet reveals is really the result in many cases of the very lightness and inefficiency of protection the tiny covering provides. Air and sunshine are really the best promoters of growth and beauty of coloring in the hair and if men would wear a crownless or perforated hat instead of shutting the hair up in an unventilated tunnel every time they go into the air, there would be fewer bald pates in the front rows. Revenge is sweet. Artists tell us that woman's hair is growing more beautiful in texture and color, while every one knows a man past 40 without a bald spot is rare. om the New York Sun.

"My Wife and Me."

From the Pittsburg Builetin.

A circular receiv ed from a New Hampshire summer resort hotel, gives the assurance that there is at least one man who glories in being the weaker vessel—or else he is gloriously henpecked. The circular sets forth that the notel is "conducted by My Wife and me." The big "hi" and "W," as compared to the small "m" in "me," are simply pathetic in their significance, blinding the reader to the liberty taken with good grammar. There are not many men who know how to "run" even a country hotel, and instances are not wanting wherein it was evident that the hotelkeeper's wife was the real head and mainspring of the business. But the refreshing candor shown by Mr. Bates and his humble little "m" is unique. Or it may be that Mr. Bates is simply a humorist, and a shrewd one at that, alming to attract summer boarders whose curlosity to see whether the "Wife" or "me" conducts the hotel in New Hampshire will draw them

Sam Jones' Brother Jos.

From the New York Tribune.

''Joe'' Jones, one of Sam's numerous brothers, has enlisted in the ministry. His first sermon was preached in a country church at Pine Log before a large congregation of farmers, backwoodsmen and crackers. Sam's methods were followed with considerable success, but when Joe branched off on his own hook he struck a snag. He caused his hearers to wince when, slapping the kible nearly off the pulpit, he exclaimed:

''A man what will cuss a oath 'll steal!'
There was a lively shifting among the pews and much cautious looking around and head shaking. Joe saw and determined to push his point.

'Brethern and sisters,' he repeated, 'I want to say to you that a man what 'll cuss why Women Do Not Get Bald. church and, fastening his glittering gray eye on Joe, drawled through his nose:

"All I got ter say is it's er gol dern lie."

Joe was so discouraged that he rested on his ones two weeks before making any more bold assertions.

LOST BABES.

What New York Parents and Policemer Do When the Little Ones Wander.

From the New York Tribune. The question "What can a mother do when she loses her baby in the street?" is not to be lightly answered. It is a serious matter. Many mothers would go off into hysterics and forget to do anything else. Others would begin a wild search which might lead in any but the right direction. Still others would do all sorts of incomprehensible things. Some would even fly home to tell their husbands or telegraph for them if they were at business: "Come home at once; baby lost!" Then what a flutter of excitement there would be in the neighborhood! The husbands would arrive trembling and out of breath, the wives would go to their arms, weep upon their necks and tell the little story, and then, after a kiss or two and a caress, the husbands would dash off like madmen to do some useless and foolish thing, mystifying to themselves and everybody else. And by and by, after hours of agony and fear, the baby would be found trotting along in an out-of-the-way street perfectly nappy and blissfully unconscious of being lost.

Does any body in town know exact ly what to do in the case of a lost baby? Last Sunday a little girl 2 years and 6 months old was lost in Central Park near Eighth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, and after a four-hours' search, in which a large part of the Twenty-second Precinct Joined, where do you suppose she was found? Why, strolling contentedly down Tenth avenue, near Forty-sixth street! She must have walked nearly a mile. The police refused to being look for her. Officers on their beats said it was not their business to search for lost children. The captain of the precinct would not lend a hand. "If she comes here to the station I'll send for you." The question "What can a mother do when she loses her baby in the street?" is not to be

Treachery of Kings.

From the Chicage Herald.

Noman-al-Acuar, an Arabian king whe reigned long, long ago at Hirah, commanded the Architect Sennemar to build him a won drous palace. This the architect did, any when it was done a single stone fastened the whole structure and the colors of the wall changed frequently during the day. The king was greatly pleased and showered at kinds of rich gifts upon the builder with the lavishness of oriental kings. But monarch were treacherous in those old days, and it occurred to the King that Sennemar might build a palace equal in beauty, or even superior, for some rival ruler. The more he thought over it the more jealous he became, until one day he ordered the architect to be thrown from the top of the palace, to make certain that no duplicate palace would be made. After this the King was satisfied that his palace was the only one and the Arabiana regarded it as one of the wonders of the world.

Hemenbaum Allowed $25 for Services in After meditating fully eight hours over the legal novelty, known in judicial circles as the Hemenbaum vs. Goldenwasser case. Justice James Byron rendered a decision yesterday afternoon, judgment being entered in favor of the plaintiff in the sum in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $25 and costs. At the same time the case of Hemenbaum vs. Soffler was called and tried. This case was taken under advisement, although the same line of testimony was introduced in the Goldwasser case. These peculiar cases have probably caused more comment than any case that has come up before a justice in many years and is the first instance on record where a man sued for and obtained judgment for succeeding in bringing about a matrimonial combination.

Best Physicians Said No Cure While Teething. He Was Cured Promptly by Cuticura.

Something over two years ago our boy, then less than 1 year old, was troubled with an eruption on his head, pronounced by our best physicians to be a case of "milk crust or infantile eczema." They also said it would be impossible to cure it until after he had finished teething. This malady kept spreading until his face was a raw sore, and every few days he would draw his finger nails down on both cheeks, removing the scabs, and the blood running down on his chin made him present a ghastly sight. We commenced using the CUTICUEA REMEDIES, and in two weeks we noticed a wonderful improvement, and in two months his face was fresh and fair, and has been perfectly well ever since. PRESIDENT PEIXOTO HOOTED IN THE STREETS OF RIG.

Gen. Deodoro's Followers Make a Turbi lent Demonstration in His Behalf-Troops Disaffected and Ready to Re volt-Vigorous Action by the Government-Rebel Success in Venezuela.

RIO JANEIRO, May 7 .- Day before yesterday there was a demonstration in honor of Gen. Floriana Pelxoto, and yesterday friends of Gen. Deodoro, who had just returned from Petropolis, where he had gone to convalesce. resolved to have a demonstration in celebra tion of his supposed recovery. Accordingly at 6 p. m. they began to assemble, and a little after 7 they set out for the Sua da Sena dor Verguero, where Gen. Deodoro resides, a great number of persons taking part in the nation, however, they found the General too ill to receive them, but several speeches said to have been very violent, were made to them from windows of the house. Among the speakers were the Bahia Congressman, Dr. Sebastian, and the editor of the opposition journal, the Journal Deabate, Pardal Mallet. It is reported that the speakers even told the crowd that Peixoto was not the President; that the real President was Deodoro, and urged them to go to the Itimarita Palace and "expel the usurper." On their return the crowd stopped at police headquarters, where they cheered beodore and groaned for Pelxoto. They then went to the barracks of the Seventh battalion of infantry, which, it is said, will join them. It appears that their cheers were answered, but that all the soldlers remained it their barracks. They then went to the Combate newspaper office, where the greater portion of the crowd dispersed. The rest went to Campo da Acclamaraco and were met by a battalion of soldiers, who stopped them and took Congressman Bar-rlo, from Rio Grande do Sul, putting him un-der arrest. It is said that the officers of the troops were about to him an injury when Gen. Flori-ano Pelxoto to intercede on his behalf, at the same time upbraiding him for his conduct. He was sent on board a vessel of war with Dr. Seabra, who had also been arrested. Another Congressman, Dr. Fonseco Hermes, Deodoro's nephew, was likewise placed under arrest, and many other arrests were made, including that of Pardal Mallet, editor

The Government has doubtless grown very tired of the constant threats of an impending revolution. It is feared, however, that al-though it may gain a little respite, matters will not long remain quiet. The country is in a morbid state, and its disease, although its violence may be mitigated by proper treatment, must run through all its stages. As far as Floriano is personally concerned, it is thought that whatever may be the ojections to a presidential election, he would do well to waive them. It does not seem probable that he will be allowed to serve during the whole of Deodoro's unserve during the whole of bedoro's unfinished term and the election of a new President would enable him to quit office with dignity. A presidential election might cause, it is true, much agitation, but it would hardly make matters worse than at up the national hymn. And now we have three bands playing for dear life at Itimarita palace.

Yesterday the steamer Pernambuco left this port carrying twenty-five persons accused of sedition, who were banished by the Government to San Joaquin and Tabinita, in the distant State of Amazonas. Among the eight prisoners sent to San Joaquin are Gen. Clarindo De Queiroz, ex-Govenor of Ceara; Cols. Menna, Barreto and Greglo Thaumatingo, ex-President of Amazonas; Juca Reis, a notorious young man about town, who has spent sixteen years in sowing his wild oats, and Bandeiro Jumor, editor of the Nordades. Menna is, as before said, Congressman for Rlo Grande do Sul. Among the ten prisoners sent to Cucuhy are Capt. Jose Concalves Lefte, formerly Aide-de-Camp to Gen. Deodoro; Count de Leopoidina; Henry Lowndes, whose brother and son is now in New York; Jos. Caprincino, who is editor of the Ciudade do Rio. Besides Seabra there are two Congressmen in this number, Gen. Alemida Barreto, who is a Senator, and Col. Orique, who is a deputy. Several attempts were made to obtain the release of Count Leopoidina.

Affiend of his endeavored for this purpose to bribe an influential personage and the Count's venerable grand-father, who is ally years, and is one of the oldest and most respected English merchants here, went to Gen. Peixoto and vainly tried to intercede for his grandson. Maj. Sebastian Bandeira is also to go to Cucuhy, but the Government not knowing that it would need him for this purpose, had sent him about a week ago for disciplinary reasons to Rio Grande do Sul. Orders for his arrest and return have been issued.

The action of the Government seems to be approved by the public in general, especially Issued.

The action of the Government seems to be approved by the public in general, especially by the commercial class which vainly hopes that the measures adopted will put an end to agitation. The adversaries of the Government of course protest but, as the blow which they received has disheartened and intimidated them, their protest is feeble. Sincere doctrinaries object to measures so arbitrary and so inconsistent with the principles of free government, but persons who claim to be more practical evidently think that in abnormal times like these one must not expect a very nice observance of legal forms, if the country has to be ruled either by partisans of Floriano or by those of Deodoro, why then the rule of the former is certainly preferable. By the way, the latter has grown much worse. Day before yesterday he received extreme unction.

The official papers say that the imprisonment of newspaper men is consistent with the Government's promise to respect the press, since these people have been thus treated not on account of what they have written but for having engaged in overt acts of conspiracy and sedition. The action of the Government seems to be

VENEZUELA REBELLION.

CALABOSO CAPTURED BY THE INSURGENTS-VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN.

BARCELONA, Venezuela, May 7 .- Information which comes by way of Caracas, instead of the Insurgent camp near San Sabastian, is to the effect that Calaboso has been captured. There is no doubt that the Commander in-Chief of the Government is a prisoner in the hands of the Insurgents. He has held himself well at Calaboso, but as was predicted nearly two weeks ago, the end had to come as it did. Calaboso and its commandant were not taken two weeks ago, the end had to come as it did. Calaboso and its commandant were not taken without a show of resistance, but constant desertions and the want of supplies had so weakened the Government troops that to hold out against the resolute forces which opposed them was no longer possible.

Rumors of the disaster to the flower of Palaclo's army have been coming in for several days, but they were discredited; meager details mention a fight in which the Nationals were driven into the city with the insurgents following and taking possession.

It will be several hours before I can get positive information and will take all day riding to send it to where it can be placed upon a wire. Look out for the fall of Valacia very soon. Calaboso is several days removed from the nearest depot of information. The secret of Crespo's hesitancy is out. He has been awaiting arms. From Lavella has come a message to the chieftains that Coro was afiame with revolution and that the Falconites were armed. This indicates that the vessel of which I cabled Saturday as having landed her cargo on the coast somewhere in the vicinity of Publa Sumara carried the material needed by the rebeis in Coro.

Coro is in the northeasteen district of Falcon and was formerly the State of Coro. The departure of Aranjo from Carlbobo Into Los Andes is now clear. He has probably crossed over into Coro to help organize the rebellion there.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION. CARACAS, Venezuela, April 29.—This city has had another dynamite scare. As on the first occasion no one has been killed or hurt, but it has created a panic among the inhabitants, especially those who are upholding Palacio, and is likely to result seriously in the case of

and is likely to result seriously in the case of many.

The explosion took place yesterday. The bomb was deposited in a place which leaves in doubt the person against whom it was directed. In its near vicinity are the houses of two ministers of the President's Cabinet—Senor Martos of the Treasury and Senor Sarria of War.

The impression prevails that Senor Sarria is the man against whom the dynamitard was working. In the performance of his duties as Minister of War he has doubtless incurred the enunity of the relative of some man who has either been conscripted into the Government service or has been sent into the interior to fight the rebels, or it may be that he is held responsible for the death of some soldier who had fallen in battle.

The second explosion makes it apparent that the city is confronted with a new danger and whole families are being removed to other places.

PREDICIS PALACIO'S OVERTHEOW.

PREDICTS PALACIO'S OVERTHROW. New York, May 7.—Among the passengers on the steamship Venezuela, which arrived yesterday from Laguayra, was Jesus Maria Paul, nephew of ex-President Bojas Paul of Venezuela. The latter is now in Trinidad massing troops to send to Crespo to assist in the overthrow of Palacio. The younger Paul, up to a few days of the sailing of the Venezuela from Laguayra, was a prisoner in Larotunda, Caracas, where he had been placed by order of Palacio four months ago. On April 80 he was released, given a passport and ordered to get out of the country at once. Influential friends had secured his release. His wife and 9-year-old daughter accompanied him. Mr. Paul said last night that Palacio would be overthrown within two months. yesterday from Laguayra, was Jesus Maris

Free from all impurity. Royal Baking Powder

Is the only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be free from all impurities and absolutely pure. This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove all the tartrate of lime. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal."

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. Government, who made the analyses for the New York State Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, says of the purity and wholesomeness of the "Royal":

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substance.

"BIG-HEAD WILLIE,"

The Well-Known Colored Bootblack Re ceives a Severe Injury. Wm. Monroe, better known as "Big-Head Willie," a familiar character on the streets of St. Louis, lies in the City Hospital suffer-ing from the effects of Officer John Madden's club. About 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon officer Madden spied a little crowd of darkie Officer Madden spied a little crowd of darkies playing craps in front of No. 18 South sixth street. The crowd also spied the officer and beat a hasty retreat. Monroe alone remained where he had been watching the game. Witnesses say that while he was standing laughing at his companions, the officer ran up, and, grasping him by the shoulder, struck him a vicious blow on the back of his head. Monroe, the witnesses allege, fell like a log to the ground, with blood oozing from his mouth and ears. He was removed in a patrol wagon to the Dispensary and thence to the City Hospital.

Monroe was seen at the hospital this morning. He has an ugly looking scalp wound on the back of his head, but the doctors say that he is not dangerously hurt. The negro could remember very little of the affair, but managed to make the following statement: "I was watching the game when one of the boys began to tease me and we had a fight. When the boys saw the policeman they all ran off, and while I was standing watching them somebody hit me on the head. The boy does not know who hit him and says that he gave the policeman no cause to use violence. Officer Madden denies that he struck Monroe,

Harvard and Princeton to Meet on the Ball Field.

COACH CARUTHERS DISCUSSES THE NEW ball JERSEY COLLEGE TEAM.

Harvard Will Have to Put Up a Great Game to Win-St. Louis Administers an Awful Drubbing to Brooklyn-Racing at the Fair Grounds-Sporting News of All Kinds.

The base ball contest between the Princeto and Harvard University aggregations which is scheduled to take place to-day is exciting considerable interest at present in college circles throughout America. This is the firs time since 1889 that Harvard and Princeton have met on the diamond. The close of that year witnessed the disbanding of the Tri-Collegiate Association, and the result was have battled for the championship. In 1890 a Yale was successful in the opening game second after a desperate struggle by a score of 1 to 0. The third, and what was to be the deciding one, occurred in New York. After an exciting contest, in which both clubs secured eight runs, the game was called on account of darkness. Another game was then arranged and Yale succeeded in winning it by a scor of 6 to 5. Stagg, who was considered to have of 6 to 5. Stagg, who was considered to have been one of the greatest amateur pitchers this country ever produced, officiated in that capacity for Yale in all of the above contests. Lawrence Young, who will, unless something unforseen happens, twirl for Princeton to-day, handled the sphere for the boys in Orange two years ago. Last season he orange two years ago. Last season he pitched Princeton into the championship. Yale was, however, minus the services of the great Stagg. Bowers, who replaced him, was unable to make much of a success against Princeton's heavy hitters, and the result was Yale was easily defeated. This season both clubs have been carefully selected and from present appearance it looks as if to-day's contest will indeed be a battle royal. Lawrence Young will also captain the Princeton team and it is a doubtful question that the defeated for the principle of the p what kind of a showing Harvard will make, providing, of course. Young pitches in his regular form. Bob (aruthers, the pitcher and all around player of the Browns, who coached the Princeton Club last March, discussed the matter at length with a representative of the Post-Disparch after yesterday's game.
"Of course," said Bob, "I never saw the Harvard team play, but in Young Frinceton possesses a great pitcher and taken as a whole the club is an elegant fielding organization. I am, however, inclined to think that they are weak with the stick, and of course the best fielding nine that has ever been constructed, backed up with an Al pitcher, can not be successful unless they manage to secure runs, and the only sure way of doing that is with the stick. If the Princeton club could only hit harder, I would be confident of their ability to defeat any amateur club in America, but of course without some good stickers they are going to be severely handlessed. capped. It must be remembered, however, that it has been a good while since I left them, and during that time they have been, at least so I have heard, putting in their time at active outdoor work, assisted by Sharrott, Mickey Welch and several other members of the New York Clanks who were mbers of the New York Glants who were left at home. The experience they, will acquire while working under the guidance of such veterans will be incalculable and I should not be surprised if they managed to hold their own with the stick. This is all that is necessary in my opinion to make them in-vincible, as I am confident that Young will manage to keep the heavy hitters of Harvard wincible, as I am confident that Young will manage to keep the heavy hitters of Harvard in tow."

Bob says that the Princeton boys are a great set. "We had any number of candidates for positions on the team, and the entire outfit, consisting of over forty, were set to work at indoor practice. Capt. Young then started in at the 'weeding out process.' When I left it was generally understood that the club would be made up of Young pitcher, Brown catcher, Otto first base, King second base, Ramsdell third base, Brooks short stop, McKenzle left field and Wright centerfield. It was not decided definitely who would play right, but it looked to me as if Woodcock would be the man. That will be the club which will face Harvard to day, provided, of course, that they are all in condition. The training establishment where I handled the team," said Bob, "is a wonderful place. It consists of a wire cage 180 feet long and 80 feet wide; the roof is made of glass, protected by a netting, which prevents the ball from breaking the glass. The cage is also protected by a netting to prevent the sphere from being ripped when knocked against it. In this cage Capt. Young and myself would get the boys to work knocked against it. In this cage Capt. Young and myself would get the boys to work knocked against it. In this cage Capt. Young and myself would get the boys to work knocking grounders to the infielders and flies to candidates for the outfield. No gymnasium work was necessary, but of course the boys were at liberty to indulge in it if they desired. The interest the rest of the university takes in the organization of the ball team would surprise a great many," said Bob. "It is wonderful how it arouses them all, and the enthuslasm increases as the time for the big contests between the crack teams approaches."

The Browns Defeat The Brooklyns Easily.

THE BROWNS DEFEAT THE BROOKLYNS EASILY The Browns did not indulge in sacrifice hitting in yesterday's contest. None was necessary. They opened out on Johnny Ward's new phenomenon, Pitcher Stein, at the start and pounded him out in every dithe start and pounded him out in every direction. Such hard, consistent hitting has not been witnessed at the park for many a day, and it will be a long time before it ever occurs again. The vistors, expecting to encounter a demoralized club, were surprised to say the least. In fact several of them, especially Joyce and Foutz, were so amazed that they let several easy ones get away from them. The result of the whole was the Browns managed to tally fourteen runs. Breitenstein, who pitched for the Browns, twirled a superb game. Not a hit was made by Brooklyn's sluggers until the ninth inning. Unfortunately for Mr. Breitenstein he eased up in this inning, and with two men out, started to monkey with big Dan Brouthers; the lattor, however, does not allow anyone to take libertles with him, and bracing himself up, he lit on to one of Breit's curves and ere Brodie captured it, Dan was anchored safely on first. A passed ball permitted him to reach third. Foutz was then given his base on balls: he stole second a moment later, and both forced, saving Ward the mortification of a shut out, on Con Dailey's safe hit to left. The summary follows: St. Louis, 18; Brooklyn, 2. Errors—St. Louis, 6; Brooklyn, 4. Batterles—St. Louis, 9; Brooklyn, 4. Batterles—St. Louis, Breitenstein and Bird; Brooklyn, 2. Errors—St. Louis, 9; Brooklyn, 4. Batterles—St. Louis, 8; Brooklyn, 5, En and Con Dailey. Umpire, Lynch, Attendance, 2,500. rection. Such hard, consistent hitting

CARUTHERS' SUCCESS AS AN OUTFIELDER. Bob Caruthers has been doing wonderful work since he replaced Brodie in right field, both with the stick and in the field. His batting has been hard and consistent, and should he continue to line them out as regushould he continue to line them out as regular as he has done the past two weeks, Brouthers, Hamilton, Brown and the rest of the big sluggers will have to hustle to keep ahead of him. His fielding has also been of the "giftedged" order. In yesterday's contest he captured a line drive from Brouthers' bat after a desperate run, which reminded one of Curt Welch. Bob's success is causing his admirers, who are unlimited in this city, an immense amount of satisfaction. "I would prefer to play exclusively n the outneld," said Bob yesterday, "and I guess if I can only continue to line them out as regularly as I have done lately, Mr. Yon der Ahe will permit me to quit pitching. I am, however, in good condition, and can if necessary go in to-morrow and. I think, pitch as well as ever. Pitching, however, 's aid he, 'is hard work, and there is nothing attached to it that one can admire after one has been at it for several years. Of course there is more money in it, and that is the rule ball players act under nowadays."

BASE BALL ON SUNDAY.

THEY PLAY TO-DAY. Brooklyn Club. Charley Byrne, however, accompanies the team in the capacity of financial manager. When questioned yester day as to whether Brooklyn would ever play day as to whether Brooklyn would ever play Sunday games, Mr. Byrne said: "No, sir, we discussed the matter before the season opened and decided not to do so; nothing has occurred since to change the conclusion we reached then, and as far as Brooklyn is concerned. You can just say that the club will never consent to play bail on the Sabbath. Whether the other clubs care to do so is their own business, but Brooklyn will never indulge in it, you can rely looked upon as the real manager of the New York club, said recently when questioned on the matter: "I personally have no objections to playing on sunday, and if the New York management decide to try the plan I will most assuredly go in and play. The players have no objections to playing on the Sabbath but the fact must be taken into consideration that the people who patronize the sport in New York and most of the Eastern cities are dead set against the scheme and of course it wisnes. This is what leads me to believe that the policy will never become a success in the East. I may be mistaken but I don't think so at present. Sunday games, Mr. Byrne said: "No, sir, we YESTERDAY'S GAMES. game at Cincinnati yesterday. Fourteer innings were played, during which neither club scored. Darkness then put a stop to the encounter. Col. Pat Tebeau's Cleveland Spiders will play the St. Louis Browns at Sportsman's Park to-morrow. President Von der Ahe has placed a special train at their disposal and they will arrive here at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning. Pat Tebeau has a great club and as they have not been enabled to play a championship game in St. Louis this season, to-morrow's game will no doubt draw out an old time Sunday crowd. Young or Davies and Zimmer and young Breitenstein and Bird will be the batteries. Play will be called at 3:30 p. m.

FOOLISH SACRIFICING. What was said in these columns yesterday concerning sacrifice hitting and the way in which it is sometimes overdone was beautifully illustrated in the second inning of yes-Stricker on first and no one out Bird was Stricker on first and no one out Bird was ordered by his captain to sacrifice. Bird is not a successful banter, but tried to carry out stricker's orders. The infielders were playing close up and Pitcher Stein captured Bird's bunt and Caruthers was thrown out at the plate trying to score. The hit put a man on first and sent another to second, but it is difficult to see wherein a man on first and another on second and one man out is preferable to a man on first and a man on third and no man out. The attempt to sacrifice under the circumstances was most absurd and foolish; fortunately however, the players then had to hit at the ball and as a result scored six runs before the inning was finished.

BASE BALL GOSSIP.

BASE BALL GOSSIP. Dr. Carson, who is attending Buckley, says he will be able to catch again about the middle of next week. The Philadelphias will play the Browns next Monday and Tuesday. The Phillies are play-ing steadily and effectively.

Ing steadily and effectively.

Young Breitenstein has good command of the b.ll, is cool in his delivery, and is learning the weakness of the heavy hitters pretly rapidly. He will have a good chance to test his abilities to-morrow against Cleveland. The Browns have a splendid record as a fielding team. They are beginning to get their eye on the bali and will prove trouble-some customers for any of their opponents.

Jimmy Wolfe, the old Louisville outfielder, has signed with the Syracuse club. Pat Tebeau and his Cleveland Spiders will be here to morrow. The Spiders are con-sidered one of the finest fielding teams on the diamond. They also possess in George Davis, who has replaced McKean at short, one of the hardest hitters in the country.

Pat Tebeau has not decided yet who he will pitch to-morrow. It is regarded as pretty certain, however, that either Davies or Young will go in. Britenstein will handle the sphere for the Browns.

John Ward says that Haddock's head is swelled out of proportion.

Brooklyn will never win the championship if Stein is the class of twirlers they are relying upon to do it with.

Brooklyn misses Mike Griffin and Darby O'Brien, for both are strong reliable batters. Griffin is, without a doubt, one of the greatest outfielders in the business.

Jack Glasscock has been hitting the ball quite consistently of late. Mike Griffin of Brooklyn, Jimmy McAleer of Cleveland, and Billy Hamilton of Philadel-phia, are now regarded as the three best out-fielders in the country.

Pittsburg, it is said, will soon release Swartwood and Elmer Smith. Charley Farrell has been replaced at third base by Raymond, Farrell will in the future cover left field for the Pirates.

The course at the Fair Grounds yesterday was in a muddy condition, the result of the heavy showers that prevailed the previous evening. Two favorites captured purses, while the other events were taken by animals with odds ranging from 4 to 10 to 1 against them, but all were more or less backed. Pat Corrigan's Enterprise, the favorite at 21/2 to 1 in the opening scramble, was successful in the handlest kind of a manner. Bismarck, another well-played favorite at 2 to 1, captured the second race; Oakview at 5 to 1, the longest shot in the race, was successful in the third event; C. B. Wellingham, who closed at 5 to 1, walked off with the fourth race; Clifton with the comfortable odds of 8 to 1 posted against him defeated a good field in the fifth event; and Hoodlum, who closed at 4 to 1, defeated such good ones as Newcastle, Zcollen and Stratagem in the closing event. REAL ESTATE INTERESTS.

AN ELEGANT PARK TO BEAUTIFY LIN-DELL BOULEVARD.

Ninth Street Business Property Selling Actively—Heavy Sales Near Bellefon-taine and Calvary—A $38,000 Hamilton Place Purchase.

One of the problems that has somewhat annoyed property owners interested in the artistic development of Lindell avenue, has been to decide upon a symetrical utility of the triangular piece of ground at the interion of McPherson and Vandeventer avenues. Numerous parties have been willing to bay this property to build upon, but as the character of the improvement suggested and its probable use was not suf-ficiently defined to harmonize with the idea of persons who have fine residences and live on Lindell avenue, this prominent site, at the meeting of the free avenues, has been allowed to remain vacant and probably will never have a building upon it.

A plan to convert the ground into a public park, embelished with statuary, a magnificient fountain, winding footpaths and rustle benches, has been suggested as the best means of disposing of the property for the general benefit of Lindell avenue, With this end in view a subscription paper is being very generally signed by interested parties to secure the property, and the enthusiasm with which this enterprise is being pushed is in bright contrast with the old fossil spirit which ruled in that fine residence section only a few years ago. It is now very probable that this prominent site will be dedicated for a park. When the plan is consummated it will add very much to the already attractive features of the boulevard. Coupled with this are other projects on foot for the benefit of Lindell avenue, but they have not reached that yount of development to warrant further mention at present. The effect, however, is most salutary upon the demand for eligible residence sites, several sales on the south side of the avenue, west of Taylor, having lately been made at $150 a foot to parties who contemplate building residences in the near future. Lots in that block have recently been advanced to $200 a foot on the theory that the ground, even at the increased price, is relatively much cheaper than building sites in westmoreland place. Mr. A. D. Brown of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. bought a Lindell avenue to twest of Taylor lately at $175 a foot, and a local architect is now making plans to improve the site with a fine residence. East of this some of the property-owners have been filling their lots, and indications point to greater activity in building all along the avenue. From Vanderventer avenue west, the buildings on a fitty-foot lot, for which he pad $100 a foot, the ground being only 175 feet deep. On the north now handsomely improved and ready for home building, has attracted the attention of a good many buyers, who have purchased lots in the attractive subdivision, and numerous other parties are now negotiating to buy there. The land is gently undulating, naturally affording the two indispensable requisites for pleasant and healthful suburban homes, namely: commanding building sites and excellent drainage. There are no poor building sites in the entire park. The low land has been utilized for drives, which do not cross each other at right angles, but sweep around throughout the entire tract in graceful and ample curves, forming at numerous points of junction artistically shaped little parks, which, with their grass plats and shade trees add much to the picturesqueness of the place.

It is the design that Webster Park shall always remain exclusively a suitable and desirable residence district, and to this end the deed to each lot will set forth certain conditions and restrictions, such as the recognition of an established front and side line on each lot for all buildings whatsoever, the limitation of one dwelling house, of at least two stories, on a single lot, and the prohibition of all nuisances.

The Webster Real Estate Co., having charge of the property, is officered by J. B. Case, President; L. R. Blackmer, Vice-President; B. F. Webster, Treasurer; H. L. Wilson, Secretary, and A. B. Canfield, Superintendent.

The directors are: J. B. Case, L. R. Blackmer, Wh. Campbell, J. P. Helfenstein, R. Ghiselin, H. C. Simmons and L. W. Stebbins.

The Most Dangerous of Modern Disorders Clearly Defined-Pneumonia and What pneumonia really is. People, and even some physicians, have called it a dangerous disease. Pneumonia is always an after effect.

If the system is run down, weakened, debilitated, if the life is at a low ebb, the lungs may fill up and the person die suddenly, and it is called pneumonia. No man or woman ever died of pneumonia when the body was strong, vigorous and healthy. It comes upon one when weakened by grip, by a severe cold or overwork and a generally weakened con dition. Such being the case how can this dreadful trouble known as pneumonia be prevented or warded off? Manifestly, by strengthening and fortifying the body by having the health and strength so secure that pneumonia will not attack, or if it should, can easily be warded off. This can be done by careful living, careful diet and a moderate use of a pure stimulant. To gently assist nature a stimulant is required, something that adds to the life and vigor. Noching for this purpose can equal pure whiskey, and it should be borne in mind that the only pure and medicinal whiskey which has received the unqualified indorsement of physicians and scientists is Duffy's Pure Malt. It is no ordinary whiskey, but possesses properties known to no other article. It will effectually ward off pneumonia and has saved the lives of thousands of popple. It should be remembered, however, that it is the only whiskey which can accomplish this, and any drugglist or grocer who seeks to convince you to the contrary is deceiving. months ago, while there were agents in St. Louis to secure passenger trame, all the shipping was managed by letter, and it was not considered necessary to station a freight agent here. But recently a change has taxen place, owing principally to the remarkably heavy demand for St. Louis wheat and flour in Europe, South America and the West Indies. That this demand did not manifest itself sooner is due to the great efforts made by the millers of the hard wheat belt to obtain the trade. With wheat graded most liberally and flour cut down to a very low price it was hoped to secure the new trade. St. Louis flour merchants have been as liberal as any others with the foreign trade, but the inspection of wheat by the Merchants' Exchange inspectors has been as sever as ever, it being deemed poor policy to forfeit for a temporary advantage the reputation that has been built up at great expense and during a long series of years. At first this policy did not prove advantageous, as much wheat and flour that naturally would have been drawn from St. Louis was taken from other places. But the results, which are just now becoming fully apparent, have proved that the course pursued was the correct one. The hard wheat flour seat to the Cuban and south American market has not been at all satisfactory. It spoils readily in warm climates, and already heavy Joses have been incurred by the attempt to carry it. In view of this a special agent has been located here and another will soon be added, The French and Spanish trade also demands St. Louis flour, and still more strongly St. Louis wheat. The mills of that section are adapted to the manufacture of soft wheat flour, and therefore call for grain from the great soft wheat market. In Germany, a hard wheat country, the St. Louis flour is required for mixing, the high grade product of this city being peculiarly advantageous for mixing with low grade hard wheat flour. The result has been the establishment of agencies for direct shipment to all the countries interested.

Both Liberals and Tories acknowledge that the Premier uttered carefully future as well as to past. Lord Salisbury that, if the Liberals carry the general election, and pass a home rule measure in the House of Commons, the House of Lords will throw out the bill and de-mand another appeal to the country on the ground that the electors had not been made aware of the scope and meaning of the measure. He also gives it to be understood that the House of Lords will remain firm in this position, and will look to the Conservatives and Libeaal-Unionists for support and sympathy. If the House of Lords sho tained by the Crown and the minority of of Commons, then there would have to be another general election or a dead-lock. The crisis would be serious, not for Ireland alone, but for Great Britain, and it should be remembered that in the event of any disturbance, the army and navy are th officered by Conservatives. matters go peacefully, however, another general election would be held, and the home rule bill accepted by the election of another Liberal majority, bill would presumably be nd next would come, passed, and heart would come, according to Lord Salisbury's programme, the Ulster rebellion. MONTANA GEMS.

UPS AND DOWNS OF THE SAPPHIRE & RUBY CO. IN LONDON.

LONDON, May 7 .- One American undertak ing, which has found the road to financia success in London much more rocky and wearisome to travel then any highway in Montana is the Sapphire & Ruby Co. of that State. This property, which was mentioned in cables two years ago and again more recently, has been more discussed than any American company outside of the Emma mine, the Harney Peak and the Eric Railroad. It has shared the usual ups and downs, doubts and investigations, and has reached the limited company state. Streeter, the London jeweler, who went to Montana a perfect doubting Thomas, came back enthusiastic and joined the Board of directors. The opposition first offered by Kuntz, the gem expert of Tiffany's, was modified by his previously published approval of the property.

When the company was bought out six months and a half ago the sum of 225,000 pounds was underwritten. The public did not manage to get 20 per cent of the subscription. Over 40 per cent of the underwriting was voluntarily paid up, though not without delay. Those who did not pay took up and still maintain an extraordinary position in regard to to their responsibilities. They contract for 15 per cent commission on underwriting, that 15 per cent was due from the promoter, Mr. Oviatt, upon their underwriting being accepted by the board of the company and that any failure to pay up their underwriting was a matter between the board and themselves, entirely beyond the question of commission. In other words, that Oviatt must pay them their commission, though they had not paid the board of the company. This contention Oviatt and the other directors vigorously resisted. This produced a deadlock in the business. After several weeks'negotiation the owners of the propert came to England, looked over the situation and decided to subscribe enough to enable the board to complete the purchase and take over the property. This was done by one o the owners putting up $300,000 in cash.

The property was finally transferred a little over a week ago. The shares of the company at once advanced to par in the open market.

Now comes the last chapters in the early history of this company. The promoters are all it is difficult to say, as all the teacher that the company is a submitted to the fluctuation of the company. to receive their checks this week, and Frank

AMERICANS IN LONDON.

LADIES TO BE PRESENTED AT DRAWING-ROOMS -AN ARTIST'S SUCCESS.

London, May 7.—Society newspapers are complaining bitterly because Minister Lincoln has already booked twenty-one American ladies for presentation at the drawing rooms this season. Ten of them will be pre-sented at the first drawing-room on the 16th inst.; the other eleven at the second drawingroom. Their names have not yet been divulged, but one newspaper sneers to day because one lady is the wife of a Chicago notel-keeper. This refers of course to Mrs. Potter Palmer, but it is by no means certain she will be among the ladies presented. Another sore point among Britishers jnst low is that Americans have already secured

One of these days, you are told, everything will be taken in hand and put straight, and the unvirtuous rulers of the city will be swept away by a cyclone of popular indignation. Everybody will unanimously elect the right man, who will justly earn the enormous salaries at present paid to inadequate aliens. At the same time, the lawlessness ingrained by the Governors among the governed during forty years of brutal laxity of public conscience in regard to public duty, the toughening and sapping of public morals, the reckless disregard for human life bred by impotent laws and fostered by familiarity with needless accidents and criminal neglect, will miraculously disappear. In a heathen land three things are supposed to be the pillars of a moderately decent govern-ment. They are: Regard for human life, justice, civil and criminal, and good roads. Yet in this Christian city they think lightly of the first—their own actions prove it. They buy and sell the count at a certain price or penly and without second at a certain price, openly and without shame, and are apparently content to do without the third. BISHOP OF WESTMINSTER.

THE COMING INSTALLATION OF DR. VAUGHAN-LONDON TOPICS. LONDON, May 7 .- The installment of Dr. Vaughan as the new Bishop of Westminster Diocese occurs to-morrow and the ceremony promises to be most imposing. To begin with, there will be 300 delegates representing every district in Great Britain, there will be fourteen prelates and all the dignitaries the Church can command in England. The act of thronization will be pronounced by Mgr. Tilbert on Tuesday and Dr. Vaughan will then hold a reception for his Episcopal brethren and next month the Bishop will receive a Cardinalship. The mayoralty seems to be going a begging this year, notwithstanding its dignity and its title. DUEL OF TRADE INTERESTS. OUTGROWTH OF THE PROPOSED BURNAY PORT

May 7.-The Burnay port win le cabled a week ago is exciting daily a share of attention. The first sal now fixed for May 24 at the Wool Exchange. The intrusion of financiers doing business has greatly exasperated next autumn however before any results as to ing in port and filled every possible order, so that the usual wholesale buyer should furnish no customers for Burnay.

As a counter blast to this Messrs. Southward, who have the sale in hand, have advertised it from St. Petersburg to San Francisco and from Constantinople to Paris in the hope that the immensity of the sale will attract buyers who have never before appeared at a London wine auction.

It is an interesting duel of trade interests and may possibly mark the beginning of new era in the wine trade of London.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

ATTRACTIONS OF LONDON'S PLACES OF AMUSE-MENT-VIENNA EXHIBITION.

LONDON, May 7.—Sir William Young, son of the late Sir Charles Young, has proved that he has inherited a portion of his father's gifts by the production Thursday at a matinee of the Lyceum Theater of a four-act play entitled "An American Bride." This play was written jointly by Sir William Young and

Mr. Maurice Noel. The play has well invented scenes and live characters. The action passes partly in America.
Unless some unforeseen incident intervenes to prevent Sarah Bernhardt will open at the Shaftsbury Theater in "Cleopatra" on

The center board is lifted by a steel wire rope attached to a small winch just aft of the cabin companion. It is expected Queen Mab will be ready to race against the German Emporer's yacht, which Americans will remember as the Thistle, next August. If Queen Mab is the success it is expected, the Clyde yachtsmen entertain a hope of a match being made for her in America next summer. Queen Mab was specially built for Thomas West of Chaddleworth Hall, Berkshire.

VIENNA, May 7 .- Every day gives some new ndication that Russia is preparing to cross the frontier. There is a continuous movement of troops to the West, and the calling out of the successive categories of reserves in the interior has commenced. These reserves will be forwarded to various points of concentration, whence they can in the aslest manner re-enforce the regulars in the Polish garrisons on the Austrian and German rontiers. The naval transport preparations are nearly completed. Advices from Russian Poland state that the offcers of the reserve are daily receiving sealed orders to be opened only upon further instructions, these orders being intended for a case of sudden mobilization. There can be no doubt that every possible measure is be ing taken to prepare to seize the first advantage in case of a declaration of war. According to an official statement there are now 130.000 troops quartered in Russian Poland. There are not wanting statesmen, however, who regard this massing of troops by Russia along the borders as a purely defensive They call attention to the fact that the great plain of Poland is separated from the main body of the Russian Empire by the normous Pinsk or Minsk marshes. Only of late years has Russia, with great difficulty, acceeded in driving a poor and feeble line of railway across this marshy region. With the exception of that very in secure connection, all communications be ween Russia and Poland, from north to south, are severed by a practically-for troops-impassable district. Austria to the south, Prussia to the north, have it, under ordinary conditions, within their power to sever the lines of connection, such as re. It is only natural, therefore, that Russia should have been for many years devot ing herself to enlarging the facilities which will enable her to co centrate troops in the neighborhood of Roy o, in order to stop all attempts on the part of A. Il is to occupy the relatively narrow district which separates Galicia from the Pinsk Marsh region to the east of Poland, and that she should have been increasing her garrison in the district represented by the great fortresses Brzest Litewsku, Warsaw, Ivangorod, Novo-Gior glewski, by which she retains her possession For some time it was a favorite theory among certain politicians that Russia had no longer anything to fear from the national spirations of the Poles. It was assumed that by interesting the peasants in her rule by agrarian concessions, Russia had broken the strength of the national feeling. But recent events has completely dispelled this illusion. So nothing, according to this view, is more probable than that Russia's concentration of troops in this part of her empire is a purely precautionary measure and in no

the peace of Europe. According to advices received at Cracov from Warsaw, the constant movement of troops in Russian Poland continues to excite considerable comment there. Latterly nilitary transport trains have been passing through the city almost nightly and the men have been billeted on the inhabitants in the surrounding districts.

CABMEN ON A STRIKE.

ORIGIN OF THE TROUBLE NOW INCONVENIENC ING ALL VIENNA

Vienna, May 7.—The determination of the Vienna cabmen and coachmen to strike and leave the city without conveyances during the musical and theatrical exhibition is another move in the semi-personal war be-tween Count Kielmannsegg, Statthalter of Lower Austria, and the Cab Drivers' Associa Lower Austria, and the Cab Drivers' Associa-tion. The quar-rei that is threatening to upset partially the financial success of the exhibition is a serious one. It started in a dispute between the statthalter and a cabman over fare. the latter engaged him, and at the end of the drive protested profanely against accepting the exact stipulated fare.

Count Kielmannsegg, who is a man of pedantic justice, although celebrated for his generosity to the poor, refused to increase the fare and ascended the steps of the house at which he was to call, while the cabman followed cursing and swearing and threatening to raise the neighborhood unless the Count settled. During Count Kielmansegg's call there was an uproar on the call there was an uproar on the steps and he ran out to find the cabman and the butler in a fight, the cabman still shouting that he would have his extra fare if he had to follow the Count for a year. The Count then revealed his identity, and the cabman tried to sneak away, but a policeman seized him and locked him up. Count Kielmannsegg attended the police court and secured the conviction of the cabman.

The next day he gave orders that the whole cab system of Vienna must be reformed, that all overcharges must be severely punished, and special authority should be granted to policemen to enforce these regulations. Overcharges for long trips in the new districts of greater Vienna were also cut down. The cabmen protested, but Count Kielmannsegg was irreconcilable, and so the cabmen have declared war.

PROTESTS AGAINST THE ACTION OF THE SPAN-15H GOVERNMENT.

HAVANA, Cuba, May 7.—A very important meeting of the merchants of Havana has been held to consider the arbitrary manner causing people to refrain from entering upon new enterprises. The island is being fl with Spanish silver, nearly every steamer from Spain bringing quantities which is forced upon the market in the place of gold, which has become so scarce as to still further lessen the value of the paper dollar, which is now only 39 cents in gold, and to make matters worse it is reported that the Spanish Bank of Havana refuses to receive the old Spanish Bank of Havana refuses. he old Spanish silver coin. Our merchants are greatly everyteen. greatly exercised at seeing a disposition to put obstacles in the way of the admission of the products of Cuba into the ports of Spain While Cuba receives the merchandise of the other country unincumbered by onerous duties and expenses, the home governmen is busy placing these upon the products of the island imported into Spain, consequently there is growing up a very unpleasant feel-

A recent cable says that the Queen Regent has signed the new tariff, which greatly in-creases the heavy tax on sugar, tobacco and other industries. Things having gone so far he wanted Sir John Thompson to show courage and bring the act into operation. They knew that under the law a Canadian publisher could not reprint an English copyright at all, but that an American publisher could. The American copyright act which came into force last introduced and had passed an address to the an American publisher could. The American copyright act which came into force last year was most injurious to Canadian authors. Now English authors can copyright in the United States, but Canadian publishers cannot reprint at all, hence Canadians were worse off than ever, as the Canadian publisher cannot obtain any of these works. There was an evident feeling in the press contrary to the decision of the Minister of Justice against American citizens taking out copyright here. He could not understand the cause of the difference. If an American came here and compiled with the Canadian came here and compiled with the Canadian laws as a Canadian does in the United States he ought to be able to do what he desired. If he came here and was domiciled here his work could be printed in this country the same as a Canadian's book could in the United States. It was a little curious that in order to publish here a book must be both printed and published here. In England this and published here. In England this was not necessary.

Sir John Thompson said that it was incumbent on Canada to insert in the statute a clause submitting the putting of the act in force to the Imperial authorities. The reason for this was that copyright was one of those questions in which the mother country held a separate policy and separate opinions as well as distant relations with other countries. The proclamation had not been issued because the Imperial Government had not withdrawn their objections. Last year both Houses joined in an address to Her Majesty's Government asking them to pass an act to enable the proclamation to issue, but what occurred since was not of such a nature as he could disclose at present. The American act on this subject was the issue of a proclamation more desirable. He would be very glad when he was able to state fully the most recent communications on the subject between Canada and the imperial authorities as to reciprocity in copyright. Complaints had been made on behalf of the United States that reciprocity had not been observed by Canada. The matter was

Accordingly at 6 p. m. they began to assemble, and a little after 7 they set out for the Sua da Sena dor Verguero, where Gen. Fonseca resides, a great number of persons taking part in the demonstration. On arriving at their desti-nation, however, they found the General too to receive them, but several speeches said to have been very violent were made to them from windows of the house. It is reported that the speakers even told the is reported that the speakers even told the crowd that Pelxoto was not the President; that the real President was Fonseca, and urged them to go to the Itimarita Palace and "expel the usurper." The article concludes as follows:

A monster meeting to be held in Boston was proposed, and it was suggested that Tsul, the Minister at Washington, be asked to attend minister at washington, be asked to attend and give his opinion on the movement in question, but the wiser heads expressed grave doubts of the invitation being accepted, as they say that the Minister by so doing would compromise himself. Thursday night Ko Chung, one of the leading lights, harangued the meeting for over two hours. Gong Hoi also made an address.

The pendency of the Chinese exclusion bill, The pendency of the Chinese exclusion bill, and its passage by Congress and approval by the President, does not appear to have excited the St. Louis Chinese to anything like the extent reported of the Celestials in the Eastern cities. It has been a subject for incidental gossip, but no meetings have been held, and now that the bill has become a law, the Chinese are not clear what good can be effected by meetings or otherwise. At least this is the view expressed by Jeu Hon Yee, the Locust street importer and merchant. Jeu Hon Yee has been twenty-two years on and off in this country and speaks English excellently. He showed with much feeling a copy of yesterday's evening paper containing the resolutions of the Methodist Conference at Omaha denouncing the President for signing the bill. He thought those resolutions were about the thing. "This is a Clistian country, and it is not Clistian to keep my people out. I am a good Clistian—belong to Bishop Bowman's church."

The resolutions characterized the President's action as a dirty electioneering dodge to get the Irish vote; and Jeu Hon Yee charitably suggested that while the Plesident was a good Clistian, he wanted to have the Ilish vote in order to be President again. He didn't know but it would be well to get his people together and protest against the enactment of such a law, and give Melicans some pointers on what Clistianing the providence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—On inquiry at the Chinese legation to-day it is ascertained that the published statement is incorrect that no protest had been made to the State Department by the Chinese Minister against the exclusion bill passed by Congress on the 4th inst. Minister Tsui says he called in person at the department on the morning of the 5th, and in the absence of Secretary Blaine, saw Assistant Secretary Wharton and notified him that he would send to the department at once a written protest against the bill, which he asked might be laid before the President inmediately. The written protest reached the department at 2 o'clock of that day.

The Minister states that he objects to the bill mainly for reasons that it renews the Scotl law of 1888;

2. It deprives the Chinese of the right of bail in habeas corpus cases;

3. It requires a registration of Chinese haborers which it is practically impossible for them to comply with.

They must all prove by white witnesses that they are lawfully entitled to be in the United States, and as the first excision law was passed in 1882, every Chinaman must produce before the Collector of Internal Herenue a white witness who knew him ten years ago and can swear that he was in the United States at that time. This law leaves the issuance of the certificate of registration entirely to the discretion of the revenue officer and provides no way of compelling him to do justice to the Chinaman. He must register and provides have a within the year fixed for registration. Senator Sherman, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, said this registration was similar to the silver end of the foreign Affairs Committee, said this registration was similar to the silver end of the foreign Affairs Committee, said this registration was similar to the silver end of the foreign Affairs Committee, said this registration was similar to the silver end of

C., May 7 .- Thomas C. and spent almost the entire day at the Ar anti-Harrison Republicans, Much sigattached to his visit, was tnasmuch as it was generally understood that he and Senator Quay were to meet, and discuss plans for uniting on some candicate to defeat the President's nination. Senator Quay was in consultation with Mr. Platt in his room for several

Later in the day ex-Senator Blair, Col. Duffield of Detroit, Gen. Alger's friend, Senator Washburne, Senator Cameron and Representative Boutelle Mr. Platt. Although it was admitted by Senator Hiscock, who was also of the party, that the presidential ques-tion had been more or less discussed, he declined to state what, if any, plan had been urged. All of those present were equally reticent as to details.

Mr. Platt himself was uncommunicative ald not admit to the SUNDAY POST-DIS-PATCH correspondent that anything like nference had been held, "A few of my Republican friends called upon me," he said, drift into general talk on the presidential question." Further that this he declined to say what had occurred at the meeting. Mr. att, however, was finds. While he would not state finds. While he would not state finds. While he would not state four years ago, continuous four several strong hints. While senator Sherman, too, has declared his unwillingness to again enter theffield, it is thought that if the support of Pennsylvania and New York should be assured him, he would reconsider his resolution. Secretary Blaine's health during the past secretary Biane's neath uning the past two months has improved greatly. He rides out almost every day. This change in his condition has reawakened the old Blaine en-thusiasm and has given encouragement to the opponents of the President. It is the hope of the Anti-Harrison people that Quay and Platt may succeed in inducing either Mr. or Mr. Sherman to oppose the President's nomination.

Several rumors were current this afternoon to the effect that Mr, Platt had called at the White House and had a conference with the Immediately it was conjectured President. Immediately it was conjectured that Mr. Platt was preparing to make terms with the Administration. These reports naturally created general surprise, but Mr. Platt, cn hearing of the story, promptly set all doubt at rest on this score by denying that he had been near the White House.

Another conference, it is understood, will be held on Mr. Platt's return, when some definite plans will in all likelihood be considered. In the meantime the pressure will be nt to bear first upon Secre-Blaine and then upon Senator Sherman. Upon the result of these interviews will depend the future plans of the anti-Harrison forces. Senator Hiscock said to-night that he had no authority to speak for Mr. Platt or anyone else, but that he should go to Minneapolis and support Mr. Harrison. Inasmuch as Mr. Hiscock is a close friend of Mr. Platt his statement has served to provoke much speculation as to what this indicates. The New York delegation was uninstructed, and Mr. Platt has said that it is not for Mr. Harrison. Mr. Platt dined with Vice-President Morton and Senator Hiscock and left for Nashville at a late hour to-night. This visit af Mr. Platt, with the speculation to which it has given rise, assures the feelings of the Presi-dent's friends to an unusual degree. Speak-ing on the subject to night one of them said:
"This effort on the part of certain men, claiming to be friends of Mr. Blaine, to than the best of the state of the presidential nomination go for nothing is an afront to the Secretary of State. Mr. Blaine has put himself on record as distinctively, and I believe as sincerely, as any one possibly could. He considered that his duty to the President ended there, and taken at his word his duty properly did end there, But if the serious effort is made to induce the country to believe that Mr. Blaine is not a man of his word I take it that in order to properly rebuke these people from being a possible ountity in the contest, will become one of the President's most active supporters. The relations between the President and Mr. Blaine are cordial, and there is not the slightest ground for the assumption on anybody's part that Mr. Blaine could be brought to forward any opposition to the President, or that he desires to see the President rejected at he desires to see the President rejected a: Minneapolis in the the interest of any leader in the Republican party."

AN ALLIANCE SPLIT.

MISSISSIPPI THIRD PARTY MEN ARE BADLY DIVIDED.

JACKSON, Miss., May 7. - In view of the unsettled condition of the Farmers' Alliance as settled condition of the Farmers' Alliance as to its political course in the coming election, the action of the Hinds County Alliance at Raymond and the resolutions adopted are regarded as important as showing the drift of Alliance sentiment in this State. The district organ of the Alliance had advised Alliance men to stay out of the Democratic primaries. The Alliance Convention reaffirmed its adherence to the Arcola platform as amended at Indianapolis, ignoring any reference to the St. Louis meeting, and passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That we approve the liberal, conservative and patriotic spirit displayed in the call of the Democratic County Executive Committee for precinct meetings to appoint delegates to the County Convention to select delegates to the Democratic State Convention, and that the Alliance memers in Hinds County can and should respond with alscrity and cheerfulness to the party call.

It is said that Maj. R. Barksdale, who unsuccessfully contested with Senator George for United States Senator last year, will run for Congress against Congressman Hooker upon the Arcola platform, but will make the fight inside the Democratic party, as he did last year. The date for holding the State Convention of the People's party has been changed from May 13 at Kosculsko to June 22 at Jackson. to its political course in the coming election

On baliot J. M. Morris and R. J. Hill were selected as delegates and E. M. Logan and W. T. O'Neal, alternates. A resolution to instruct for C. C. Mamitt as delegate at large introduced by A. P. Vance was lost on the theory that it was not policy to tie the hands of our delegates, though this does not indicate that the vote of Iron County will not be cast for Mr. Mamitt. Immediatly after this motion the County Committee met and ordered a primary election for July 30 and another mass meeting June 18, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the other State Conventions. After appointing judges ane clerks of the primary election the committee adjourned.

JACKSON DEMOCRATS. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 7 .- The Democrat of Jackson County, Mo., held their County Convention to-day and elected by Repre entative Districts thirty-two State Nomination and State Judicial Convention and thirty-one delegates to the Western District Court of Appeals Convention. The Gibson men had complete control of the convention and did not allow Stone or Dalton to have the ghost of a show through the few friends they had in the convention. Indeed, the friends of the two outside candidates for Governor were almost lost in the general Gibson enthusiasm, and could not have accomplished anything had they tried. The delegates to the State delegate convention were instructed to vote only for Cleveland men to the National Convention, and those to the State Nominating Convention. District Court of Appeals Convention. The to the National Convention, and those to the State Nominating Convention were put under pledge to vote first, last and all the time for Judge James Glbson for Governor. Contesting delegates from the Third, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth Wards held a meeting in the Town Hall and elected delegates to the State Convention, and arranged to carry the fight for representation to the state Convention. They are for Glbson, but against "mob rule," as they call it.

Ford Smith Tells Why He Broke With Mr. Filley.

JOHN B. O'MEARA ON NOONAN AND THE IRISH VOTE.

An Unflattering Estimate That Angered the Mayor-The Former Agent of the Republican Boss Says He Resented Dictation-Representative Martin Crit cises the Minneapois Delegates.

Nothing can equal in strangeness the rupture between Major Noonan and John B. O'Meara except the estrangement between Chauncy I. Filley and Ford Smith.

The fight between O'Meara and the Mayor has now got to be in the open, instead of from ambascade. The Mayor's declaration his friends must not contractor when his is presented for Lieutenant Governor in the convention may result in keeping away from Jefferson City a number of good Democratic delegates who are trying to stay on good terms with both men. The Mayor is said to have heard statements of Mayor is said to have heard statements of O'Meara's about him that have made him implacable in his enmity towards the quarryman. The Mayor has never trusted him implicitly at best. O'Meara was for George Allen at the beginning of the last mayoralty campaign, and came out for Noonan only under pressure. Then, in the midst of the campaign, when the exactions of a saleon canvass caused the Mayor to disappear temporarily from view, O'Meara wavered again, porarily from view, O'Meara wavered again, and was only held in line by W. H. Swift. It is openly stated among politicians that the Mayor's monetary obligation to O'Meara was the cause of the intimacy between the two, which has led to His Honor's partiality for the contractory matters of city work. for the contractor in matters of city work.

The Mayor's friends say that O'Meara a year ago concluded that Noonan was dead politically, and began to knife him. One man has told Noonan one thing the contractor, because the same than the contractor. ractor has said about him, and another has added to it. The contractor gave to one city employe a confidential ex-planation of his opinion of the Mayor.

"Nooban's getting drunk and carrying on the way he has been doing didn't hurt him much with the Irish Catholic vote," said O'Meara, "till the Kenrick jubi-lee. Then his going on the stage in that con-dition and making that speech settled him with men who didn't care a snap for the other things. Anybody who will go out among the voters in North St. Louis will be surprised to hear of the feeling against Noonan on account of that speech. He can't be reiominated."

This opinion made its way within a few days to the Mayor, and it is said to have cut Noonan to the quick. It was only one of many that, came to his Honor's ear, and the breach between the two was inevitable.

FILLEY'S FAITHFUL ACHATES.

Ford Smith has for years employed his time in trumpeting for Filley on the street corners in addition.

ners in and out of season, and among Republicans the connection between the two was known to be so close that when the lawyer opened his mouth straightway everybody repeated what he said as a direct communication from the head of the contract of the cont tion from the boss on Beaumont street. He was sought eagerly, listened to with deferwas sought eagerly, listened to with deference and quoted solemnly. It was Ford Smith who brought about the nomination of Dr. J. H. McLean for Congress by enlisting Filley in his support. He was the man, it has always been thought, who arranged the delicate little details of the money transaction between the boss and the pill-maker, so that both of the principals might be able to say virtuously that they had never exchanged a word about money.

They say it was Ford Smith who first suggested to Mr. Filley that Thomas J. Prosser gested to Mr. Filley that Thomas J. Prosser was a bird with great quantities of golden feathers that he wanted to moult, and got the railroad man the honor of being beaten by Seth Cobb two years ago. They say that it was Ford Smith, too, who they say that it was ford smith, too, who selected, by inspiration, another pill-maker to run for Congress in the Eighth District. This was Frank Sterritt. They say that Mr. Sterritt first learned through Mr. Smith how much his campaign was going to cost, a discovery that made him drop the nomination into the hands of Charley Joy.

Mr. Filley elected John Henry Pohlman Sheriff three years ago, and got him to appoint Ford Smith his attorney. Then the lawyer returned the favor by putting George Bain out of the Republican Central y a knowledge of each other's secrets, and a keen appreciation of each other's shrewdness. Nobody would have believed a quarrel to be possible. MR. SMITH LEAVES FILLEY.

At the beginning of this last campaign in the city it was noticed that Ford Smith's name was never mentioned by the fighting factions of Republicans. It was reported that the two had fallen out, but the story was scouted. It was said also about the same time that John McFall had abandoned Filley; that Thomas C. Martin had left him; that Henry Pohlman would have nothing more to do with him; even Martin had left him; that Henry Pollman would have nothing more to do with him; even that Charley Schweickhardt had given him up. All these later were set down as having the purpose to divide the silk stockings who admired Filley's organizing genius and despised the men who did his work. But a few days ago a Republican stopped Mr. Smith on Chestnut street and asked him point plank:

"Who is Filley supporting for Mayor, Walbridge?"

bridge?"
"Do I carry Filley in my pocket?" snarled "Do I carry rine," Mr. Smith.
"You know pretty well what he thinks."
"Do I?" drawled Mr. Smith, stroking his

him for years."

grayish sidewhiskers. "Well, I don't. I haven't been in Filley's house or spoken to him for years."

The Republican went off puzzled, and he met John McFall a little while after. "Is it true that Filley and Ford Smith have broken?" he asked.

"Yes," said McFall, with a chuckle, "Ford's out of it."

"What's the matter?"

"Why," said McFall, after he had sworn the other man to secrecy, "I heard that Ford went up to Filley's house with Prosser one night and Filley wanted him to do something. I didn't know what it was, but Ford said he'd be d— if he would. Filley gets pretty excited sometimes, and he said to Ford, "D—you, you've got to do it. You are paid for doing it. Ford got up and put on his hat, and went out and left filley and Prosser together. I don't believe they've everseen each other since."

Mr. Smith sat in his office yesterday with his legs coiled around each other when a reporter asked him if he had deserted Filley.

"I shut the door of Mr. Filley's house from the outside some times ago," he returned, "and I've never had any desire to close it from the inside since."

"What was the trouble?"

"What was the trouble?"
"What was the trouble?"
"It's too long a 'tory, and I don't care to tell it. He has said and done things for a long time I didn't like, and at last things came to a consummation I had been looking forward to with pleasure for many a verr." 'Was it an attempt at dictation?'
'Was it an attempt at dictation?'

"Was it an attempt at dictation?"
"Well, I'm an independent sort of a man," said Mr. Smith, "and I wear no man's collar. Nobody can tell me what I shall do and what I shall not do."

Mr. Smith was then asked if the Prosser story was true. "No, it isn't," he said. "I want that denied because I wasn't in Prosser's district, and I didn't care who they put up for Congress there."

Mr. Smith was asked concerning the stories about Henry Pohlman and Thomas Martin. He uncrossed his legs and began to comb his whiskers meditatively with a paper knife he took from the table. "You see then," he said, "I'm out of pointies. Politics delight me not, or Filley either."

JULIUS WURTZBURGER AND MARTIN.

EX-Sheriff Pohlman was afterwards seen, and then several intimate friends of the old-time Hoodium said to be dropping away from Filley. Mr. Pohlman expects to be a candidate for something next spring, and he declared that he was just as good a friend of Filley as he ever had been.

J. McPall was also bound to be on good terms with the boss. But Thomas C. Martin, the State representative, member of the Republican Central Committee from the Twenty. third, and owner of the Star Hotel and saloon, was discovered to be a most contumacious rebel. He went up to the Jefferson City convention, and Filley's friends say that he voted against the boss' motion then. "I told John McFall to go to Filley and tell him that was a — lie," said the representative. "I don't care a cent for Filley and I'm not allowing him to dictate to me, but I won't be misrepresented. That little spy in Zlegenhein's office, Julius Wurtzburger, went to Filley and told him I had voted against him, when I really had not voted at all. Our ward had five men up there, and they gave us only four seats, so I didn't vote. Wurtzburger, you see, wanted to do me up because I wouldn't vote for the two saloon-keepers they wanted to send to the National Convention from the Tenth District, It is the only Republican district in Missourl and I didn't think it was right to make both of the delegates saloonmen. They were going to nominate them anyway, and I just made up my mind that I'd show Wurtzburger and Mr. Filley that they were not running the Iwenty-third Ward if Wurtzburger did live in it. I elected a delegation of good solid citizens like Charley Nagel. Of course that's the reason Wurtzburger is spreading these stories now. I had him in here the other day and told him what I thought of him."

Representative Martin understands that the tip from Filley is that Harry Pocock is to be the new chairman. He is the oldest member in the committee and resents the action of Mr. Filley. He is a man-of, much influence in South St. Louis and his enmity will cost the boss something.

clothing firm of L. P. Hollander & Co. to-night reported the loss of $17,021.60 in night reported the loss of $17,021.60 in checks between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He said he had sent William Breen, a 14-year-old boy employed by the firm, to the office of the Third National Bank, to deposit the checks. The boy left on his errand to return an hour later very much excited, saying that the checks had mysteriously disappeared. He said he had pisced them in his outside coat pocket, in which was a hole, and he supposed they had dropped out. The police are not certain whether the boy has been the victim of a pickpocket or knows more about the disappearance than he has told. He was not arrested, as Mr. Littiedeld declined to make a charge. IN A DEEP HOLE

THE NEW CREED DESIRED.

The creed desired by many is one which will in some respects resemble the one outlined by Dr. Henry Van Dyke of New York City. When discussing this matter in his Presby tery he said that those whom he represented wanted a new statement of essential doc-trines for four reasons:

"Because it will be simpler. Because it will be

be more scriptural. Because it will be shorter. Because it will have a better balance. In practical theology the important thing is emphasis. We want a creed that will lay a massive emphasis upon the love of God for the world, the atonement of Christ for all mankind, and the free, sincere offer of the mankind, and the free, sincere offer of the Gospel for every creature."

The Revision Committee, on the contrary, feels that if its report is adopted it will satisfy all except a few extreme conservatives and a few extreme radicals, who will be equally unable to agree upon a new creed. The progress of the discussion of this important question will be watched with great interest.

The progress of the discussion of this important question will be watched with great interest.

THE UNION SEMINARY CONFERENCE.

The subject most important next to the revision question, and perhaps of greater popular interest, because it has in it a personal element, will be the discussion of the Briggs case. This will come before the assembly in two ways. Last year his transfer from one that to another in Union Seminary was disapproved by a vote of 440 to 60, but so intense was the feeling on the part of the seminary directors that at a meeting held shortly after the assembly they reaffirmed his "transfer," as they term it, and decided to stand by him.

THE HEREST TRIAL IN NEW YORK.

The second phase of the Briggs case will be the appeal from the Prosecuting Committee of the New York Presbytery, which dismissed the heresy trial begun there last summer. After the committee had made its report, citing the charges and specifications, and Dr. Briggs had made a reply, the Presbytery dismissed the case, and it is against this action that the appeal is brought.

DR. BRIGGS AND HIS WORK.

Dr. Briggs, who was the bone of contention at Detroit, and is likely to be mentioned frequently at Portland, was born in New York and has just passed his fiftieth birth-day. When 16 years old he entered the University of Virginia, and Union Seminary three years later. He was a member of the famous Seventh Regiment of New York and marched to the front. He was engaged in mercantile life after the Rebellion for some time, and then went to Germany, where he had the privilege of studying under Dorner and Rodiger. After a brief pastorate at Roselle, N. J., he was called to a professorship in Union Seminary eighteen years ago, occupying the Hebrew chair until last year, when Charles Butler, the President of the distance of the distance

A STATEMENT OF DR. BRIGGS' BELIEF.

Just before the assembly met a year ago the directors of Union Seminary appointed a committee to see Dr. Briggs and obtain from him a statement regarding matters which were believed to be misunderstood in his inaugural address. The statement consisted of a series of questions, which were answered by the professor and presented to the board to the satisfaction of all, though it has since been said by one of them that he merely meant that he would not press the matter further. Some of the questions and answers were these:

sions of the Cumberiand Presbyterian Church convened in this city to-day. Two hundred and fifty delegates from auxiliary societies have arrived, and before the session ends. Tuesday next, the local reception committee expects to entertain at least 500 representatives of the church who are interested in promoting home and foreign missions. Much earnest work will be pushed forward at this annual meeting, and some radical changes in the mission fields will possibly tade place. Some of the yearly needs to overcome opposing circumstances such as a systematic plan of giving in order to sustain missions and an enlargement of fields of labor will be discussed. The work among the Indians at the Hogan Institute, the mission fields in Japan and Mexico will be discussed with a view of conducting the mission upon a much larger scale.

The delegates assembled at the Cumberland Church this evening, where an informal reception was held, and assignments were made by the local reception committee. An address of welcome was made by the Rev. R. B. Ward, the local pastor, which was followed by greetings and literary exercises, after which the delegates held a social levee. The services on Sabbath morning will be conducted by the Rev. M. L. Gordon, D. D. In the afternoon a children's meeting proper will be opened and missionary matters will be disposed of.

On May 1, 1850, the Woman's Board of Home and Foreign Missions of the cumberland Presbyterian Church was organized and since that time the organization has done much effective work in foreign fields. The greatest success in foreign lands in the mission fields has been had in Japan under the personal supervision of the Rev. Dr. Gordon, President; Miss Anna L. THE BOARD CAN PROCEED WITH THE hibition which John W.O'Connell sought in order to prevent the School Board from investigating the legality of his election as a direc tor. The opinion embraces twenty-three pages of close type-written matter. It sets forth the well-known proceedings of the chool Board in the matter, including a reference to the opinion of Mr. C. B. Stark reference to the opinion of Mr. C. B. Stark, counselor for the board, who denied the right of the board to investigate the contest, because the board rules were in conflict, he alleged, with sec. 9, art. 8 of the State Constitution. Notwithstanding Mr. Stark's opinion the board under its rules, went ahead with the inquiry, appointing a committee, etc., until stopped by O'Connell applying for a writ of Judge Klein admits that the constitutional for other considerations. But the constitution does not vest the power in the case of the School Board to determine who is elected in anyone or require the General Assembly to vest it in anyone other than the body that previously possessed the power. By the act of Feb. 13, 1833, the power to judge of the qualifications and elections of its members, is expressly conferred on the School Board, and the prevision of Sec. 6 of the Drabelle act declares that the provisions of the act of 1833 shall not be construed as affecting the existing right of the board to determine the election and qualification of its members. The court states it does not seem to be contended in this case that art. 8 sec. 9 of the constitution in any manner interferes with these powers of the board, and the plaintiff him self claims his office by virtue of and under the same. It may be regarded, therefore, as conceded and as justly conceded that the right and power of the School Board to conduct the elections of its own members and to judge of and determine the qualifications of its members.

NOT AN ELECTION CONTEST.

Judge Klein then asks whether this is an "election contest" within the meaning of the constitutional provision relied upon by the plaintiff. The Supreme Court has decided that an election contest "related only to statutory contests, in which the contestant seeks not only to oust the intruder, but to have himself inducted into office." Judge Klein holds, under this definition, that the investigation of the School Board is not in the nature of "an election contest," but an inquiry by the board as to the qualifications of one of its members, which the board, the court holds, has a right to do under the law.

The proceedings of the School Board are pronounced regular even to the service on Mr. O'Connell. It will be remembered that Mr. O'Connell could not be found and a notice was served on a member of his family, Judge Klein decides to what is proper service. "It follows," concludes the opinion was rendered and the opinion was render President Bartholdt of the School Board was seen last evening at the entertainment given by the Gravois School at Concordia Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Arsenal streets. He was asked to give his estimate of Judge Klein's decision, "I believe the decision is good law. Judge Klein is an able jurist, and he has devoted much study to the questions involved in this contest. The decision will certainly hold water. in regard to the Brady contest. I said that it would be in poor taste to do anything until Judge Kieln rendered a decision in the O'Conneil case. But now that their hands are freed I believe that they should go ahead in justice to O'Conneil and Burke, Brady and Deliacella. I do not know whether O'Conneil will take an appeal. He has nothing at stake in the School Board. He has no chairmanship and is member only of two minor committees. Ho told me that he went into the contest simply to set himself right. He expressed the intention to resign if the court decided in his favor, or if the committee supported his claims.

"The decision of Judge Kieln holds that the O'Conneil case is not a contest, and therefore the board has a right to investigate his claims to a seat. But it is doubtful whether the board can appoint another to fill the place, and in fact it is probable that if O'Conneil is beaten at every point, and forced to leave the board, a new election will be necessary to fill the vacancy.

"Everything now rests with the committee. It is a good one, and up to the service of the injunction they reported progress. I think that some important work should be done by the time of the June meeting of the board."

OBJECTED TO HOUSE WORK.

Why a Chicago Girl Left Her Home and Came to St. Louis.

Mrs. Buchanan of 156 Oakley avenue, Chiday afternoon and called on Chief of Police Harrigan in answer to the telegram sent her last evening that her runaway daughter was in this city. It will be remembered that at 9 o'clock Friday evening Sergt. O'Malley and Officer Corcoran found a 16-year-old girl wandering around the Union Depot. When accosted by them she said that she had run away from home because her mother tried to force her to do housework. After boarding for two days in Chicago a man furnished her with clothes and transportation to the city. She was placed in the Convent of the Good Shepherd temporarily to await her mother's arrival. Late yesterday afternoon the mother and friend, accompanied by a police officer, drove to the convent, and after an affecting meeting the mother and daughter patched up a reconciliation. The daughter agreed to accompany her mother and the trio left for Chicago on the evening train. Mrs. Buchanan was profuse in her thanks for the kindness of the St. Louis Police Department. last evening that her runaway daughter was Alfred Bagot Dangerously Cut and Wm Scott Stabbed in the Abdomen-The Row Originated About the Tierney Brothers' Mother - Michael Tierney Escapes-Other Police News.

A big neighborhood row, with two b Gates on the other, occurred in the alley in rear of No. 2024 Biddle street, at 7 o'clock last night. The two Tierneys used their penknives as weapons during the fight, and as a result Alfred Bagot now lies at his home, No. 2022½ Biddle street, with a stab in the breast, one in the left arm, and one six inches long in the abdomen, the latter being a probably fatal wound, and Scott is also at his home, in the same tenement house, with a stab in the abdomen, which is, however, not dangerous. Wm. Tierney is under arrest at the Third District Sub-station, and states that he did all the cutstation, and states that he did all the cutting, but the story of the wounded man and of eye-witnesses to the free fight contradict this story, and implicate Michael Tierney also. The latter evaded the police following the row, and up to a late hour last night had not been captured. The Tierney brothers lived at No. 2024 Biddle street with their mother and the row in which they week.

night had not been captured. The Tierney brothers lived at No. 2024 Biddle street with their mother, and the row in which they used their knives to such purpose originated, it is stated, in a quarrel earlier in the day in which their mother figured. The two wounded men are married. Scott was a driver for the Liggett & Myers tobacco factory, and Bagot worked in a coal yard near his home. The Tierneys are laborers, but have been out of employment for some time past.

According to the story told by Bagot and Scott, Mrs. Tierney had been quarreling with her neighboors during the day, and they remonstrated with her sons about the disturbance, when the general fight followed. Bagot, the probably fatally-wounded man, says that both Wm. and Michael Tierney attacked him with their knives, and Scott says that he was stabbed by Michael Tierney. Wm. Tierney, who was arrested by Officer Odlum at his home immediately following the fight, states that the whole trouble was started by the man Joe Gates, who insuited old Mrs. Tierney, and then with a crowd of men back of him dared the Tierney boys to resent the insult. No weapons were used save by the Tierneys. Bagot's wounds were dressed by Dr. Guhman of that neighborhood, who pronounced them probably fatal, and Scott was attended by Dr. Dickinson of 1624 Biddle street, who states that the cut in the abdomen is not dangerous. The description of Michael Tierney, who is still at large, is given as follows: Smooth face, light complexion, 5 feet 10 inches in height, hair dark, shabby clothes and a black slouch hat.

considerable attention and resulted in the terrible injury of a boy named Henry Simpson. The mule had been acting strangely for several days and was sent in charge of the boy to Walhali for treatment. No sooner had it arrived in town than it selzed the boy by the arm with its teeth and held on with buil dog grib. No efforts of the boy could make him let go and his sereams for help soon attracted a crowd. Their combined efforts could not induce the mule to release his grip until shot and killed. The mule is supposed to have had hydrophobia. The boy's arm was frightfully lacerated and it is feared the shock and wound will prove fatal.

POVERTY AND RICHES

A slight disagreement between Baron FREDERICK GOTTLIEB NIEDRINGHAUS and his pastor in church some weeks ago involved contributors to the POST-DISPATCH "People's Forum" column in an apparently endless discussion of the cause and cure of the extremes of poverty and riches -a controversy as old as civilization. The two parties to this controversy are still the same as when it first began. On one side are those who see in poverty only the print of the iron heel, and in one man's immense wealth the cause or explanation of a hundred men's poverty, the accumulations of hard-hearted greed, injustice and oppression. On the other side are those who can see nothing in a prodigious fortune but the reward of merit, the proof of personal superiority, and in poverty nothing but proof of personal inferiority, selfindulgence, indolence or a weakness that cannot and ought not to rise above the abject condition unalterably imposed by a wise providence upon the mass of more useful. Each side, therefore, indulges in hobby riding and unsound generalization, and while each has bright shreds and patches of truth in the web it weaves, the most important truths bearing upon the question are discarded by both. Any generalization that condemns man for his wealth or his poverty or that false standard is unjust, and the difference of conditions in this country is largely independent of either statutes or personal excellence. The social system which continually widens this difference and dooms great masses of good and deserving people enables some to become multi-millionaires without merit or honor, and to transmit colossal fortunes undivided to sons who ruption and injustice, is surely in need of amendment.

But the rich are no more to blame than limit |the number of craftsmen and the amount of work each may do, in the hope of thus raising the wage rate. Some vote for protection to raise the beginning of an earnest and intelligent wages at the expense of consumers, unmindful of the fact that they are thus only detrimental to the interests and deleterious which the many suffer for the benefit of gather and distribute information and the cunning and lucky few. No social reform will ever abolish pov time equally poor. If it were possible to abolish poverty and the necessity of working for a living, this would for a short time be a worse and wickeder world to live in, and the ideal equality thus established would not outlast a clean shirt.

BRUTE AND HUMAN.

A correspondent of the POST-DISPATCH deprecates the overgrown sympathy, or rather misdirected sentimentality which creation while neglecting the equal, if not greater, woes of humanity. At first blush it does seem irrational, if not cranky and insane, to devote one's self to alleviating been and still hold his office is likely to the condition of cats and dogs while so many men and women, to say nothing of little children, are suffering the pangs of hunger and ill-health. The old belief that torial diplomats, but he has falled to do the the crushed worm suffers as much pain as the crushed giant was long since exploded, along with many other amiable blunders of prescientific days. The sharpest pain suffered by the most highly developed brute is very slight compared to that of which a man is capable. Pain de pends upon nervous organizations and the more highly organized creatures are more susceptible to the assaults of woe than the humbler members of the animal kingdom. which Lord Salisbury's denunciation of It is therefore, from this view point absurd to shed tears over the ill-used horse. It were better to keep one's sympathy for

But there is another view of the subject Putting aside an exception here and there the man who is kind to his horse is kind to his wife. The same spirit which prompts him to care for the broken down nag prompts him to surround his old mother with every comfort and make her happy in her old age. On the other hand we may CENSUS SUPERINTENDENT PORTER is in be sure that the man who kicks his horse trouble with the Sabbatarians. They or beats his dog will be indifferent to his have just turned in petitions from Ohio fellow men if not positively brutal. ousand. It is a very pretty quarrel as it panies, which give their horses a season of stands, but the oddest thing about it is rest now and then, but work their men that Mr. PORTER should have to admit fourteen hours a day, are not so bad as that his zeal in Republican States does not they might be. They have observed that rest does horses good, and they act upon their knowledge. True, it is the commercial conscience which comes into play here, but a commercial conscience is better than none at all. It is really the germ of a soul. They treat their horses well because it pays. When kindly conduct gets to be automatic they will treat their men well, because it is right to do so.

It is not wise, therefore, to discourage or disparage kindness to brutes. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is doing as much perhaps for human kind indirectly as the societies directly devoted to the alleviation of human distress. Both are trying to mitigate pain. Both are trying to teach that any creature which God has taken the trouble to create has a God-given right to decent treatment at the hands of man, and when men learn to be kind to brutes they [will not need to be taught kindness to each other.

An instructive spectacle is offered the public by the journey across the continent of Mr. GEORGE WASHINGTON CHILDS. proprietor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Although a plain private citizen Mr. CHILDS is the recipient of public honors of mankind to make them more humble and a most complimentary kind during his trip. Mr. CHILDS is a rich man, but he laid the foundations of his fortune by thrift and arduous toil and he has never aspired to greatness in an ambitious way He is not honored on account of his wealth but his use of it, not on account of his great ness, but his goodness. His money has not been made by burdening or grinding estimates his merits or deserts by any such others. Those who work for him regard him as their best friend, and no appeal in behalf of a benevolent or public enterprise was ever made in vain to him. Mr. CHILDS is in a true sense the steward of his wealth and it is gratifying not only that there are such philanthropic men but that their to extreme dependence and want while it value is recognized by their fellow-citi-

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Hundreds of salesmen and salesladies of St. Louis ask of you the privileges of your Forum, that they may bring before the humane peo ple of this city their situation. There are a few first-class establishments in St. Louis that close the year round at 6 p. m., to give their employes the privileges of social enjoyment and recreation. These deserve the pat-ment and recreation. These deserve the pat-ronage of the public. Will not some voice from the humane element of this great city be raised to plead the cause of those in other establishments who are denied the same social privileges? St. Louis is not what it was fifteen to twenty years ago. We now live miles from our place of business. SALESMAN.

QUERIES AND ANSWERS.

Are there any authenticated cases of spontaneous ombustion of the human body? The theory of spontaneous combustion of the human body in former times was held by almost every expert. French scientists, in particular, supported it, and several of them published pamphlets in which numerous cases of alleged spontaneous combustion of the human body were described at length, out there are three very significant points to be noticed in connection with such reports, One is the invariable admission that there was a light or fire in the room where the catastropne occurred; and another, that in no case was there any actual witness of the

Something like 75 per cent of the human body consists of water. This fact in itself is sufficient to discredit any of the alleged in-stances of spontaneous combustion. It is just conceivable that persons who drink an normous amount of spirituous liquors may become so saturated, as it were, with this inflammable material that ulge in this way, but it is perfectly certain that the fire would have to be applied from without, for no such thing as spontaneous combustion could be possible in any article

THINGS WISE AND OTHERWISE.

Here is a fine story from the Persian Bible 'For a week, Abraham would scarce break his fast for fear some hungry traveler might pass, needing his store. Daily he looked out pon the desert, and on a day he beheld the ent form of an old man, his hair white as mine eyes,' said Abraham, 'enter thou with welcome and be pleased to share my bread and sait.' The stranger entered and to him was given the place of honor. When the cloth was spread and the family had gathered round the board, each uttered, Bismillah' ('In the name of God,') save one the aged guest uttered no word. said: 'Old man, is it not right when thou dost eat thy food to repeat the name of God?' The stranger said, 'My custom is that of the fire worshipper.' Then Abraarose in wrath and drove aged Geber from his house. Even as he did in sunshine and rain, in bread and life, to this man; is it for thee to withhold thy hand from him because his worship is not thine?

I saw recently in a New York paper that four members of the athletic club in one of the most prominent of Eastern colleges had died during the past year—three of them from disease of some sort. It was not suggested that athletics had anything to do with this rather extraordinary mortality; but I am convinced that such suggestion would have truth to sustain it. In other words, I believe that if it were possible to obtain all the facts in the case, it would be found that these three young men contributed more or less to their own deaths by overexertion in the various sports and games which, in most of our American col-leges, seem to be the main feature of the cur-riculum. That proper and moderate exercise is conducive to health, we all know; that improper and immoderate exercise is condu ive to disease, all ought to know-and If they gave the matter five minutes of intel ligent thought. A certain amount of vital energy—more or less according to the inherited physical constitution—is given to ea one of us at birth. We may expend it by reckless extravagance before 25, or by judi reckless extravagance before 25, or by justicious care and economy we may make it last into the sixties or seventies. And dissipation is not the only form of this strength-wasting, life-destroying extravagance. You can wear yourself out by too much work, or by too much play; and frequently the play is more wearing than the work—notably—in excessive athletics. Life is shortened thereby; and where one professional or amateur athlete passes the fittleth mile-post, ten drop and die before they reach the fortleth-many never see the thirtieth. Look at the men who have just finished a boat-race, or a match game of football; notice their exhaustion after the spasmodic and unnatural effort, the tremendous strain from which they are suffering-and then ask, if you need to, whether such suicidal business is calculated to produce health and insure length of days. admirably calculated to do just the other thing. Yet the craze for athletics continues and increases without a warning relations

I was told the other day of a well-known however trying may be the circumstances Somebody asked him the secret of this re markable equanimity. "There it is," said he, taking a little book from his pocket; "Read that, and follow its teachings, and a smile. Of all the books it is for me the The little book was a very old one more than seventeen hundred years old in fact: "The Thoughts (or Meditations) of the Emperor M. Aurelius Antoninus." The author himself gave no name to it; indeed, never anticipated its publication, or even private circulation. All critics agree that it nature, intended for no eye but that of the writer, and probably for his own exclusive benefit. Simply as a mental and moral discipline and help, he wrote down such thoughts as seemed to him of value, just as they came into his mind-doubtless to read over and reflected upon afterward. is, so to speak, a window in the breast, through which we may look into the innermost heart of one of the purest and best mer God has given to the world. And we see him there, not "as in a glass darkly," but face to face, soul to soul, even as God saw him; and thus self-revealed we know him better than his most intimate associates could have known him. That this little book-the contents of which could on a single page of Post - Dispatch — should it down to us through the storms of seventeen centuries, escaping the destruction that has robbed us of so many of the ancient classics. I consider the happi-est accident—or "special providence" rather —in the history of literature. For my own part I had rather all the rest had perished than this one. Of all the characters in human history, Marcus Aurelius—as shown in this little book—is the only one for whom I feel a positive affection—deep, reverent and abiding love. And I devoutly thank God for permitting me to know such a man-such a pure noble and tender soul. Strange that a man who walked the Roman Forum seventeen hundred years ago should to-day be present in spirit on 'Change in St. Louis! What blessed immortality!

vestigation of the Pension Office:

Sir-I have learned from the Commissioner of Pensions, by his letter to me of the 2d inst., received at the department on the 4th, of his communication to you, dated May 2, in which he states that he has been directed by the honorable Secretary of the Interior to refuse to furnish information desired by your committee concerning certain correspondence, upon the ground that the constitution and laws of the United States repose in him, (the Secretary) the power of appointing and removal, and that in his (the secretary's) opinion, he is not required to furnish to Congress or one of its committees the grounds upon which such appointments and removals are made.

While believing that this statement of the law is such as I might rely upon asfely were I so disposed, as the head of this department I have to inform you that the commissioner has misapprehended my purpose, so far as the investigation by your commistee is concerned. I have no disposition to refuse in this instance either upon the grounds atated by the Commissioner or any other, an investigation which the House went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Hatch in the chair) on the river Michigan, who moved to strike of the bill the appropriation for a channel 21 feet in depth, connecting waters of the great lukes between Chic Duluth and Buffaio, and inserting in whom shall be referred the report of Col. O. M. Poe upon the subject of a twenty-foot channel from Dulut to Buralo, through the great lakes. The board shall also report as to the practicability of raising the water level of the lakes and connecting harbors by damming the Klagara River. Mr. Castle of Minnesota defended the provision for a twenty-one-foot channel as course, benefit the elevator interests of Port Huron, Mr. Whiting's home.

At present the deeply laden ships must stop off at Port Huron, and leave a portion of the freight there, to be transhipped by rail to another portion of the lakes.

Mr. Vincent A. Taylor of Ohio thought, if the amendment prevailed, the proposed channels in other sections of the country should also be so referred.

Mr. Tarsney of Missouri advocated the amendment of Mr. Whiting on the ground that if they had large vessels on the lakes they could only enter one or two harbors, and the other harbors would be destroyed. The Government would thus be called upon to appropriate untoid millions.

Mr. Chipman of Michigan opposed the Whiting amendment, and said that the constry between Duluth and Buffalo represented cereal products of 29,000,000 people. Congress should not allow the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada to absorb the entire transportation from the St. Clair river to the soaboard. He protested against the little city at the head of the St. Clair river (Port Huron) standing in the way of the prosperity of the whole country.

Mr. Whiting said that the appropriation

Courage Deserts a Girl Student at a Crit ical Moment.

A Jefferson avenue bobtail car came jolting across Washington avenue, and a party of Mary Institute girls, standing on the corner with their book-straps, signaled it. Most of the seats were already full, and some of the girls had to stand and hold to the roofstraps. A big man, very drunk, was lolling in a corner seat. He wanted to get off at Chouteau avenue. When the girls got on he half rose to see if he had reached his street, and fell back again with a maudlin ejaculation expressing fear that the conductor would carry him by. The girls looked at him with stern disapproval, and kent away from the corner where he sat as they chose their straps.

When the car had gone another block and reached Locust street the man had again forgotten where he was. He rose unsteadily to make his way out.

"This Zhoto avue, zho," he said.

With one hand he grasped the rod at the top of the car and the other he laid on the shoulder of a Mary Institute girl to support himself as he stumbled along. She shook him off; he reeled and fell against another girl who was standing up, knocking her over into the lap of a woman who was sitting down. She sprang to her feet, swung her books by their strap and struck the he half rose to see if he had reached his

"But I prefer to sit this way," replied the passenger.

"But," replied the conductor," some one else may wish to sit in that seat who will not want to ride backwards."

The young man still, however, refused to allow the seat to be changed, and the car started. At Sixth street a buck negro got on the car and the conductor beckoned to him. "see here," said the conductor, "you go and sit in that front seat that is turned backwards, and I'll let you ride free."

"All right, sah," replied the negro and he swung around onto the running board, and made for the seat, while the conductor reached for the register cord and rung up a fare at his own expense.

The young man who had insisted on riding backwards, in order that he might enjoy a vis-a-vis chat with his female companions, interposed a vigorous objection, as the negro began squeezing himself into the seat beside him. The darky, however, insisted and finally succeeded in getting seated. The young man and celared the negro had the right to the seat. After making dire threats the young man and his companions left the car.

BERLIN, May 7 .- The Government awaits with considerable anxiety a solution of the King Humbert Embarrassed by Rudini's An unknown man found murdered in a box Italian ministerial crisis. Although the Triple Alliance treaty was last year prolonged until 1897, it is all important that in a serious quandary by the resignation of the successor of the Marquis Di M. Omcial advices point to the selection of Big. Giolitti as the Marquis Di Rudini's successor. The North German Gazette says that Giolitti would entirely support the Crispi Rudini foreign policy and budget or any diminuition in the military forces. Despite this assurance, fears undoubtedly affect of few other official circles here that Italy's economic weakness will be a drain upon her effective ction as an ally. The crisis is likely to alter he arrangements for the meeting between mperor William and King Humbert. The Marquis Di Rudini was to accompany King Humbert and the new Italian Ambas sador. Count Taverna, who had a prelimieffective highly practical question so long unsettled appeared to be on the point of decision, so, therefore, the Marquis Di Rudini's defeat is felt there as having an import far beyond Italy's domestic interest. BALANCE OF POWER.

The Alliance Scheming to Secure it in the Electoral College. Washington, D. C., May 7 .- Farmers' Alli ance schemes are driving on to a focus. Toallow any reduction in day a secret conference was held Congressmen Jerry Simpson, gston and Watson and a few other Alliance lights and a plan was outlined to make the best balance of power in the Electoral two hours. It was decided that the Congressmen should use their utmost efforts to carry out this scheme. Instead of putting up candidates to whom the electors will be pledged, the third party will put up electors and no candidates. Then by fusion or division of electors they can get enough representation in the college to enable them to hold the balance of power. Then their electors being pledged only to do the best for their party, will be at liberty to act at will with either party. They can got ocitier and demand this or that cabinet portfolio or one or two portfolios as a return for their support. It was pointed out by Simpson in a hot speech of forty-five minutes that if their electors went into the electoral college pledged to any one man and there was no majority, the election would go to the House and the Democrats would win. 'I am against combinations generally,' said Jerry, 'except when I can beat the old parties, and I think that combination will do the business. It won't be the first time electors have been allowed to follow their personali bent in the college, and there is nothing in the constitution to prevent their doing so. Our men will-fight in the college for principle, not for a personality.' The idea was heartily approved by those present and in the next few days the plan will be laid officially before all the Alliances of the country. hours. It was decided that

A MYSTERY OF THE RAIL.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 7 .- This morning a car inspector on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway was at work in the yards at Cal ifornia avenue and Huron street, unloading a freight car that had just come to the city. He was horrified to find the bleeding body of a man lying on the floor. Life had left the body, but the corpse was still warm. The floor of the car was , covered with blood and there was every indication of a desperate struggle. Near by was found a murderous hickory club. It had undoubtedly been the weapon with which the murder had been done. The murdered man may have been a laborer, but he appeared to be too well dressed for a man of this class. He was 5 feet 5 inches in height, weighed about 140 pounds and was about 80 years old. He had dark hair and a smooth lace. There was a cut on the forehead and a blow had crushed the mouth and lower jaw. The walls of the sear were stained and smeared with blood. No clew has been found to lead to the arrest of the murderer and the identity of the victim cannot be established. Capt. Kipley of the West Chicago Avenue Station is working on the case and believes the crime was committed by robbers. a man lying on the floor. Life had left the

ANNISTON, Ala., May 7.—The town of Heffin, twenty miles east of this city, was thrown into a fever of excitement yesterday when i became known that one of the leading and most influential men of that place had stolen a little girl from her home and attempted to leave the State with her. Prof. J. B. Madleave the State with her. Frof. J. B. Madden, principal of Ross Institute, Cleburne County's leading institute of learning, has for some time been infatuated with Mabel Williamson, a 12-year-old girl. He had made several ineffectual attempts to induce her to leave her home and live with him. Madden is married, and he arranged for his wife to take the little girl to Mississippi last night to a social gathering. The night before a young man named Dobbins, who boards with the little girl's uncle, entered into an agreement with Madden to deliver the girl to him. Dobbins had gone to the entertainment, and on their return home left her in a lonely and unfrequented spot, where it was agreed Madden should wait for her. Madden approached the girl. and placing her in a buggy, all three drove to Edwardsville, where Mrs. Madden and Madden were to take the west-bound Georgia Pacific train at 3 o'clock for Mississippi. Mabel was missed, however, and a searching party sent after her. They tracked the three to Edwardsville, where they found them only a few minutes before the arrival of the train. Threats were made of mobbing Madden and two or three ineffectual efforts were made toward taking him from the officers who had him in charge, but cooler heads prevalled. Madden was refeased on bond and Mabel Williamson, his victim, was taken to Georgia to some relatives. den, principal of Ross Institute, Cleburne

A BAND OF THIEVES. BROOKFIELD, Mo., May 7.—The gang of thieves who have committed so many robberies in Brookfield have at last been run to the ground. Jones and Walker, the Escaped Witnesses, Captured in Nebraska

CHADRON, Neb., May 7. - This city is all ex-William W. Walker, the two witnesses against the stockmen, together with Oliver P. Witt, a liveryman of Douglas. The two witnesses with Witt as guide left Douglas on witnesses with matching the following the horseback at midnight of May 4, and arrived near Harrison at 2 p. m. They then waited for the eastbound train, boarded it and came to Orawford. Before reaching that point, hewever, old man Jones got into a row with the parties who came on the train to conduct them east, including several to conduct them east, including several attorney to conduct them east, including several stockmen and an attorney for Harvy of Douglas, and refused to leave the train. His companions, however, pulled him off when Jones flashed his six-shooter. At this point Marshal Morrison came up and ten minutes to leave the country, and halied not on the order of his going. He would have been lynched by the relatives of the girl if captured.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 7.—The United States Grand-jury, in session here, has found true bills against Wm. H. Dill, the Clearneld bank President, for embezzlement. Mr. Dill's offenses consist of the embezzlement of two cashier's due bills on June 9, 1891, amounting to $5,625.07 and $5,000, respectively; a note made by Putnam & Crocket on June 26 of $2,500; one by the same makers on Aug. 22 of $1,000; one made by the Caiedonian Lumber Co. on July 22 amounting to $1,500, and one made by Putnam & Crocket of sept 26 of $2,000. There were two charges against Mr. Dill—one for embezzlement and one for falsely certifying to checks and notes. A true bill was also found against Theodore Myler, the ex-Assistant Postmaster of Allegheny, on the same charge.

At this point Marshal Morrison came up and inquired what was wrong. Harvy informed him that Jones was insane and they were taking him East, and requested Morrison to disarm him and assist them in getting him to the Baltimore & Ohlo depot. Morrison started to do, but placed both Jones and Walker under arrest. He then learned their identity. He also arrested Witt. The best legal talent was engaged on both sides and by mutual consent the case was continued until Monday next. The men under arrest are the only witnesses against the stockmen, they having witressed the fight in which Champion and Ray were filled. James K. Hardy Arrested Here on s Charge of Embezzlement.

James K. Hardy, a son of the cement co tractor who has the contract for laying the sidewalks for the World's Fair at Chicago, was arrested by Detective Allender last night on a Kansas City warrant, charging the young man with larceny. Young Hardy was found at the residence of his parents on Jeffer. son avenue and Howard street, with his wife to whom he was married only six months ago. The amount named in the warrant was $18.72, and Mrs. Hardy claims that if he was short that much it was due to an unintentional mistake on his part in balancing his account with the firm he was working for—the Doggett Dry Goods Co. of Kansas City. He was chief inspector for the house for two years and quit a few days ago and came back to St. Louis with his young wife. Detective Allender is of the opinion that young Hardy is more sinned against than sinning. He was born and raised here in St. Louis and always bore a good reputatian, He is 21 years old and has the consumption. His young wife, who is to become a mother soon took his arrest very hard. She visited the Four Courts last night to see him and was accompanied by the young man's mother. They telegraphed to his father at Chicago to come home at once, and they expect him tonight or to-morrow morning. son avenue and Howard street, with his

Miss Keenly Denies the Story That She and Harry Fitzhugh Lee Are to Marry. For some two days past it has been rumored that Miss Kate Keenly and Harry Fitzhugh Lee, the young prodigal son who made an attempt to end his life some three weeks ago at Hotel Barnum, were to be married. It will be remembered that Miss Keenly took it will be remembered that Miss Keenly took it upon herself to nurse young Lee back to life and to restore him to the paths of virtue, and even went so far as to have him incarcerated in Alexian Brothers' Hospital. When seen late last night by a Post-Disparch reporter Miss Keenly denied in very emphatic terms that she was even thinking of such a thing, claiming that she had no desire to raise a pet. She now insists that Lee is an impostor and that she cares very little what becomes of him. He still laguishes at the hospital, however, but as to who is paying his way through the weeks that are consumed in endeavoring to

NOT BELIEVED IN ST. PAUL The Report of the Pope's Condemnation of

Archbishop Ireland's Ideas.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May. - The publication of the reported condemnation by the Pope of Archbishop Ireland's school ideas created Archoishop Ireland's school ideas created general consternation among the Catholics of St. Paul, where the prelate is regardid as infailible. Father Hedron at the cathedral, who is the right hand man of the Archoishop, said to-night that he did not believe one word of the report and the same view is taken by Bishop Grace, and other dignataries of the church here. Father Hedron said: "If this story were true we would have heard of it direct from Archbishop Ireland himself. It is impossible that such a decision could have come from the Pope without something to prelude it. I cannot bring myself to believe that it is true and I certainly will not accept it as true upon the evidence now heard."

These sentiments are generally echoed by the Catholics of St. Faul, and until something official is received they will refuse to believe the New York telegram.

St Louis Loses Another Game by Bad Playing.

GLASSCOCK MAKES A BAD BREAK IN THE NINTH INNING.

A Close and Interesting Game Until the Very End-Chicago Shuts Out New York-Baltimore Has at Last Won a Game-Washington Takes Two Games at Pittsburg-Other Games.

Davy Foutz won the game for Brooklyn yeserday, but he got there by a fluke. It was ard luck of the blackest stripe that snatched ictory from the Browns' grasp after they ad made a strong and deserving fight for the mastery. It was nip and tuck for eight innings and then a bold play, such as only a player with his only a player with his set on winning would attempt, lisastrously and gave the game to Brooklyn. It was remarked as a queer Louis stars that had afterwards played in Brooklyn, one was the instrumental the other the efficient cause of Browns' defeat. In the ninth innings with the score tied, the Browns were innings with the score tied, the Browns were retired in one, two, three order, then Foutz came to the bat for Brooklyn. He knocked a hot liner to short right field. Caruthers made a long dive for it, reached it on the short bound, but fell over and the ball passed through his hands, he picked himself up and fielded the ball in to Glasscock, who fumbled it, letting Foutz cross the plate with the winning run.

Aside from the disastrous ending, the game satisfied the crowd to the fullest extent. The batting was lively and the fielding sharp. Moran caught his first championship game for the Browns and did excellent backstop work. Corcoran did some sharp infield work for the Brooklyns and the way Brodie gobbled everything in his territory and set the crowd wild. His oneded catch of Collins' hot liner in the sev enth was the grand stand play of the season. Kid Gleason's free arm work with the sphere and the willow was the brightest feature of

Neither side scored in the first two innings, For the Brooklyns Collins took first on called executed like clock workland the side retired.

For the Brooklyns Collins took first on called bails and Ward's sacrifice advanced him a bag. Joyce waited for his base on bails and got it. Collins crossed the plate on Brouthers' safe drive to left, Daly followed suit and Joyce scored, but Daly was overantous and died trying to steal second on Carroll's assist. O'Brien retired the side on a high fly to first base.

The Browns started to even things up in the next inning. After Carroll and Werden had gone out on pop flys Glasscock got a safe one past Ward. Brodiecame to the rescue with a beautiful drive to gright, sending Glasscock to third, Caruthers was equal to the emergency and landed safe past second, Glasscock scoring. Stricker left them both with an easy grounder to short. The Brooklyns planted goose eggs for the next three innings. Carroll opened the fifth with a slashing drive to right for two bases Werden made a suicidal attempt to bunt and landed a pop fly into Foutz's hands. The next two men were fielded out. In the sixth inning Moran doubled himself over the grand stand failing to catch a high foul from Collins' bat.

The Browns put up two more in the stand failing to catch a high foul from Collins' bat.

The Browns put up two more in the seventh. Stricker knocked a hot grounder past third that was called a foul, and then put another in the same locality that was called fair. Kid Gleason landed the ball into the right field bleachers and made a circuit of the diamond. For the Brocklyns Collins shot a hot liner into left center that Brodle rushed for stopped with one hand and then captured. Ward hit safe past short, took second on Joyce's base on balls, stole third and came in on Brouthers' sacrince to first. Joyce tried to follow him but died on the plate. Glasscock hit safe in the eighth. but failed to score. Corcoran landed safe for Brooklyn after two were out, but score. Corcorn landed sale for brook-lyn after two were out, but Werden ended the agony by hauling down Dailey's high liner to right. In the ninth Kid Gleason solved Foutz's delivery a second time. Moran made a pretty sacrifice, but Pinkney and Carroll failed to get the bail out Foutz came to the bat for Brooklyn, lined out to short right and on Caruthers' muff and Glasscock's fumble, made the circuit of the bases and the game was won. Princeton by a score of 11 to 5. The Tigers lost it on the weakest kind of play, both in the field and at the bat, and the old Nassau campus is full of sore Inngs, sore hearts and empty pocket-books. The boys had set their hearts on winning. They argued, "and we will show them how to play ball." Then they invited their wives and sisters and sweethearts to the festal of slaughter. But the wives and sisters and sweethearts had a good time, nevertheless. Previous to the time of the game they strolled around the campus in brilliant groups and talked about the coming contest. "Of course Princeton would win." It would be a horrid shame to lose the game to their hereditary and crimson enemies. Gradually the strolling groups focussed into a stream which set in a slow current towards the ball ground. Thicker and thicker grew the crowd until pretty soon it was difficult to avoid stepping on somebody's heels. Bicycles, carriages, busses, hacks and pedestrians swarmed through the gates in an endless jumble. Wheels rumbled, badge venders howled, girls chattered, ribbons fluttered, and altogether the scene resembled an old-time Roman feast.

There were very few Harvard men present, but their "ringers" turned out strong, and betting on the game was very quiet, and what money was bet on the result was mostly placed on even terms.

In the first six innings the game was anything but brilliant, neither side doing any great execution. After the sixth inning, however, Young, Princeton's twirler, was anything but effective. For Harvard, Highlands pitched an excellent game and racelved almost perfect support. The Crimson men played a sharp fielding game and ran bases well and hit hard. It was a crushing defeat.

ENGLISH RACING GOSSIP.

LONDON, May 7 .- After the upset over the Two Thousand Guineas, betting on future classical races have undergone great change. BonaVista has gone to the head of affairs, splitting favoritism with Baron Hirsch's splitting favoritism with Baron Hirsch's La Fleche. When the latter won the One Thousand Guineas, she went at once to almost even money for the Derby. It is an open secret that Bona Vista will not be started for the Derby, but will be kept for the Grand Prix. LaFleche will be sent for both Derby and Oaks. It is more than probable that she will emulate the dolngs of Blink Bonnie thirty years ago.
The only horse that is likely to cause
LaFleche any trouble is Milner's Adoration, which is by Hermit.

The Sinew, half sister to LaFleche, is almost a certain winner of the Jubilee stakes, which will be run at Kempton Park next week. It was thought that Col. North's Lady Hermit would develop into a great mare, but she orme was actually poisoned or not has reached the acute stage, even medical journals taking hand in it. The Lancet voices the opinion of a large number of veterinary surgeons that the poisoning story is all bosh.

The Secretary of War to Inspect the Improvements at the Barracks. From a private telegram received by an officer at Jefferson Barracks the Post-Dis-PATCH learns that Steve B. Elkins, Secretary of War, left Washington, D. C., yesterday and will arrive in St. Louis Monday. He will leave the same day for the Barracks for the purpose of instructing the work being done on the new buildings. Congress having appropriated $50,000 to be expended in improvements by June 1, although by virtue of a recent bill passed by Congress the sum has been increased to $55,000, and before the work of xrading and the construction of the new buildings is completed, which, by the way, will consume nearly three years of time, almost if not quite $1,000,000 will have been expended. Three hundred men are at work rearing down the old building, and the work is progressing rapidly. Mr. Elkins is taking considerable interest in the improvements of the Barracks, and will spend two days inspecting the work that is rapidly being pushed forward.

eting Last Night of the Eleventh Ward Improvement Association. Eleventh Ward Improvement Association held a meeting last night at

The Eleventh Ward Improvement Association held a meeting last night at Ebene Hall, Arsenal street and Ohio avenue. The association is composed of property owners of the northern portion of the Eleventh ward and was organized last March. It claims a membership of 400. About forty members were present last night and discussed the bill now pending before the Muncipal Assembly to grant a franchise to the City Central Railway Co. to build a cross-town electric street railroad. The sense of the meeting was enthusiastically in favor of the bill. Mr. Eugene Sweeney, who is engineering the bill, was present and addressed the meeting. The proposed road, the route of which has been published in the Post-Disparch, extends from Carondelet to the cemeteries, with a down-town terminus at Sixth and Locust streets, and two branches extending west, one on North Market street to King's highway and one from Nebraska avenue to Tower Grove Park. It is proposed to transfer onto any of the branches for a single fare.

The meeting scored John Scullin for his alleged lack of accommodations, and hailed the advent of the new road, as a period when they would "get out of the mud hole," A committee composed of John Mels, Joseph Dickman, Frank J. Karhauck, J. C. Brockmeir and Tony Stuever was appointed to appear before the committee of the bill, and which meets to consider it on the afternoon of May 16, and urge the passage of the bill. Mr. Sweeney, in his remarks before the meeting, referred to the charge that his proposed road was only a money-making scheme and that the road would not be built. He said that they were ready at any time to give a $25,000 forfeiture bond, and that if the City Council did not think that enough, it could be increased to $50,000, Louis J. Tichaceke of 2411 South Twelfth street presided at the meeting, and William Conroy of 8144 Iowa avenue acted as secretary.

Church People Delay and Are Outwitted DETROIT, Mich., May 7.—The selection for site for Detroit's new Union Depot, now fast nearing completion, naturally led to many newspaper articles, especially as the site vas peculiarly located, being bounded on one side by manufacturing concerns and on the other by Fort street, on which are located the residences of Gen. Alger, James A. Joy, the widow of Zach Chandler and other wealthy Detroiters. The depot is at the corner of Fort and Third streets, and directly across is the Fort Street Presbyterian Church, which has half a dozen millionaire residents of Fort street in its congregation. The most novel story concerning the depot came to light to-day, all the available ground in the vicinity being occupied by elegant reeidences and massive buildings of manufacturing concerns, it seemed probable that there would be no saloons within two blocks of the depot, and the wealthy residents of Fort street felt that while it was bad enough to have a depot thrust upon them they would escape the usual list of saloons usually surrounding such an enterprise. Directly back of the Fort Street Presbyterian Church there is a small lot 30x75 feet which has for years been fenced with the church property and has been supposed to belong to the church. The trustees of the church, however, knew better and feared that the land would be gobbled for saloon purposes. They accordingly set about to lease the land, build a small store and run a drug store under one of the deacon's names in order to meet the expense of the lease. They accordingly called on Capt. Dickinson, executor of the estate to which the land belonged, and talked over the matter. They held two or three meetings and finally decided to The most novel story concerning the deport executor of the estate to which the land belonged, and talked over the matter. They held two or three meetings and finally decided to lease the land. Several weeks elapsed, and when they called on Capt. Dickinson again they found that Andrew Hawley and Joseph Henry, enterprising barkeepers, had discovered that the thirty feet did not belong to the church, and without waiting had closed a ten years lease of the land at 850 per year. An elegant saloon will be erected on the land, and within twenty-five feet of the pulpit where spiritual blessings are poured forth, spirits will be dealt out to refresh the weary traveler.

A HANDSOME VICTORIA.

The finest carriage of its kind in the city is Spring Victoria just fin ished for Mrs. J. J. Lawrence by the wellknown builders, James A. Wright & Sons assistant general manager of the Union | Carriage Co. It is of the very latest design, beauty, comfort and finish in carriages is combined in this Victoria. Rubber-tired wheels avoid all noise from the street paving over which it rolls, and the ease contributed by springs of finest steel is added to by a late improvement where rubber gives them further softness. The painting is in beautiful shades of blue, striped in becoming lines of creamy white, edged with gold. The luxurious upholstering is in cloth and laces of a delicate shade of blue. The handsome hanging lamps and mountings are of silver, and the Victoria complete forms an object of ment, but has proven to be the best thing in beauty that attracts the eye and retains the attention of the lover of art as applied to utility.

Moneyed Men Uniting to Control Kentucky Distilleries.

Louisville, Ky., May 7.-Nathan Hoffheimer of New York and Adolph Woolner of Peorla, Ill., have been here quietly at work for a week or more on a scheme which, if carried out, will be of great importance to the distillers of Kentucky. Of course they do not desire to make their plans public, but it was learned from a reliable source that Mr. Hoffhelmer and others are getting up a project of some kind to control all of the sour mash distilleries in this section. A number of prominent distillers who admitted that they met Mr. Hoffhelmer during the past few days, all denied that there was to be a sale of their properties to the New York speculator. They will not deny that a big project is on. The scieme may be fixed up before the end of next week, but few of the distillers will talk about it, and none desire to be quoted. Mr. Hoffhelmer, when questioned, said: "I really would prefer not to have anything said about this matter. I can say to you, however, that I am not getting up a scheme for the control or distilleries for any English syndicate. Myself and Wooltillers of Kentucky. Of course they do sing up a scheme for the control of distilleries for any English syndicate. Myself and Woolner are here on business and I really don't care to discuss what we are doing until our business is completed. If you will come around later I may have some information for you."

Take all that he can get.

CO-CALLED "bar Ogains" are as plentiful as blackberries. Most of em, too, are like ice-exceedingly slippery. It isn't a remarkably pleasant sensation to discover that you, as well as the goods, have been "sold." Is it? Of course not. There's a way, however, of avoiding such an unpleasant kind of experience, and that is, to go where folks speak (as one's sworn to do in the Courts) "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth"-where not the slightest misrepresentation is allowedwhere merchandise is disposed of on its own merits. Gracious! what quanti-

LOVE'S AGONY.

Pretty Kate Tipton Could Not Bear the Anguish.

She Dreaded Separation From Her Old Chum and Schoolmate

AND KILLED HERSELF WHEN SHE COULD NOT AVERT THE BLOW.

Lulu Sanders Transferred Her Affections to John Meeks, Whose Wife She Became-Remarkable Letters Exchanged by the Girls-Kate Warnel Her Against Marriage and Told Her of Her Inten tion to Kill Herself.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 7 .- Last Sunday evening Miss Katle Tipton, a pretty daughter of one of the most respected families of Alta-mont, the county seat of Grundy County, Tenn., sent a bullet crashing through her breast above the heart. She died Wednesday morning. He love for her chum and schoolmate, Miss Lulu Sanders, who married two weeks before, led to the fatal tragedy. On Sunday, April 17, Miss Sanders was married to Mr. J. D. Meeks and since their marriage Mrs. Meeks has been living with her aunt, Mrs. N. L. Sanders, next door to Miss Tipton, while her husband worked at Tracy City. Although the two now lived within forty feet of each other, their love was boundless, and was noticed by everyone. Miss Tipton would spend the morning with Mrs. Meeks and go home and write her a long, loving letter. Mrs. Meeks came to the Tipton house in the evening and would return to write her "Dear Kate" a love letter. Sometimes each would write a half dozen letters every day.

Tuesday before the suicide Mr. Meeks announced his intention of moving his wife from Altamont to Tracy City. Miss Tipton heard this and wept constantly the whole of married to Mr. J. D. Meeks following:

MYDARLING, DEAREST, SWEET KATE—My life is forever darkened. I do not care to live any longer now. Oh, my love, is it true that you are going away? Oh, God! What can I do without you. Lulu, my own, my dearest? Why is Jack so cruel to take you away from me? Oh, if he only knew that it is my death. My precious, my sweet, don't go away and leave me here. It is you or death.

Dear Lulu, I have been thinking about it all, and I shall kill myself. You belong to another and I want to die. It is the best thing I could do and it will end it all. Farewell, sweetheart Lulu! When I am dead think of me sometimes and be happy. Farewell.

KATE.

It seems that a few days after Mrs. Meeks ad decided to move away the mother o had decided to move away the mother of Miss Tipton found two letters to her daugh-ter from the married woman, and ordered Kate to stay away from Mrs. Meeks' house and sent word to Mrs. Meeks to keep away from Kate. The night before the suicide the two were found standing with arms locked about each other in close embrace back of the Meeks residence. Miss Tipton's mother erated the two soundly and threatened to confine her daughter in her room if she ever ught her with Mrs. Meeks again.

Just before the marriage of Miss Sanders, her friend, Miss Tipton, wrote her a letter which is full of loving, tender phrases. It is as follows:

Darling, Dearest Lulu-Why do you treat me this way? You have me to love, my own, and I will surely die if you do this thing. Jack is a nice man, but he would give you up if he knew I loved you. Oh, my ownest, dearest sweetheart, do not let this come between us. Tell him that you love me and me only, and let us live for each other. Oh, my heart tortures me with anguish when I think of what you are going to do.

We could be so happy, just as we were at school. Do you remember those sweet days, my own? Oh, God! if we could live them all over again. You were my sweetheart then and I loved you so, but you will belong to another now, and my life will be a blank. It is so horrible to think that I must die of a broken heart now. I thought there was no such thing, as heart now. I thought there was no such thing as a broken heart once, but I sm suffering now. I shall come to you to-morrow, my love, and I shall tell you, as I have done so many times before, how sweet you are to me and how I love you. Think of what I have said. Until to-morrow, my own.

A RAVING M ANIAC.

Chicago Lineman Driven Insane by Electric Shock.

CHICAGO, May 7 .- A case without parallel t least in the medical records of this city, is that of James Grant, a lineman for the Chicago Telephone Co., who was driven insane by an electric shock while talking through a telephone in the branch office at Fortieth and Hospital a raving maniac, strapped down to a bed with two men guarding him. Grant is a bed with two men guarding him. Grant is 34 years old, and lives with his family at Fortieth and Lake streets. He is a large, robust man and has been in the employ of the company for some time in the capacity of lineman and was a thoroughly competent workman. No mistakes have ever occurred with his work, and the remarkable accident which has befallen him cannot be accounted for. Monday afternoon there was a severe electrical storm and many of the wires were cut out. Grant, among others, was sent out to repair them, and he had stepped into the branch office to communicate with headquarters when he received the shock of electricity that rendered his mind a blank. He was waiting for an answer at the telephone when a bolt of lightning flashed near by, and Grant fell unconscious to the floor. Several of the spectators ran to his assistance and he was picked up unconscious and taken to his home across the street. Several physicians were called, but they could do nothing for him.

In a few hours he regained his consciousness, but when he did he was a raving maniac. His strength was superhuman, and none of the attendants in the house could control him. He bit and snapped and kept crying—"Hello, hello, ring off," until help arrived and quieted him. He grew steadily worse until yesterday it was thought best to remove him to the Detention Hospital. Five strong men carried him into the ward, and it required five more to hold and strap him down. Later in the afternoon he became more quiet and fell into a slumber. Insanity through an electric shock is something that has never before occurred in this city, and the physicians are unable to account for it. The shock was no doubt communicated to the head by means of the hearing tube coming in direct contact through the ear with the brain. 34 years old, and lives with his family at For

This change was announced in the convention of the Northern Oratorical League delegates held this morning at 10 o'clock in the Avenue Holks. The Executive Committee of the League reported that the judges, Solomon Thatcher, Prof. W. E. Dogart and Dr. J. Sturtevant, requested this morning to look over their markings and upon doing so Dr. Sturtevant ascertained that the figure 6 in the mark 65 for Mr. Pyre had been mistaken for an 8, which so changed the total result that Mr. Pyre was thrown out of first prize, and Mr. Mason put in. The Wisconsin delegation claimed that the decision last night was official and questioned the power of the Executive Committee or the convention to accept any other decision. After a warm discussion the convention finally decided to accept the final report of the Judges and the Executive Committee, which gives first place to Northwestern and second to Wisconsin. Mr. Mason, the first prize man, spoke on the battle of Gettysburg, which, though not ranking as high as Mr. Pyre's oration in thought and composition, excelled in delivery. the University of Michigan. OMAHA, Neb., May 7.—Bishop Fowler of San Francisco presided at the Methodist Conference. Amos Shinkle was put on the visals. Dr. Ott of the West German conference moved that every resolution and every memorial be printed in the Daily Ad-Secretary Monroe stated that the memorials and resolutions had been coming to him in such a shape that no living man could tell whether they were resolutions, emorials or what not; some of them were not signed, had not the name of a conferen on them. He thought delegates should learn how to write resolutions and memorials in such a manner that they could be read. Dr. Buckley of New York said that his con had received a document on sacred eloquence that had been referred to his committee; he believed it should be referred to the bishop personally. [Laughter.] It was referred to the Committee on Education. Bishop Taylor of Africa then came forward. He said the evangelization of Africa was a stupendous work. A part of the Continent of try in its present state. The best time to begin the education of the head and hand, which must be carried forward simultaneously in Africa, was in youth. It would not do to wait until the heathen had grown up in ignorance and sin. "Day unto day and night unto night," said the speaker, "the work should go on. God's school has no vacation; it is continuous."

The galleries were filled to overflowing during the delivery of Bishop Taylor's address. The Bishops nominated the Judiciary Committee as follows: John Myley, New York; W. P. Dillingham, Vermont; J. THE POPE AND THE SCHOOLS.

New York, May 7 .- Archbishop Corrigan received yesterday a cable dispatch from Rome saying: "Faribault system con-demned. Special cases tolerated." This means that the cause which Archbishop Ireland championed, and whose advancement was one of the objects of his journey to Rome, is put under ban by the Pope. The Rome, is put under ban by the Pope. The Archbishop returned from Albany to day. He was seen last evening by a reporter. The authenticity of the cable concerning the Faribault system is placed beyond doubt by the Archbishop. He received it himself from Rome. He was pleased at its contents, and he said so, for His Grace is an unfiliching supporter of the parochial schools.

'It is true,' said the Archbishop, "that I have received a cable from Rome placing it beyond the possibility of a doubt that what is known as the Faribault system has been censured by the Pope. The cable reads: 'Faribault system condemned; special cases tolerated.'" cault system condemned; special cases tol-erated."

"Now, of course, to know what 'special cases tolerated' fully means we must wait until we get official documents from Rome dealing with the whole matter. There are undoubtedly circumstances existing in par-ticular Catholic districts which, in the judg-ment of the Catholic celesiastical authorities, exercising jurisdiction over such districts, may warrant an arrangement with the local school authorities somewhat similar to that in force at Faribault."

GIVEN THE HOLY ROSE.

ROME, May 7.—It is announced that the Holy Rose, which the Pope bestows every year upon some Roman Catholic princess "for virtue," fell this year to the Queen of Portugal. The estimated value of the jewel is 50,000 francs. The stem of the rose is of solid gold and measures 1 meter 60 centimeters. The cup of the flower is of the most delicate workmanship, and is set with magnificant precious stones. The leaves are similarly set with small gens in

MADDEN NOT TO BLAME.

An Official Report on the "Big Head

Willie" Assault Chief Harrigan had an investigation made yesterday of the charge that Officer Madden had used his club on Wm. Monroe, the colored bootblack and newsboy, called "Big Head Willie" on account of the enormous size of his head. Capt. Young made the gation and submitted his report last night. The Captain says in his report:

The Captain says in his report:

The Chief intended to suspend Officer Madden if the investigation showed that he used his club on the boy, but he is now satisfied that the charge made against the officer was entirely without foundation.

A Missing Bride.

John Macker, who lives on Main and Dorcas streets, reported to the police yesterday afternoon that his wife left home last Thursday and that he hasn't seen or heard from or of her since. He met her for the first time in his life only about ten weeks ago. He fell in love with her at once and in less than a month, on March 25, they were married. They lived happily together, he says, until last Thursday afternoon when she left home without any apparent cause and falled to return. He went to see his father-in law, he says, in regard to her disappearance and he consoled him with the statement that she would probably return in a few days. She was a little flighty at times and wandered off for a day or two when she got one of her spells. Mrs. Johanna Macher is only 18 years old and is described as being 5 feet and 8 inches high, heavy set and of dark complexion with dark hair, brown eyes, faise upper teeth, and when she left home she wore a gray dress and black hat and had a black silk handkerchief around her neck. of her since. Plans for a "Beauty Spot" on the Boulevard.

A MOVEMENT IN WHICH THERE IS COM-MENDABLE PUBLIC SPIRIT.

The Block at the Intersection of Lindell and Page Avenues to Be Dedicated for Park Furposes and to Be Handsomely Adorned - Those Who Are Favoring

St. Louis is to have another park with hady trees, meandering granitoid walks, a bubbling fountain, a flower-clad sward, an mposing statue and all the beauties of a balmy, cool retreat, City block 5036 is the present title of the proposed park. It is the trianglar shaped piece of the west, and by Lindell and McPherson avenues on the southeast and north sides. The lot has a frontage of 118 feet on Vandeventer venue, and tapers off in a point, 433 feet eas of Vandeventer avenue where McPherson and of Vandeventer avenue where McPherson and Lindell avenues join. At the psesent time McPherson avenue is but an ill-defined thoroughfare at the spot in question. The ground mentioned is utterly unfit for manisons such as abound in the neighborhood and the owners as well as the neighbors do not desire anything else. For some time, therefore, the lot has been little more than a shapeless remnant with no tle more than a shapeless remnant with no apparent career of usefulness before it.

apparent career of usefulness before it.

MAJ. MURPHY'S SUGGESTION.

Maj. M. J. Murphy, the Street Commissioner, who has traveled extensively, and with an eye to what other cities did with their odds and ends of property, suggested the advisability of making a park or a site for a statue out of block No. 5036. Many cities of the East have adopted this plan. Washington has several of them along Pennsylvania avenue where that historic boulevard cuts off other highways. At the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and At the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and At the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Tenth street, in Washington, D. C., there is one of these little parks, containing a magnificent statue of Benjamin Franklin, the gift of Stilson Hutchins, formerly editor of the St. Louis Times. The four eminent attributes of the author of "Poor Richard's Almanac," printer, philosopher, philanthropist, patriot, are represented on the four sides of the base. The residents of Lindell and McPherson avenues did nothing to carry out Mai. Muravenues did nothing to carry out Mai. avenues did nothing to carry out Maj. Mur-phy's idea at the time. But he kept it in their minds, and now it is likely to have an early fulfillment. The property on which the park is to be formed belongs to Alvah Mansur and D. P. Slattery, two public-spirited citisens. Maj. Murphy has esti-mated the outside cost of the purchase and transformation of the block at $50,000.

Of this expense it is intended the the property owners on Lindell avenue, between King's highway and Channing avenue and on McPherson avenue, between King's highway and the union with Lindell avenue, will defray $30,000, the remainder will be paid by the city.

A petition to widen Lindell and McPherson avenues, by the annihilation of the block, dated Feb. 23, was laid before the Board of Public Improvements and by that body referred to the Street Commissioner April 5. He reported favorably on the project, and the next step was to give the requisite fifteen days' notice of a public hearing before the board. The petition was numerously signed, but Mid. Murphy advised the promoters to secure a practically unanimous list of property owners' signatures to provide against a remonstrance.

cure a practically unanimous list of property owners' signatures to provide against a remonstrance.

The public hearing, which might have been set for next Tuesday, was deferred, and when the board meets Tuesday morning, a request will be made for a public hearing fifteen days from that time.

In the interval several other petitions have been issued and new signatures secured. After the Board of Public Improvements approves of the plan an ordinance condemning the lot will be introduced and hastened on a speedy passage. There is not much doubt that the board will sanction the petition. The request is made to widen the street, but the added breadth of thoroughfare will be beautified with trees, grass plots, a fountain and granitoid walks, so that it will be a park in every sense of the term. A statue will be an excellent addition, and there is no doubt that the same public spirit which underlies the petition will secure the erection of a fitting tribute to some grand St. Louisan or eminent American. MEETS WITH GENERAL APPROVAL.

The plan meets with general approval. The following property-nolders have signed the first petition now in Maj. Murphy's possession: Ester Collins, 835 feet on McPherson avenue, 1,82 feet 5 inches on Lindell avenue; Lindeli Gordon, trustee, 1631 feet 7 inches on McPherson avenue; L. L. The election for Presitook place last Monday, when Mrs. Philip Moore received almost a unanimous ote from the members. She is fully equipped for the position, being a lady of fine taste and education. A delegation will attend next week the confederation of clubs which meet in Chicago. Among them Miss Freeborn, Miss Hughes, Misses Fruchte and Moore. One of the latest treats provided by the Wednesday Club for its memrs was the lecture given last week by Mrs. Curwin of Cincinnati, who is now visiting her cousin, Mrs. Dr. Pollak. So charmed were the members with this gifted woman and the character of her "talk," that she was invited to remain over and give another was invited to remain over and give another of her lectures. This she consented to do, and last night, at their club rooms, entertined them with a very interesting paper ith Mrs. Siddons for the subject.

the latter position were better social position and more opportunity for advancement. In her lecture on the hisporic aspects, Prof. Salmon called attention to the causes that had sent to our shores the larger number of those who work in our kitchens. The famine in Ireland gave the first impetus to emigration from that country. The German revolution in 1838 and the treaty with China in 1848 sent many more to this country, a large number of whom were women. Attention was called to the difficulty of easily assimilating into the household those of different nationalities, religions, and social customs. The establishment of factories in this country afforded a new field for the employment of woman's labor and improved the condition of domestic servants by increasing the demand, and thus causing an increase in wages.

the demand, and thus causing an increase in wages.

Reform in domestic service must be accomplished along the general economic lines, as are reforms in other departments of labor. It must be the result of evolution from present conditions, not a special creation.

Training-schools have failed for lack of patronage; the unskilled servant finding that she could command as high wages as many who were more competent. Co-operative housekeeping is merely co-operative boarding, and had not proved a success. Co-operative laundries would do much to clear the domestic skies by taking the most disagreeable work out of the house and making one girl sufficient in families where two are now employed.

even of congeniality in their union, the drifting apart of the husband and wife thus mated is by no means a surprising result.

The intervention of the church produces in France complications, or rather peculiarities, unknown on the other side of the Atlantic. A Catholic pair may, if not joined by any religious ceremony but by the civil one, merely bind themselves fully sanctioned in a second union after divorce by the religious authorities. A case in point has just taken place in Parls. A young society beauty sued her spouse for a divorce and obtained it. The husband, being a free-thinker, had objected to supplementing the civil ceremony by a religious one and his bride had consented to the omission. Under those circumstances the Catholic Church refused to consider them as married at all. Consequently, when the divorced wife wished to marry again, she found all the ecclesiastical authorities ready and willing to bless her second nuptials, so she is even "more married" than she was at first. INFREQUENT DISPENSATIONS.

It is possible for wealthy people to obtain a dispensation from Rome for the annulling of their matrimonial ties. But the process is a costly one, reqiring the expenditure of some $20,000. It is also very tedious. There is a host of formalities to be fulfilled, and a series of investigations and counter investigations which takes up an intolerable degree of time and which eat up a large amount of money. The influence of some powerful intervention will frequently hasten it. Such was the case with the decree that annulled the union of Prince Albert of Morocco and Lady Mary Hamilton, both parties having since married again. Such too was the process by which the Princess de Scey-Montpellard (Miss Winnaretta Singer) obtained her freedom. Such a decree amounts to something more than an ordinary divorce, being a total annihilation of the marriage. This costly and complicated method of dealing with obnoxious matrimonial ties has existed from time immemorial, but as it was only within the reach of royalty is living, in consequence, in a state of mortal sin.

Marquise De Perigord's Divorce. The most prominent divorce case that ever set free the American wife of a French husband was the one that some years ago parted the Marquise de Talleyrand Perigord (formerly Miss Bessie Curtis of New York) from the gentleman now known as the Duke de Dino, who took to himself as a second wife the divorced spouse of Mr. Frederick Stevens of New York. This case was rather noteworthy from the series of petty persecutions inflicted upon the wife to induce her to enter proceedings for the divorce, all the fill-doing being on the side of the husband. The daughter and only child of the palms.

A HUSBAND'S ERROR.

A comical state of affairs has just been made manifest in a recent Paris divorce case. The parties were both French, and the marriage had been contracted under the happiest auspices. But the young husband obtained not long ago conclusive proofs of his wife's infidelity, and forthwith brought suit against her for divorce. The case has just been concluded, but with the husband and not his erring spouse set forth as the guilty party. It seems that after he had instituted legal proceedings against his wife, he became acquainted with a young and pretty widow, who so fascinated him that he determined upon marrying her as soon as he was released from his first matrimonial bonds. In the course of his wooing he went one evening to call upon his betrothed, who (very incautiously under the circumstances), received him alone in her tasteful drawing-room. The wife had him shadowed by detectives, and no sooner did he arrive to pay his visit than in walked the Commissaire of Police, and horrified the unlucky little widow by informing her that the gentleman ought not to be received by any dame or damsel unchaperoned. So that simple and pefectly harmless incident effectually turned the tables on the husband, and it is his very naughty wife, and not his blameless self, that has secured the divorce.

Dainty Desserts.

Written for the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH. SPANISH CREAM .- Separate the whites and yolks of four eggs and with the yolks make a boiled custard, adding a pint of milk, and atine to soak in a little cold water for a few atine to soak in a little cold water for a few minutes; then dissolve it in three fourths of a cup of boiling water. When the custard has cooled add the gelatine water and the whites of the eggs well beaten; flavor with vanilia, stir all together and put into molds. A pretty effect can be obtained by using Cole's pink gelatine.

TAPIOCA CREAM.—Soak three tablespoons of tapioca in cold water over night. Boil one pint of milk and then add the tapioca and let it cook three-quarters of an hour; add the yolks of two eggs and half a cup of sugar. When thoroughly cooked and creamy remove from the stove and add a teaspoon of vanilia. Pour in a glass dish te serve. Beat the two whites stiff and add to them half a pint of whipped cream; sweeten and flavor. Pour this over the tapioca cream.

CHOCOLATE BAYARIAN CREAM.—Soak half a box of gelatine in cold water half an hour. Boil a pint of milk, add the gelatine, two counces of grated chocolate and stir until dissolved then add half a cup of sugar and a teaspoonful of vanilia. WOMAN'S WORK.

LEADERS IN THE FIELD OF WOMAN'S LABOR TO VISIT ST. LOUIS.

There is a lady who has carried her nam into almost every household in the United States by the works of her pen. Everybody reads her writings every lady praises it and everybody humbly confesses that the senti ments expressed have done them good.

The accomplished author is Mrs.

Margaret Bottome, President of the Order of the King's Daughters. Her style is simple and pithy, but orna-mented with attractive trinkets of language. She preaches a monthly sermon in a very unsermonlike manner. Perhaps the best tribute to the excellence of her lectures is the persistency of men to read them, despite injunctions to the contrary.

On the morning of Jan. 18, 1886, a company of ten women met at the residence of Mrs. Bottome, in New York City, for the purpose of forming "An outward union to embody the union of spirit already born of God." In the language of Mrs. Mary Lowe Dickinson, so well known through verses from her gifted pen and her connection with the "Shut In" ond other societies: "After consideration of the good to be gained, and the good to be done by binding themselves together by a triple cord, whose strands were Faith, Hope and Love, they decided to organize themselves into an order, or sisterhood of service, hopping by this closer union to increase their usefulness many fold." The name chosen for the new order was "The King's Daughters." The badge decided upon was a ribbon of royal purple, to be worn with or without the Maltese cross. At this first meeting Mrs. Bottome was elected President, and Mrs. Dickinson Vice-President, and they still retain these respective positions in the larger order of the King's Daughters and Sons. The growth of the new society was marvelous. Within a year its members numbered more than sixty thousand, although no effort was made to advertise the order or its work. Never was less said by the originators of any work. Yet from almost every State of the Union, and from over the sea, come the questions as to the significance of the new order, and asking of its methods and purposes and hopes, until to-day certainly not less than 50,000 Sons. and Daughters of the Ring are pledged to service. "In His name." There is nothing aggressive in the order; it wages no warrare save with sorrow or suffering. Its innermost thought is "to move silently and steadily upon human hearts, doing its blossed work with no heraid and no plaudit."

The order was duly incorporated, and with "in His Name" as the watchword, the organization has gone forward in its work.

There are in Missouri about twenty circles comprising 600 members. Mrs. Bottome, the Presi

"We ladies would like to beg of individuals when they see cases of cruelty and suffering, as a common act of humanity, to notify the society that suffering may be allayed and society that suffering may be allayed and justice done.

It seems almost incredible, yet it is a sorrowful fact, that in these days of civilzation, a horse after long and faithful service should be turned out to die; and pass through the trouble ordeal of starvation right under the eyes of hundreds of passers by. Yet such was the case last week at sullivan and Elliot avenues, in plain view of the Mound City electric cars, opposite a tannery and other places of active industry, where pedestrians pass hourly and the police are supposed to patrol. The animal was cast out, unable to rise through weakness, and lay for days in untold tortures from gnats and flies until thirst and starvation brought the pitiful life to a close. The horse had struggled to rise until the ground was torn up many feet about it. Finally a gentieman, a chance passer-by, saw it and notified the ladies. An officer was sent immediately, but the horse was dead. Will not individuals please remember there is a remedy for all this, a society to look after such things; that the ladies have an officer who will respond to the call when needed; that their office is 814 Chestnut street and their telephone 859."

The regular meeting of the Woman's Humane Society will be held at the Lindell as usual to morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

At last Monday's meeting Mmss. David Bailey, E. O. Sterling, B. Morle, M. Goettler and Mrs. Dr. O'Relly were enrolled as members. A local publishing company made a proposition to issue a paper in the interest of humane work, under the auspices of the Woman's Humane Society. After a thorough discussion the offer was rejected.

The annual festival of the Memorial Home, Grand and Magnolia avenues, will be given on the grounds May 27, from noon until 10 p. m. There will be fancy tables and tables for useful articles, home-made cake tables, refreshment and flower depot. The gentlemen are expected to come for tea in the evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. Six parties of young people have been already organized and many others are in prospect.

The Reception Committee consists of Mrs. John O'Fallon, Miss Helen Budd, Mrs. James B. Green, Mrs. L. B. Monks, Mrs. W. B. Anderson, Mrs. D. R. Powell, Mrs. F. O. Sawyer, Mrs. G. F. Tower, Mrs. E. C. Sterling and Mrs. B. L., Hammer. There are also sub-committees to take care of all the tables at the festival.

The Young Women's Christian Association held its regular monthly meeting at its new home, 1728 Washington avenue last Friday evening. New classes were formed in music, fressmaking and plain sewing.

It is now settled that the first convention of the Executive Committee of the International Board of Woman's Christian Associations, which is to be held in Louisville, Ky., will open May 31. m. There will be fancy tables and tables for

are contemplating a movement in the direction of girls in shops and stores who have little opportunity for exercise. Many of these, also, are poorly informed on the subject of physical culture, and do not know how to get the best results from their efforts in that direction. A class for such is contemplated, meeting, perhaps, on Saturday afternoon when the "haifholiday" is in full blast. A lady of the club who has the matter very much at heart has been conversing among the girls and finds the idea quite a taking one.

This club meets every Wednesday afternoon at the Guild room of the Church of the tecture in the West. The work of furnishing both funds and ideas for the interior decorations has been undertaken by the ladies of the Alumni Association. In order to raise the necessary funds a grand concert will be given in Grand Music Hall on June 6. The management of the concert has been placed in the hands of Miss Clara Jones and she has already secured the best musical talent in the city for the event. With the assistance of her sister alumni she intends making the concert one of the most successful and enjoyable of the season.

It is made of percale, with starched collar and culfs and a loose-fitting dotted Swiss front. In pink and blue these shirts are decidedly fetching. The starched linen waists, with the front a mass of tiny tucks, are also very popular. Each tuck is embroidered with feather stitching and varicolored waists of pink, blue and ecru have the stifiness broken by a frill of the material down the front.

A dainty gown for a debutante is of white India crepe. The skirt may be made with a demi-train. A deep ruchinglof white ribbon, embroidered in silver, trims the bottom of the skirt. The waist is a round baby waist, made of fine India crepe, shirred. The sleeves are large and full banded with silver cord. Silver slippers should be worn with this costume and white gloves embroidered with silver tinsel.

There is a certain dignity about a teagown which no other costume can claim. The chatelaime teagown is a graceful robe, unusually becoming to a tail, stately woman. Its foundation has a princess effect, and then there is a loose over-drapery. The tea-gown represented in the cut is a creation of black brocaded silk, with a conventional design in gilt. It is a princess gown, fastened invisibly at the side. The loose fronts are of correction to be a sight visible of the gown. Its high collar forms a sight V-shaped opening in front, which is filled in with gilt insertions. The collar it-self is of fine lace embroidered with gilt thread, and the deep cuffs are of the same. The full sleeves are of the brocaded silk, and are high on the shoulder. The chatelaine tea-gown is elaborate enough to betworn outside of my lady's boudoir. It is a suitable costume for an afternoon at home.

JUDGING SISTER WOMEN.

Is the Sex Less Merciful Than It Should Be to Its Own?

A writer in the Housewife says that the oft repeated assertion that "women are hard upon each other" is almost without founda-tion. There are two classes of women who tion. There are two classes of women who are prone to be severe in their judgments of their sisters. To the first belong those who, owing in part, perhaps, to temperament and in part to force of environment, have never come face to face with a genuine temptation, and hence and it impossible to understand how another can be tempted. To the second class belong those who, goaded by a consciousness of their own shortcomings, are always on the alert to detect in others evidence of similar weaknesses. But while representatives of these two classes are to be found in every community and in every grade of social life, they are, happily, in the minority. The world, thank God. is full of true women, tender, pitzing, mother hearted women, who are always mindful of the sisterhood of women and who at all times stand ready to rebuke the slanderer, to plead the cause of the oppressed and to urge gentleness and forbearance toward the weak and erring. Never in the world's history have the relations between women been so cordhi and beneficent as now. The long crusade in behalf of "woman's rights." though not yet a success so far as the ballot is concerned, has steadily, year by year, been drawing woman into a better understanding of

FASHIONS IN PARIS.

French City.

Paris, April 27.—The proud reign of the shirt waist has begun. The spring girl has adopted it as her own. It is flaunted in the windows, on the boulevards, in the gardens, in the house, and to do it justice it is always chic and refreshing to look upon. Some women will be grad to know that it is less the stifiness broken by a frill of the material down the front.

Flowered lawns make the daintiest things of the kind, Silk shirts, white and colored, will be as much worn as they were last year. The accessories of the shirt waist are legion. In the first place, the diamond-shaped cuff must be worn. These come in stiff linen, with dots of various colors. The turn-down collar is most in favor, and large, soft silk bows form the tie. The stude should be flowered to match the waist pattern and the silk sush has wholly taken the place of its leather cousin. It differs also from the Gordon belt of last year, being wider, laid in heavier folds and finishing with a bow on the side.

don belt of last year, being wider, laid in heavier folds and finishing with a bow on the side.

During Lent the fashionable glove reformed and appeared only in the soft, subdued shades. But since Easter gloves have grown frivolously gay. Scarlet suede gloves are seen, and as if this were not enough the eye is dazzled by a gold embroidered cuff. Light pink gauntlets with jeweled cuffs, yellow gloves with a cuff of solid jet, light blue with silver butterflies embroidered upon them are among the mildest fads in this line.

The plain sleeve is no more. Even the morning sleeve has some odd little wrinkle to give it a dressy effect. The morning sleeve shown in the cut is of tan-colored tweed, which wrinkles from the shoulder to the elbow. The deep cuff is buttoned with gilt buttons and ornaments with narrow rows of gilt cord. The demi-toilette sleeve is a creation of violet chiffon. At the top is an introduction of dark purple velvet and velvet bands have been put where they will do the most good.

The evening sleeve is of white lace, outlined with sparkling jet, arranged in a loose puff and edged at the elbow with a band of black velvet. Narrow black velvet ribbon is draped about the top of the sleeve and forms a jaunty bow.

Since the fur boa has been compelled to seek refuge on the shell the liberty scarf has come into existence. These scarfs are of soft silks in all the changeable shades and are wound round the throat in a most effective manner.

The French hats grow more and more artistic. The swellest thing seen recently is a fat little hat, the brim frame of which is

ANOTHER BIG DAY.

Six Thousand People at the Fair Grounds Track.

SEVERAL GOOD EVENTS BUN IN VERY FAIR STYLE.

Some of the Winners Were Not Those Expected - Plenty of Money Was Thrown Around Among the Bookmakers and but Little Ever Came Back -How They Resulted.

The Fair Grounds swarmed with about 6,000 events that has yet been put up at the track. the track a trifle heavy, but the betting, like the track, was what might be considered very heavy.

The purse races did not excite much inter est until the crowd began to arrive and the third race was reached, then the excitement was very perceptibly increased and the betwas very perceptibly increased and the betting began in real earnest. It is safe to say that more money was bet on the horses today than has been played for some time past in St. Louis, The first race went about as it was expected to do and the favorite came in all right. In the second the second choice won the 2-year-old scramble and beat The King, who was the strongest favorite.

The third race, a six and a half furlong selling race, with a great many of the horses selling race, with a great many of the horses in it now better known to the betters and local race goers, was played every which way, and a great many of those who still play a horse because they like its name had plenty to think about. Mean Enough was a favorite and was expected to win, but he did not and the race was what is sometimes called a

The fourth race was a five and a half furlong race, selling, with several well-liked horses in it, and again it did not go as it was morses in it, and again it did not go as it was wanted to and some more trouble resulted. The fifth race went astray and did not seem to suit the talent exactly, but a second choice won. The only trouble was that the favorites did not line up right after the secand choice. The last race was the first mile ond choice. The last race was the first limit race run on the track and can be considered a success, as none of the horses were left and all made the running very well. An attempt will be made now to run one of these races every day and it will probably form a very attractive feature of the races.

FIRST BACE.
The first race started badly and ended in a The first race started badly and ended in a manner which was largely explained by the careless mode of starting. At the post the favorite, St. Leo, was the last horse and Eurt Jordan, a medium favorite, got off well in the lashwhich piece he held until well into the stretch. Nathan Frank took second place at the start but could not hold it, and got nothing better than fifth place at the finish. Picadlily was up second at the quarter, but that ended him and Trixey Gardner, who started third and was second at the half and stretch, came very near getting the race. She laid down, however, before the finish and only got fourth. Burt Jordan whipped to second place. St. Leo won handly by half a length, with Burt Burt Jordan whipped to second place. St. Leo won handily by half a length, with Burt Jordan four lengths ahead of Al Orth, a horse placed pretty strongly, but who was killed off by the start. It was, however, a favorite rac, and did n of result in much disappointment except to those who felt Nathan Frank ought to win and played him at 4 to 1 and Al Orth backers at the same price. REBUILDING SOUTH SIDE. The work of rebuilding south side Park progressed rapidly during the fine weather of the past week. All the heavy beaming for the new grand stand is now completed, and the other work on it will be commenced tomorrow. The work of grading the new track is nearly completed several applications have is nearly completed several applications have been made during the week for stable room at South Side. Speaking of the track Fresident Adler yesterday said: "We are now busy refitting the park, and teamsters, carpenters and laborers are in possession of the place. As soon as they have finished their work the horsemen will be welcomed, and we will treat all comers alike, in so far as giving out the stables is concerned. We will not, however, be able to accommodate any horses until after June 1. On and after that date all will be welcome. We expect to start the night racing about June 1, and our regular summer meeting will be commenced on Saturday, June 25, when we will give six races each day and liberal purses. When completed South Side Park will be the best located race track in America. Parties leaving anywhere in the vicinity of the Court-house can reach the grounds in ten minutes and the Pine street electric line will run cars from sixth and Pine streets to Missouri avenue in that time. From the corner of Missouri and Geyer avenues where the cars pass it is just a single block to the park and after reaching it instead of having to walk all the way around the track as before the pedestrians will walk right into the grand stand. The bookmakers will be located directly in under the grand stand, the same plan as that carried out at Garfield Park."

The new starter will arrive a week from the same plan as that carried out at Garneld Park."

IN A WEEK.

The new starter will arrive a week from to-morrow and take charge of affairs, and that is expected to make some very considerable difference in the results, as now it is hard to tell how the nags get away and they are somewhat unruly in their conduct. Starter Caldwell will, however, hold them down very closely and see that they do as they should.

Capt. Bellairs has been experimenting with the mile race on a spring season term to try how it works. With none of the regular mile horses here it is rather hard to get enough to start at the distance for a $500 handicap purse. It will be tried, however, and will be worked every day if it succeeds, if not it will be abandoned when no entries can be had and only run when there are enough.

At noon within the market-place he stood, The people gathered round him at his word, And there he spake to them of what was good, Waking the better thought of all that heard.

Of Love and Faith and Hope—the great Triune
That uplifts Life—he spake as one inspired
And as he taught, all hearts seemed in attune,
All hearts with nobler, higher aims were fired.

But one, whom Doubt still held, returned to ask A question that the Teacher might explain; He found the good man, and forgot his task In seeking to relieve the mortal pain.

Warmed, fed and sheltered, then the Doubter said "Dost thou teach truly, and yet find thy lot Is misery?" The Teacher raised his head, "In doing good, Self ever is forgot."

WEEK OF NUMEROUS SALES CLOSED WITH THREE BIG AUCTIONS.

ing-North St. Louis Acre Plots and

The real estate market of last week opened with a brisk inquiry for residence property which continued and closed with three auctions, two of them being quite large sales and each of them successful in point of attendance and fairly satisfactory as thoroughly well posted on values, it is not ders much beyond regular quotations, and n St. Louis real estate. Fictitious price cannot be obtained to any degree in this city where the value of property is determined pretty nearly with as much accuracy as is the value of the most staple articles of comnerce. Location with a view to residence, nanufacturing, business, or tenement house purposes is taken into consideration, and remote or near proximity to rapid transit lines, the character of public and private building improvements are all weighed in the balance to determine what property offered for sale is actually and prospectively worth. This is done with such unvarying accuracy that purchasers of St. Louis realty can go into the local money market and borrow from one-half to 75 per cent of what they paid for their property, giving it as security, and in many cases where extra good bargains have been made the buyers are known to have negotiated loans on the realty for all that it cost them. The remarkable condition of the realty an i financial market of St. Louis follows from the extremely conservativ values placed upon property, and that s the investors' safe guard. GRAND AVENUE AUCTION.

Prices were surely low enough yesterday afternoon at Hammett-Anderson-Wade's auction on Grand avenue, Forest Park boulevard and Lindell Park Park boulevard and Lindell avenue. All this was very good property for business and residence purposes, and it would appear that the commanding position of this realty in the progressive western section of the city should have made it bring better figures, nevertheless the grantors are satisfied with the profit they have made and the security the buyers have for their investment is good as money in bank. The sale, cried by Lanham & Sutton, was largely and well attended, the crowd upon the ground being estimated at nearly three hundred persons. In all 1,827 feet, all the ground advertised, was sold, at an aggregate of $128,827.85.

Following are the details of the sale: Grand avenue frontage—Southwest corner f Laclede, 85x120 feet, being lot No. 7, at $226 a foot to Henry C. Scott. Lot No. 1 at the northwest corner of Forest Park boulevard, being 50 feet front like all the others on Grand avenue, at $105 to W. P. The school property auction.

The auction of Public School property, known as Evers' Stove Manufactory, fronting 260 feet on Second street and 135 on Hempstead; running through the block to Labeaum, conducted oy Charles H. Gleason & Co., yesterday afternoon, was well attended by people of that immediate vicinity, there being at least forty persons present who were bidding or interested in the sale of the property. The ground on which the factory is built was leased from the School Board by the present occupants of the premises thirty years ago, the term of the lease having yet eight years to run. This ampediment to immediate possession was somewhat of a barrier to getting the highest price for the realty, but, however, it was sold at a figure which it is believed the School Board will approve of. Lanham & Sutton did the auctioneering. The property was offered by the front foot on Second street, and after considerable rivalry and a good deal of brisk competition between the bidders C. C. Crone was declared the purchaser at $225 a foot, the total consideration being $58,500.

DUNDEE PLACE AUCTION.

The auction of Dundee place lots yesterday afternoon was conducted by Charles H. Gleason & Co., Chas. F. Vogel and S. F. & T. A. Scott. At this sale Alex A. Selkirk did the nuctioneering. There were nearly two hundred people present, if not more, and a great many of them bought at prices ranging from $3 to $7 a foot higher than lots in this same subdivision sold for at auction last June. Since then there have been fifteen or more good dwellings erected upon the Dundee subdivision and these improvements have attracted the attention of people to the desirability of the locality for residence purposes. The demand and prices paid for the lots yesterday afternoon is a practical evidence of the growing appreciation of South St. Louis property especially that section of poses. THE WRONG PASS.

Troubles and Humors of the Free Pass System, by Dr. Depew. From the New York Press.

"Few people outside of raflway circles have any conception of the nuisance the demand for free passes is to railroad officials and to what extent the privilege is abused when granted," said the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew the other day. "The Interstate Commerce law aimed a blow at the free pass system, but

Of course, these passes are not transferable, that fact being plainly stated in bold type upon both the back and face of each one, but what earthly difference does that make?

"Only yesterday an old, experienced conductor told me some amusing anecdotes in connection with this practice of selling and loaning railroad passes. On one occasion an elegantly dressed lady and gentleman, evidently a married pair, tendered him a pass made out to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dewhurst, but the gentleman had a large gold W. on each of his cuff buttons, and the lady had the same initial in silver on her satchel. From the look of calm assurance on their faces he knew it would be useless to raise any objection to this glaring incongruity, for he had no doubt that they would both have made affidavit if necessary that W. stood for Dewhurst.

"At another time he was handed a pass by a tall, raw boned, down East Yankee, accompanied by a short, fat German, who could not have been more than eight or ten years his junior at most, and who was gifted with a singularly rich Teutonic accent, which contrasted in a most amusing manner with the peculiar nasal twang of the down Easter. The pass was made out to 'Patrick McGuinness and son."

"Are you Patrick McGuinness?"

"Yat you do not seem to be an Irishman?"

"Ye see, the head of our family come over in the Mayflower, an' I calkilate the Irish is pretty well out of us by this time."

"Is this person your son?" asked the conductor, indicating the German.

"Wal, I guess he be,"

"How is it that he has such a strong German accent!"

PRISON TO GRAVE.

Patrick O'Sullivan's Body Taken to Wisconsin for Burial

FRIENDS OF THE CONVICT VIEW THE CORPSE AT CHICAGO.

There Was No Trickery, the Coffin Contained the Remains of the Dead Iceman, One of the Cronin Conspirators-He Made No Confession, But Died With Sealed Lips.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 7.-The body of Patrick O'Sullivan, the Cronin convict, was to-day taken to Monroe, Wis., the old home, for the bearing the body and immediate friends of the dead man, pulled out of the Union Depot. Its schedule time was 1:15, but a few minutes' delay occurred at the depot, an hour before a dozen carriages and a hearse drove up to the humble dwelling of Mrs. Whalen, 5 Bosworth avenue, Lakeview, where O'Sullivan made his home before the murder of Dr.

hael Whalen and five of his friends the convict's protestation of innocence were laid on the coffin. That was all. There was

In the rear of the little house stood the Carlson cottage just as it looked three years are when Dr. Cronin drew his last breath within its doors. Everything combined to make the removal of the dead a sad and sorrowful sight, the absence of all ceremony added to the solemnity of the proceedings, and it was truly a grief-stricken party of friends that followed the body to the depot. Henry and Annie O'Sullivan, brother and sister of the sed, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whalen and Michael Whalen, accompanied by a few intimate friends, went with the body to

Of the instnuation that the body in the casket was not that of the convicted mur-derer, Mrs. Whalen simply said: "I would to God it was so; but you know him. Look for yourself." There could be no mistake, the haggard features of the dead were unmistakably those of Patrick O'Sullivan, who sat throughout that famous trial before Judge McConnell and listened to the decree of the Court sending him to a life worse than

It was decided yesterday that anything approaching a public funeral would be improper, and the last ceremony will be private. Requiem mass will be celebrated in the country chapel where O'Suillvan attended church with his mother, after which the body will be entitly cheed in the growt comprove. will be quietly placed in the graye to-morrov

While the remains were lying in the parlor of Mrs. Whalen's home, hundred's of the iceman's old associates passed through the room to take a last look at the face they had become a life. Then they samples dead and stood known in life. Then they sauntered and stood about in groups on the sidewalk, talking over the fate of O'Sullivan, whose life sentence in the penitentiary was short after all. The Franciscan monk who attended O'Sul-livan and gave him absolution in the prison says he made no confession of the crime. The fate of Coughlan and Burke is settled by the death of O'Sullivan. The latter's anneal died death of O'Sullivan. The latter's appeal died

All sorts of rumors are afloat regarding the way the Clan-Na-Gael sealed O'Sullivan's dying lips. Lawyers, priests and physicians, said to be members of the Clan, were about the bedside of the dying man to prevent a confession.

confession. The superstitious will find plenty of material for a mission of proselytism in the death of Patrick O'sullivan. Since the conviction of O'sullivan, Coughlin and Burke two and a half years ago, and their sentence to life imprisonment at Joliet for the murder of Dr. Cronin, thirteen of the principals and witnesses in the great trial have passed away. Of these nine were actively identified with the defense and four were witnesses for the State. Of the nine anti-Croninites four met death in horrible

They were Peter sicGeehan, a Philadelphia iron worker, who came to Chieago on a mysterious errand just before the murder. Dr. Cronia met him on the street the last week in April, 1889, and charged him with being an emissary of the Cian-na Gael. McGeehan then dropped out of sight and was not seen again until after the murder. He then obtained employment at the South Chicago rolling mills, where he fell into a pit of hot iron and was so badly hurt that he died shortly afterward at the Cook County hospital.

iron and was so badly hurt that he died shortly afterward at the Cook County hospital.

Michael Gannan, a bartender at Dolan's Clan-na-Gael resort, and a man who was well posted on the murder, caught cold in attending the trial as a wilness for the defense. It developed into pneumonia and he choked to death in a coughing fit.

Edward Spelman, the wealthy Peoria brewer, furnished most of the money for the defense of the accused men and gave evidence on the trial which showed he was a bitter enemy of Dr. Cronin. He fell from a ladder in his brewery about a year ago and his head was nearly severed from his body.

Robert Gibbons, an alibi witness for Burke, was the "score-settler" of the clan. Police Capitaln Schuettler was active in hunting down the murderers and Gibbons had marked him for his first victim. He provoked Schuettler into a quarrel one night six months after the trial for the purpose of killing him, but Schuettler shot first and Gibbons died the next day. as died the next day.

Of the other Clan-na-Gael adherents, Luke Jordan and Frank Shea, both prominent in manufacturing evidence for the defense, died of pneumonia; Sullivan, another alibi-maker, died of consumption, and John F. Beggs, the Senior Warden of the Inner Circle of Camp 20 at the time Dr. Cronin's murder was decreed, died last month in this city of meningitis. Beggs was indicted with the others for the murder, but was acquitted.

The four witnesses for the State who have passed away are: Pat Dinan, the liveryman from whom the horse and buggy by which Ifr. Cronin was driven to his death was hired by Detective Dan Coughlin; Niemann, the owner of the saloon where O'Sullivan, Coughlin and Burke met on the night of the murder; the two McInerny girls who were patients of the two McInerny girls who were patients of Dr. Gronin and were in his office the night of the murder when the messenger from O'Sul-livan called for him. All of these died natural

Tom Desmond, a member of the clan, came on from California to advise and assist in the defense of the murderers. One night after the trial he fell on the sidewalk while going to a secret meeting of Camp 20, and sustained a fracture of the leg which has crippled him for life. Matt Danahey, another Camp 20 man who tried to help out the defense, failed in tusiness and is now a homeless wanderer. Pat Doian's saloon has not been prodiable since it became notorious as a meeting place for the plotters and Doian has lost his former jaunty and defiant air.

It is an equally strange fact that all of these men who have met violent deaths were closely watched during their last hours and none of them were attended by a priest.

STRONG EVIDENCE AGAINST O'SULLIVAN.

O'Sullivan's friends have always insisted that he was innocent of complicity in the nurder of Dr. Cronin, but the evidence was very strong against him. The murder took place on the night of May 4, 1899. O'Sullivan was an iceman and lived at Roscoe street and Illusworth avonue in Lake View. Near by his liouse was a small cottage owned by a Swede named Carison, who had another house in the rear of the lot. The cottage was for rent and on March 20, 1829, two men, one of whom was identified by Carison on the trial as Burke. rented the cottage and paid a month's rent in advance. They put some new furniture in the house, but did not cocupy it. Carison saw nothing more of them must appleious of them. He could not inderstand why they should pay rent for the cottage and yet not use it, and refused to let them nave it longer without reference. It was then that these men, one of whom it should be remembered was Burke, called in O'Sullivan, and the latter made his after-conviction eartain by saying: "I know these men, Carlson. They are all right." This satisfied the Swede and the men got the cottage.

men, Carison. They are all right." This satisfied the Swede and the men got the coltage.

A QUEER CONTRACT.

This incident was used against O'Sullivan on the trial with convincing effect. But he went further and blundered worse. Shortly after this O'Sullivan went to Justice Mahoney of Lake View and said he would like to meet Dr. Cronin. April 26 Mahoney introduced them to one another at a meeting of the Clanna-Gael, and the same night O'Sullivan made a contract with Cronin to attend his sick and injured workmen. As he never had over six men working for him the contract business was suspicious in itself, but it became more so when it was shown on the trial that while O'Sullivan lived away off in the northwestern part of the city, Dr. Cronin's office was in the down-town district, and that in case of accident it would be necessary to pass the homes of a dozen or more able surgeons before Cronin could be reached. Still another strong bit of evidence against O'Sullivan was the undended fact that in engaging the doctor's services the iceman handed him a newly-printed business card, saying, "If I ever need you, doctor, I'll send a card like this by the messenger, and then you'll know it's me that sent for you." Fatal words. On the night of May 4, hardly two weeks after the contract was made a messenger did call for Dr. Cronin, and, what is more, this messenger handed the doctor one of Iceman O'Sullivan's cards. It was this messenger who drove Cronin to his death, and it was this little card that led to the arrest and conviction of O'Sullivan. Whoever that mysterious messenger was, he has doubtless been roundly cursed by his masters since then for his stupidity in allowing the doctor tretain the card. He probably thought that the doctor would silp it into one of his pockets, but he didn't. Before leaving his office Dr. Cronin laid the card on a side table, where it was afterward found.

HARD OF HEARING.

the card. He probably thought that the doctor would slip it into one of his pockets, but he didn't. Before leaving his office Dr. Cronin laid the card on a side table, where it was afterward found.

HARD OF HEARING.

The McInerny girls swore to the visit of the messenger and the presenting of the card, and the card itself was a silent but effective witness against O'Sullivan. Another thing which excited suspicion was that O'Sullivan, an avowed adherent of the anti-Cronin faction, should seek out and enlist the professional services of the very man he and his friends were fighting. There is a man in this city, a close friend to O'Sullivan, who asserts that the latter had often declared to him that he was the catspaw of a band of murderers who had roped him into the plot on the false pretense that it was only intended to give Cronin a sound draubbing and then scare him out of town. But as if all this were not enough Landlord Carlson swore on the trial to the frequent meetings of the iceman with the two men who hired the cottage where the murder was done. Then there was the incriminating fact that the death blows on Dr. Cronin's head were undoubtedly made with a pair of fee tongs; that the murder took place about 8 o'clock on a spring night before anybody in the neighborhood had retired and the noise was so great that the Carlsons were frightened, but the iceman and his helpers and relatives who lived equally close to the cene didn't hear anything.

The mystery in the Cronin case is entirely as to who directed and managed the murder. There is no secret as to the cause of it. Cronin had charged and proven that one or two men high in authority in the Clan-na-Gael were making hundreds of thousands of dollars out of Ireland's misfortunes. These me were advocates of physical force and were continually raising money for what they called "secret work." Subscribers were given to understand by a whink that the money was to be used in blowing up England. The real programme was as follows: A patriot would then be given a tho alm was more complete, when he would be convicted and sent to prison for twenty years or more and sometimes to the gallows.

or more and sometimes to the gallows.

WOODRUFF THE CONFESSOR.

There is one feature of the case which the police have never attempted to explain and that is the connection of Frank Woodruff, "the confessor," with it. Woodruff was under arrest for some time, but the police finally affected to believe that he was lying and knew nothing of the murder, so they contented themselves with sending him to the penitentiary for horse-stealing. The fact is Woodruff told a story which of itself proves that he must have known something of the crime and which is now accounted for by a detective, who is still working on the case, in the following interesting way:

that he must have known something of the crime and which is now accounted for by a detective, who is still working on the case, in the following interesting way:

"For several days after Dr. Cronin's disappearance on the night of May 4, 1889, nothing was known of his fate beyond the fact that he had been driven away from his office by a man with a white horse. Just at the time when the whole police force of Chicago was on a hunt for white horses and mysterious-looking strangers. Frank Wood ruff drives over to the West Side with a white horse and makes an effort to sell it right under the nose of Capt. O'Donnell for a ridiculously small price. Of course he attracted attention, and was arrested, and you will see before I get through my tale that this was just what he wanted. After Woodruff was locked up, and before any one had said a word to him about the Cronin murder, he sent for Capt. O'Donnell, and said he wanted to make a confession. Then he went on and told a nicely mixed story of truth and falsehood, the object of which you will see later on. Woodruff said that on the night of the murder he had been hired by a North Side man whose name he didn't know, to haul a trunk away from a barn on North State street. He went to the barn and there he saw a trunk in which was the body of a young woman. Another man, who, he said, was called 'Doc,' packed the body in the trunk and they started with it toward Lake View, He described the man called 'Doc' exactly as Dr. Cronin looked and even mentioned that he had a bruise under the left eye and was growing a small goatee. Both of these marks were denied by the doctor's friends, but when the doctor's body was found on May 22, the goatee and bruise were there just as Woodruff said. Then he told about the drive to Lakeview and traced the route taken. As was afterward proven it was almost identical with that of the wagon in which Dr. Cronin's body was found the trunk lifted out by the roadside, where it was broken open and the girl's body taken out. The trunk was hidden in the

and better description of Dr. Cronin than the latter's best friends had. My theory is that woodruff was drilled to tell this story and was hired to get himself arrested so he could load the police with it. And with this object: The murderers had planned to make the authorities accept the belief that Cronin had killed a woman by malpractice, or purposely, and after disposing of her body in the lake, had taken a vessel and gone to Canada, and from there worked his way to England. Thinking that Woodruff's story had taken deep root the conspirators followed it up by the well-remembered dispatch from Toronto, Canada, in which Reporter Long claimed to have met and talked with Cronin. The finding of the doctor's remains in the Evanston avenue sewer on May 22, defeated the rest of the plan, which was to forward his clothes to England and by some trusty agent there have them used in covering some handy cadaver which could after-ward be "identified" as that of Dr. Cronin and the story would be sent broadcast that he had committed suicide in remores over the murder of his woman patient. You remember that Tinner Klare told about soldering up a tin box with clothes in it for Burke a few days after the murder, don't you? Well, I wish I could find that box. Woodruff did his part of the trick all right; but as I have said, the finding of the doctor's body knocked out the other part of it."

of the engagement of the Liliputians, Mr urer of the Olympic, will receive a testimonia penefit. The attraction and the popularity of the young man should make the audience of

It is not, perhaps, giving Fanny Daven port's production of Sardou's "Cleopatra," which comes to the Grand this week, higher praise than it merits to say that it has never been excelled as a setting for a tragedy. It is period of the play embodied in a series of pictures upon which money and artistic labor have been lavishly expended.

The staging and costuming are exceedingly rich, striking and correct, while the scenic effects are most realistic. Although the production has been seen here it is perhaps worth while to recapitulate its salient

The first act shows the Roman tribune at Tarsus in the foreground, with the Cyndus River in all its tropical luxuriance in the perspective. Antony is waiting for Cleopatra, who must account to Rome for her alleged league with Brutus at Philippi. The Egyptian rebeis stand before the tribune awaiting their Queen. Soon a slave announces the arrival of Cleopatra, and the golden galley and silk-spangled sail of the Egyptian Queen burst on the vision of Antony and burst on the vision of Antony and his officers and court. Antony immediately becomes enamored of Cleopatra and frees her countrymen held as slaves as an earnest of his love. The next scene shows the Palace of Ramesis, a beautiful set, warm and right in tropical scenery and architecture. and rich in tropical scenery and architecture. The progress of Antony's love and the dublous outlook in consequence thereof are presented a beautiful terrace, airy Syrian arches, lofty columns and hangings. In this act the messenger sent by Cleopatra to Rome returns and describes Octavia, Cæsar's sis-ter, who becomes the flancee of Antony for political reasons.

The palace of Actium is the scene of the fourth act. In the background is the Guif of Asia. Cleopatra is concealed in a canopy and forced to listen to a love scene between Antony and his bride Octavia. It is just before the battle of Actium and the disjust before the battle of Actium and the disgraceful rout of Antony by the now hostile enemy octavius. Cleopatra's and Antony's allied forces are to fight the valorous Cæsar. Before the Temple of isis the next act is laid. It is in this act that Cleopatra implores Typhon, the god of storms, to huri forth from his thunderous artillery in the heavens a bolt that will lay level the enemy. This realistic scene is one of the finest ever seen on the American stage.

The final act discloses Cleopatra in the antechamber at her palace in Alexandra. It is after the rout of Antony. Octavius Cæsar is victor. Mark Antony tievers on stabbed. victor. Mark Antony staggers on, stabbed, and dies in the arms of the Queen. The sui-cide of Cleopatra follows. With a live asp wriggling on her bosom and Antony's name on her lips she expires.

The production is more of a series of spectacles illustrating the loves of Antony and cleopatra than a tragic play, but it is interesting, and presented in a capable manner by Miss Davenport, Mr. McDowell and their supporting company. The engagement will open to-morrow evening.

The demand for seats for the final engagement of the Liliputians at the Olympic indicates that there is no diminution in the remarkable popularity of this attraction. The record of these clever little folks in this city, and in fact all over the country, has been unparalleled. There seems to be no limit to their power to please young and old.

Their performance, however, in addition to the curiosity attaching to the work of midgets possesses genuine merit. The individual work of the diminutive actors is clever and amusing, and their plays have all been produced in an elaborate, handsome and tnoroughly attractive manner.

The attraction for the opening week of their engagement at the Olympic will be "Condy," which was produced here with brilliant success. This success has been repeated elsewhere and the play has been improved. It gives excellent opportunity to the members of the company. Ebert as a bootblack, Selma Goerner as a messenger boy and Albert Zink as a newsboy form an amusing trio, while the work of the others is boy and Albert Zink as a newsboy form an amusing trio, while the work of the others is amusing trio, while the work of the others is excellent.

The spectacular features of the play are attractive. The forces number over one hundred and they are used in effective ballets and groupings. The dances are particularly pleasing, the rose ballet forming a most charming scene. The engagement begins to night and two matinees will be given during the week.

The Remenyi Concert. Edward Remenyl, one of the few great violinists of the world, will give one concert at Entertainment Hall on the evening of Tues-Entertainment Hall on the evening of Tuesday, May 17. Remenyl has many admirers in St. Louis who recognize in him a remarkable man as well as an accomplished artist. There are few violinists in this country who equal him in tone or in those wonderful effects which are only obtained by perfect technique. Edward Remenyl has been very successful in his career and is to-day one of the few wealthy artists, but is still in love with his violin. He will have in his company Hans Von Schiller, a distinguished plano virtuoso who has gained a solid European reputation and is recognized in Eastern cities as in the first rank of planists.

LABOR NEWS.

The Bakers May Strike if Their Demands Are Not Granted.

There is likelihood of trouble between the journeymen bakers and the employers over shorter hours. This is a section of an agitation which is going on in most of the large cities to ameliorate the condition of the ourneymen bakers. The chief grievance is long hours and night work. Some of them labor tweive to seventeen and eighteen hours a day. The employers assert that the change is impracticable, but the journeymen change is impracticable, but the journeymen claim the change has been made in several large cities and was followed by satisfactory results from a business standpoint. Their demands have been submitted to the Master Bakers' Association, and will come before that body at its next meeting. The striking journeymen bakers at Cleveland are taking steps to open a co-operative bakery company.

and then indicating that all is not lively among our European customers, many of whom loaded up with too much high-priced wheat and are now staggering under their loads. No increased business of a fresh character is coming from abroad and there is still a large lot of wheat in this country Europe must take in and pay for, unless she grows sick of her bargain and sells it out. Outside Chicago's stock, it is probable Europe owns most the available supply in this country and all on the ocean, an amount added to their own stocks that foots up a round total and will take amount added to their own stocks that foots up a round total and will take many millions of dollars to pay for and carry. Beerbohm of a late date gives the following as one reason for the depression in English markets. He says with the total stocks of wheat and flour in the United Kingdom in dirst hands of 19,000,000 bu. there is no great pressure on the market, as stocks of under 20,000,000 bu are ordinarily carried with ease. The trouble is, however, that one-third of the stock is in the shape of four, which alters the condition. The cheapness and abundance in American flour is, in fact, the chief depressing influence not only on the continent, but in England, as it is fact that American flour of fine quality can be bought cheaper than it can be produced by the English miler.

Another increase is seen in local receipts of wheat, extent of offerings, and the latter were rather meager, as no one cared to sell much. Not until the Government official makes known the actual crop conditions will anything definite be known regarding the alleged great shortage in the oat acreage. So far it is all guess work, and probably some of the very wildest at that. The advance in futures and the light receipts have assisted the cash article up a couple of cents in value and made a firm and satisfactory market for the sellers, although there was no really active movement. Owing to the wet weather that prevented country hauling, receipts were only 167, 468 bu, though that exceeded the week before by 47,500 bu, and the stock run down to 67,500 bu, 37,400 bu of which was No. 2. BOSTON, May 7.—The wool market this week has been the quietest since the opening of the year. The comparatively large volume of sales is due to The comparatively large volume of sales is due to an accumulation of scoured wool and carpet wool by one house which has been said during the past four weeks, but for some mysterious reason has not hitherto been reported. The attendance has not been particularly large during the week, nor is there much prospect of a brisk nor is there much prospect of a brisk nor is there much prospect of domestic wool of good quality been so depleted at this season of the year. There are not of the particularly during the wool of good quality been so depleted at this season of the year. There are not one of the wool of the particularly during the wool of the particularly during the wool of the particularly quiet and firm, and seems at last to be turning slightly in favor of sellers. Manufacturers are generally well employed, and we hear of very little idle machinery. The manufacturers about for three or four months, but in general the mills are in the stocked. The mills manufacturing high-grade worsted, such as the Saxony goods, have generally disposed of their product well. This week there is also an encouraging improvement in the orders for worsted suitings of a medium grade. Cassimeres are still duly, and the orders for fannels at pryste east. JOHN BULL PERTURBED.

De Cassagnao's Comments on the Behring Sea Case Fret Him.

From the London Picadilly.

M. Paul de Cassagnac, the fire-eating editor of that organ of Catholic and imperialist reactionaries, L'Autorite, has or professes to have a London correspondent who signs himself "Pierre de la Tour." This individual delivers himself of some charming and chi have a London correspondent who signs himself "Pierre de la Tour." This individual delivers himself of some charming and elegantly worded opinions on the country where he is supposed to be at present domicilét. Speaking of the Behring Sea question he says: "John Bull, insolent as a hangman's assistant towards every nation on the face of the globe, becomes as gentle as a lamb if Cousin Jonathan mappens to raise his voice." He then goes on to describe the awkwafd position of the British and American squadrons in the Morther-Pacific, and adds this comment: "But I feel no uneasiness at all this, John Bull only barks at a safe distance. You have but to show your teeth, and he is off as though the devil were at his heels. He would cut and run out of Egypt if our ministers had any teeth to show. The English are only a source of fear to defenseless nations. They can heet our it over Zulus, Portuguese and Boers. But you may rest assured that they will make groveling excuses to the Tankees, as they always have done-notably at the period of the 'Ainbama claims.' America, that revolted daughter of England, though she has nothing that can be called a feet, possesses the power of making Gladstone tramble as much as Lord Sallsoury. Conservatives and Liberals silke are well aware that in this matter of seal-skins it is England that will get a hiding. It is enough to make one die of laughter." Amiable language this to use of neighbors with whom you wish to live in peace and friendship. One knows, of course, that M. de Cassagnae's charitable desire is to hamper the Republican Government rather than to insult Great Britain. But what unscruptious rascais these French politicians are! Ravachol compares rather favorably with a good many of them.

Attorney with a list of the couples to whom he issued marriage licenses during the list own marriage licenses during the past six months, and which have not been reported on by the clergymen and Justices of the Peace who married the parties. The law requires that every marriage shall be reported to the Recorder of Deeds by the person performing the marriage ceremony, and a failure to so report renders him liable to indictment by the Grand-jury. The list furnished by Re. guilty of marrying a couple without having the license recorded, a true bill may be found, and the crime, a misdemeanor, punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $500. The Grand Jury will give the above list a thorough investigation and the result may cause some sensational and startling facts. Couples that have been joined in the holy bonds of wedlock during the past six months and whose licenses have failed to be recorded have little or no legal evidence to show that they are man and wife but the ministerial certificate. As a matter of legal reference, and to have the law strictly enforced, the Grand-jury will ascertain why certain marriage licenses have failed to be recorded.

A FLOOD FEARED.

The River Rising Rapidly and Nearing the Danger Line.

The river continues to creep up the river bank. The Signal Service tells of a 28-foot stage by next Tuesday. A few feet beyond those figures is the danger line. That much water will jeopardize the North St. Louis front. It will come within a hand's reach of leaping over the highest portions reach of leaping over the highest portions of the wharf. The big lumber concerns of North St. Louis know the troubles of floods. They have had to fight them more than a dozen times in the past ten years. They understand the danger and have ordered a discontinuance of rafting and lumber pulling until the water begins to shrink. All of the North End wharf from Harrison street to the Waterwerks at Bissell's Point, a mile further north, owes its safety from inundation even at this stage of the water to the C., B. & Q. Railroad tracks, which are laid on an embankment that has been built within the past year. It is calculated, but with uncertainty, that the embankment will withstand the river at twenty-eight feet. At the central wharf from Biddle street to Chouteau avenue a 28-footriver will wash the crest of the levee, and it would take an additional foot or more to splash the curbstone and reach the cellars. Of late years the June rise, as it is commonly called, because of its usual coming in that month, has been mythical. It has not come. But a rising wave is now rolling down the turbulent Missouri and terrorizing the farming communities along its fertile banks and threatening to drive many of them of the wharf. The big lumber concerns of the turbulent Missouri and terrorizing the farming communities along its fertile banks and threatening to drive many of them to flight and higher places. Much will depend upon the consequence of this body of water as to local troubles. But the outlook is ominous. The great basin lands of both the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers and their companion streams have been under a deluge of rain in the past week, which finding its outlet cramped by the rivers have scaled their banks and thrown sweeping floods along the low lands which skirt them. If this confluence of water with the Mississippi below the mouth of the Missouri 4s not greater in extent than so far anticipated there will be nothing more than the anxiety here will be nothing more than the anxiety usually brought by a flood tide. If it is greater there will be trouble all along the eighteen miles of river frontage in the city

Nina Marshall Again. The case of Nina Marshall, charged in the First District Police Court with being the keeper of a disreputable house, was con tinued yesterday in her behalf to May 14. The objectionable place is on Pine, near Twelfth street, but the real object of the proceeding is said to be to compel her to move from 2223 Chestnut street, where she is thought to have opened another house lately. As the character of this latter place has not yet developed she is being tried on the merits of the Pine street resort.

ate and pressing needs were estimated at $800,000. The estimates of the Reorganization Committee placed the cash needs of the system at $34,500,000. A later and more enlightened view reduced this sum to $14,500,000. This latter may probably be taken as the bottom flavor for the true the tree that the committee of the state of th tom figure for the time that the estimate was made. To it are to be added the increase in obligations of the various companies in the obligations of the various companies in the system since that time and the lavish expen-ditures of the Reorganization Committee.

The Olcott Committee found great difficulty n obtaining a guarantee syndicate composed of responsible bankers who would pledge themselves to underwrite the new bonds to the extent of $14,500,000. The committee could not have obtained the syndicate at all had it not been fortunate enough to secure the services of the so-called First National Bank party. This wealthy and powerfu group of financiers guaranteed financial sup-port, and in return received representation on the committee in the person of Mr. Fahnestock. Mr. Fahnestock has openly op-posed the present plan, and few believe that the guarantee syndicate can be forced to put up the money. It would be interesting to know whence the committee hopes to know whence the committee hopes to obtain, now that the plan has become a discredited affair, a joke and a by word, the pecuniary assistance which could not be secured in a heyday of glowing hopes and enthusiasm. The ultimate outcome seems as certain as ever. The committee statement published yesterday shows the deposits of underlying securities to be still very small. No extra inducements were offered which should make holders more anxious to deposit them during the next ten days than uring the past months.

The only difficulty in the situation is that the Richmond Terminal system is condemned o drag about with it this dead and odorous plan for ten days more. When at last it shal be freed, the street expects some at least of the securities of the system to re-flect the change. It is hard to plans suggested up to the present time have involved an assessment on the common Assessments are never bull arguments. The truth is that at yesterday's meeting of the committee a sub-committee was appointed to consider necessary revisions of the plan These revisions will be of a radical nature Consider necessary revisions of the plan. These revisions will be of a radical nature. Whether they will include an assessment on the stock or what they will include no one can say until the committee takes action. But it is safe to say that they will in some way provide that the terminal company itself, and not the self-sustaining roads of the system, shall pay for the past misfortunes of the system. The attempt to make the holders of mortgages on first-class railroad properties like the Danville & East Tennessee give up anything for the sake of the holders of Richmond Terminal securities is the fatal defect of the plan, the feature which has made it the laughing stock of Wall street. The delay of ten days was simply for the purpose of giving time to make the necessary revision and to soften the blow to the pride of the gentlemen who concocted the absurd plan. The result will be what every thinking manhas known all along it would be.

Wall street has not wanted for news during the west worst of the heaves are revisions.

Wall street has not wanted for news during wantstreet has not wanted for news quiring the week. Most of this has come in the form of attacks of various sorts upon the so-called trusts or trade monopolles. With the Read-ing combination as an additional force, the newspapers have contrived to six up quite a public sentiment against all forms of grinding combination as an additional force, the newspapers have contrived to stir up quite a public sentiment against all forms of grinding monopoly. They have exerted their usual influence on legislative bodies. Now there is a choice assortment of lavestigations and suits pending and expected against the Reading combination, the Distillers & Cattle Feeders, the American Sugar Refining Co, and the National Cordage Co. Of even greater import than this is the agitation of removal of the duty on refined sugar.

All these things have contrived to keep the holders of the stocks concerned in a rather nervous state. But only in the case of Sugar has any decided break in prices occurred, and this decline was the result of clever manipulation, for which the news from Washington simply furnished an excuse. The stock market is as great a puzzle as ever. The most delicate of mathematical tests fails to show its tendency, if it has any tendency. It is up one day and down the next. It seems as though the favorable and unfavorable factors exactly balanced one another, the result being a dead lock.

Prices are just about where they were a week ago, with a few important exceptions. Some of the Vanderbilt stocks developed considerable strength during the latter part of the week. National Cordage stocks have been wonderfully well supported, in view of the many unfavorable developments about the property. The company worked for montils with John Good before it succeeded in pursuading him to join forces with it. His final compliance was hailed with delight, and was the occasion for an advance in the stocks. His withdrawal is pooh poohed by those insterested persons say that it is a poor with the property work both ways. John Good

THE "POST." NEW YORK, May 7.-The Post's financial article says: The week closed on stock market to-day as uneventfully as it opened. There were comparatively few changes in prices and no business of consequence in a majority of the list. Some significance may perhaps be attached to the formation of 'pools' here and there to advance prices of special stocks. This is the case with Omaha and with Chicago gas, in neither of which any considerable short interest exists, but which seems to have been taken in hand on the belief that their operators are not so dangerous as they were a month ago. The bears themselves did some covering, here and there in to-day's market, and the buying of Sugar certificates and Louisville was easily traceable to this account. Probably the break in Lackawanna stocks was due to thes. same operators and was forced for the purpose of sheltering purchases to cover elsewhere. The market, as a whole, however, was eventful. ket to-day as uneventfully as it opened.

Review of a Week's Work-Sales and Leases.

JOPLIN, Mo., May 7.—The Thousand-acre tract owned by the Rex Mining Co. is attracting more attention, perhaps, than any single mining tract in the district. unless it be the Connor or Eleventh Hour tracts at Centerville. The first drill hole was started on the Thousand-acre tract in July, 1891. Ore was struck and a shaft was sunk upon it. Other drill holes and shafts followed in rapid succession. The first drill hole was put down on the Crossman lease of twenty acres. The drill encountered dry bone at twenty-seven feet, lead at forty feet and zinc blende at sixty-two-foot level. Up to the present time there has been something like five hundred feet of dritts opened up and great quantities of high-grade zinc ore and lead quantities of high-grade zinc ore and lead to the vernal season falls like a balm upon all, New York, May 7.—The Olocit plan for the reorganization of the Richmond Terminal system dies hard. To the impartial observer, it was doomed from its birth. Its fataly flaws were apparent to all except those who had conceived the plan. These gentlements were as blind to the real facts, were as a warped in their judgment as those with an universal matters proverbully are. Since then, they have gone stumblingly on, hoping against hope and giving vent to their feelings through newspaper statements of glowing, though vague verblage. It has seemed during the past week as though the committee had at last come to see things in something like their true light. The day reaching $84,000. The older their true light in the committee did not officially declare the demise of the Bil-fated plan, but, instead, gave out a statement of securities deposited and extended the time in which security whan this. A movement is on foot to build a $100,000 smeltery in Webb City. James O'Neil of this city has proposed to build the smeltery and build a pipe line for manufactured gas to the coal fields of Kansas in consideration of a bonus of $30,000. Notes for that amount have been raised and placed in bank and now everything depends upon Mr. O'Neil.

The mine operators and leading business men are agitating the matter of building more smelters in Joplin and the immediate more smelters in Joplin and the immediate vicinity. The sending of our zinc ores to Illi-nois and Kansas for reduction is unnecessary. The ores can be smelted here at a big profit and there is no insuperable obstacle to be encountered by a movement to concentrate the smelting industry in the mining district. It is beyond question that while the mine operators are making good profits they are still not receiving the full value of their ores. The smelting companies make the prices and they use their power to their own great advantage. Within a twelvemonth these conditions will probably be changed, and all ores will be sold by assay, as they ought to be. encountered by a movement to concentrate

Local Mining Notes There was very little trading on the Mining Exchange, and prices were practically unchanged. Central Silver was low, the stock being offered at 1, at which 400 shares were sold. More could have been obtained, and the market closed at 1 asked, 1/2 bid. Bimetallic was firm, the lowest offers being at $21.50, with no bids.

The semi-weekly shipment of the Granite Mountain amounted to 19 bars, containing 23,578 ounces of silver and 25 ounces of gold. The superintendent telegraphed that the new holst was in perfect order, and the mine looking well.

Little Albert was in fair demand, and 500 shares sold at 2½, with more wanted.

To Remove Grease From Wool,

Manufacturers of cloth materials have lately resorted to a new method of removing grease and fatty matters from the same. Briefly, the material is passed through a volatile solvent in a closed vessel, from which the solvent that is used runs to a still or retort, its distillate being condensed and returned to the closed vessel; the solvent remaining in the cloth after treatment is expelled by heat, condensed, and also returned to the closed vessel. In the apparatus the fabric is passed through a closed vessel containing the solvent by means of two sets of rollers arranged in three separate compartments, and at each partition is a set of squeezing rollers through which the fabric is also passed. On leaving the tank, the cloth passes into a closed heated chamber, in which it is led around a series of steamheated drying cylinders, the vapors coming from the latter chamber being condensed into another chamber—to which it is connected by a hood or target plus, escaping from this from the latter chamber being condensed into another chamber—to which it is connected by a hood or tapered pipe—escaping from this to a third chamber or receiver, and conducted therefrom to the closed tank. The flow of the solvent escapes to a retort where the vapors are condensed by the steam, and thence led to the receiver and back to the closed vessel.

IN THE SPRING.

Sick and Well Feel the Invigorating Touch of Nature.

This Is the Best Time of the Year to Receive Medical Treatment.

Becent Cures of Drs. Copeland and Thoma son Warious Phases of Catarrh Involv -The Consumptive Record-An Interes ing Summary of Effective Work

soft air of the vernal season fails like a balm upon all, and the most feeble feel its inspiriting effect. There-fore, many who have been under the care of a physician, feeling this friendly touch of nature, a that they will soon be well without medical aid, and been receiving. A word as to this.

This is the most serious mistake that can be made by a sufferer from catarrh. And why? For this reason: The season most favorable for the success-ful treatment of catarrh is the season when the patient is least likely to take cold. That season is the early spring and summer. Nature then lends her aid to the work of the physician. Nature then assists the progress of the patient, withholds the influences which cause and increase disease and affords a fair opportunity for complete recovery. The sufferer from catarrh can obtain results in two or three months' treatment at this season that might not be obtained in nine months of treatment during cold and damp weather. The climatic conditions favorable to a complete and absolute cure are new present.

Patients who, as winter comes on and colds and sore throats bring about a condition so aggravate that pneumonis and consumption are threatened, often go through the severe storms and trying weather of the cold season under the care of a doctor, and when spring comes leave off treatment, thus neglecting a grand opportunity for effectual resilef, and permitting the disease to gather new strength. Then when winter comes again there is the same old round of colds, sore throats, aggravated catarrh, wearisome and discouraging treatment and unsatisfactory results.

THESE FACTS SHOULD BE REMEMBERED: One month's treatment now is worth three months' treatment in winter. Two or three months' treatment now will in every probability cure a victim of

This is simple, sincere, straightforward advice, and those who are so unfortunate as to have contracted the dread disease of catarrh and who have not been able to rid themselves of it will do well to follow it. Read to-day's report of new cases cared by Drs. Copeland and Thompson. Read the letter in which the patient writes that her cure is almost miraculous. Read the statements as to incipent consumption. Then consider the dangerous tendencies of catarrh and the opportunity now presented for a complete cure of the disease.

SLEEPLESS FROM PAIN.

Miss La Rose Relates Her Dreadful Suf.

Sleeplessness without pain can be borne with some degree of fortitude, but sleeplessness BECAUSE OF PAIN is a terrible curse. Few people who suffer rom catarrh in its severe phases are liable to sleen well. The majority sleep little, if at all.

Miss Lizzle La Rose of Hotel Moser suffered greatly in this respect. Said she to an interviewer:

Miss Lizzie La Rose, Hotel Moser.

"I had catarrh for three years. It grew to be so painful that I sough's relief from physicians. They attempted to cure me, but could not. I suffered from intense headaches. I had no appetite, and the food I ate always disagreed with me. I had racking pains in the chest, and a cough grew upon me that made me dread consumption. It was impossible for me to sleep. Night after night I tossed about in pain or walked the floor in an attempt to suppress the agony I suffered. My throat was always sore. There was a constant buzzing and ringing in my ears. My head was stopped up entirely, and at times I could scarcely breathe. "About two months are I was induced to call on Drs. Copeland and Thompson. From the time I bream to take their and dictions I grevome the time I becam to take their and dictions I grevome the time I come back to me, and my rest is delightful. I have a good appetite again and relish my food. All the symptoms of the disease have disappeared, and I feel better in every respect. I can not say too much in praise of Drs. Copeland and Thompson, and recommend them to all who suffer as I did." Miss Lizzie La Rose, Hotel Moser,

DEXTER, Mo., April 30, 1892.—Drs. Copeland and Thompson. St. Louis—Gentlemen: I arrived home after a pleasant journey. My friends were scarcely able to recognize me, so great had been the change since I lett. Indeed, I had not fully realized what your had done for me until I came home. I knew my worst symptoms were removed, but losing weight was discouraging to me. After listening for a whole week to the praises of my friends, who, using their expression, say I have been literally snatched from the grave, I am fully convinced that my progress has been wonderful, and simost miraculous. If you could only see what a wonderful appetite I possess you would be delighted. I feel sure that when I return in June you will be surprised at the change. I shall take the best possible care of myself, and with the mediciaes you gave me and the appetite I now have I intend to try and weigh 150

Sore throat is the cause of more than half the trouble that comes from contagious diseases. The germs of these maladies such as scarlet fever, diphtheria, mumps, measles, smallpox and the like float in the air. They can be taken into the human system without danger, if they do not find an abraded surface. If they do, they enter the blood and swarm in millions. It is well known that diphtheria can be taken from a wound on the skin on the body. It is particularly noticeable that when such a malady as diphtheria rages it always attacks people after they have caught a slight cold. MASCOUTAH, Ill., May 7,—A dozen miles or more south of here, along the banks of the Kaskaskia River, there are numerous mounds, in which life buried the relics of the prehistoric race. Many of buried the relics of the prehistoric race. Many of the historic mounds have been robbed of their antique treasures, but there still remain many that have never yet been explored. The soil over the mounds in many places is cultivated and backwoods farmers grow fine corn and cabbage there. Mr. William Dentleman, a farmer, who resides; in the vicinity of the mounds, has a large cellection of Indian relics gathered during his years of residence there. He recently dug into a large inound upon his farm and found many articles of considerable value as relics of the race of people that once inhabited this country. Among other thing the farmer found, battle axes, knives, beads, arrow poifis and places of ornamented crockery. The workmanship on the crockery is the race of people design, and from an artistic atanapoint it is said to be of a high order. It is evident from the relica uneartheat mars here that art was not anknown to the prehistoric race.

If the wide-awake furniture manufacturers of St. Louis can have their way, St. Louis will have another national convention next year. The St. Louis Furniture Board of Trade held a large and enthuslastic meeting last night and instructed its delegates to the National Convention, which meets at Cincinnatin June this year to secure the National Furniture Convention for St. Louis in 1893. It was proposed that every member of the Exchange attend the Cincinnati Convention and that the delegation work for St. Louis as the convention meeting place in 1893. A committee was appointed to prepare a circular setting forth the merits of St. Louis in an attractive manner, which is to be placed in the hands of every delegate and alternate to the convention. New York, Boston, Cincinnati, Grand Rapids, Chicago, all principal furniture points, have had the convention, and St. Louis now proposes, with its excellent organization, to bring it to the City of Conventions.

relief from the blood-thirstiness of the white race, and his was also the third name signed to the circular appointing Tuesday, May 31, 1892, as the day, and calling upon the colored people of this country to observe it as a race by prayer and fasting. Mr. Farmer was seen yesterday by a Sundar Post-Disparch reporter, and when told of the Douglass interview he said:

"I agree with Mr. Douglass in his belief that this failure of the American Government to protect its negro citizens under the law will drive the negro race to lawlessness and anarchy. For twenty-nine years now the negro has looked to the Federal Government for protection, and for the rights guaranteed him under the constitution, but he has looked in vain. It is folly to deny the fact that the negroes of this country are not protected by its Government. Outrages against them, which would be summarily punished were the victims white men, are almost invariably allowed to go unpunished. Negroes, charged with crimes are not given opportunity for proving their innocence of the charge, nor allowed, if guilty, to be punished according to law. They are subject, instead, to the swift verdict of Judge Lynch, without legal trial, without defense being possible and hurried into eternity by the pistol route, or by the rope of the lynchers, or at the stake.

"When a race is subjected to such outlawry as that, what can be the final logical outcome of such a situation except that, finally despairing of protection under the law, the race being possible and hurried into eternity by the pistol route, or by the rope of the lynchers, or at the stake.

"When a race is subjected to such outlawry as that, what can be the final logical outcome of such a situation except that, finally despairing of protection under the law, the race being possible and hurried into eternity by the pistol route, or by the rope of the lynchers, or at the stake.

'It is not necessary to make threats. The logic of the situation speaks for itself. The neuro has small cause to respect the law, because the law, with its protection and assurance of just treatment for every citizen, is a dead-letter so far as the negro is concerned.

assurance of just treatment for every citizen, is a dead-letter so far as the negro is concerned.

"An archists are men who despair of having their wrongs righted by ordinary means. The ne gro has every reason to be an Anarchist. Yet he is not. Look at this movement for the Day of Prayer, for instance. What does the negro race propose to do in this, its first protest against the wrongs under which the negro suffers? Simply to pray to Aimighty God for relief from tuose wrongs. All that we, as a race, expect to be gained by this movement, is that the attention of the country will be thus called in a vivid manner to our deplorable position, that thinking white feople will realize the justice of our charges, and that relief will follow that recognition. Could a more peaceful method of securing relief from great wrongs and racial peril possibly have been devised?

"I make the assertion that there is not another race und er the sun which would have submitted to such wrongs as the negro has endured for the past quarter of a century without rising to revenge those wrongs. I think it is to the credit of the negro race that it has shown such patience.

"But patience has its limits, and it may be that the patience of the negro race in America has become exhausted at last. If so, there is danger ahead, for anarchy is then the only possible means of redress for a people who have appealed to the law in vain.

"I do not believe in dynamite or in any form of lawlessness or exercise of criminal force. I do not believe the negroes as a race have ever contemplated, as yet, a resort to violence to secure that protection which they should receive under the law. But there is no predicting the result of a continuance of the gigantic wrong under which githe negro race is suffering to-day in the United States.

"One thing is certain. It was not intended that this Day of Prayer movement should develop into a hostile or anarchiste movement. Its very organization proves that fact. There is not a permanent committee in the whole thing. Whe nave passed, the whole organization goes to pleces purposely.

"But when that day shall have passed, and no redress follows, and no relief is extended, what can the negro race in America expect? It will have appealed to God and man in vain. It is at such moments and in such a crisis that anarchy becomes possible."

PEORIA, Ill., May 7.-The usual crowds of people were to be seen at the bridge to-day watching the river, which is still on the rise. This morning the register marded 20 feet and 8 inches above low water mark, the highest point reached for many years. The rise in the river for the past twenty-four hours has been twenty inches, a trifle less than one inch per hour, and it is thought the rise will continue twenty-four hours longer, and the increase in volume will is now considered high, yet it has on former occasions far outstripped its present height.

If one will take the trouble to consult the records of the numerous floods that have swept down the Illinois Valley during the years that are past and gone, as they may be found chiseled in the stone wall at Truesdale's planing mill, they will find that in the spring of 1844 the river was nearly four feet higher than it is at the present time; while in 1849 it broke its former record by two feet, and was then about six feet higher than t is to-day. There have six feet higher than t is to-day. There have been many changes in the embankment along the river, but no changes have taken place in the foundation walls of the planing mill, and they remain to-day as they were fifty years ago, firm and strong, silent witnesses of the facts they record. The present high water, however, has done and is still doing considerable damage to property, besides making travel impossible in certain localities. Travel is entirely suspended at the upper bridge, and with no more rains it will be many days before travel can be resumed at that point. It is believed, however, that the worst is nearly over, and that in a few days travel by rail and wagon will be fully restored and all things working in perfect order.

Last night about? o'clock the levee of the La Marsh drainage district gave way at the La Marsh drainage district gave way at the upper end and in an hour's time thousands of dollars damage had been done, not only to the levee, but to property in the district. The dike, or levee, was constructed something over a year ago and was for the purpose of reclaiming thousands of acres of valuable land along the river in Peoria County, opposite and below Pekin. The levee was sufficiently strong and high to resist the high water of last spring, although then as now the levee was not considered as fully completed. A number of families were living in the district, but on Friday most of them abandoned their homes, taking their household and whatever other effects they could with them. Some remained and by so doing have suffered more or less loss; but it is not thought that any lives have been lost, La Marsh drainage district gave way at the though that any lives have been lost, though such may be the case.

LATER—There is great consternation along the Illinois River valley to night. It has been reported that the dam at Henry is giving way and if it does there will be great loss of life and incellently demand to the entire. life and incalculable damage to the entire valley. The recent floods have swollen the rivers above the damand it has been subjected to a greater strain than the builders ever anticipated. The river here has been rising to day at the rate of an inch every hour and fears are entertained that the three bridges spanning the river at this point will be swept away. If the Henry dam goes out there will be a wall of water sweep down the valley fifteen feet high and all the bridges along the river will go. The river at this point is now twenty-two feet above low water mark, and with the addition of the great volume of water around Henry, the entire valley, for a distance of three miles on each side, would be devastated. life and incalculable damage to the entire

for the extensive levees protecting the thousands of fertile acres on the illinois side below Warsaw, but it is hoped the river will not break there. Old river men say this afternoon that they believe the worst is over unless some unexpected rise occurs north. Reports come in from the line of the Toledo, Peoria & Wesiern Railroad, between Keokuk and Peoria, to the effect that floods are most disastrous on the lowlands. At Seville, Fulton County, the water mark is twenty-one inches over the track and transfers are being made.

SEED WILL ROT. deluge known for years. Many fields on lov lands are under water and potato fields are flooded. If wet weather continues much longer all kinds of seed will rot.

TAKEN BY HER CHILD,

Mrs. Rosenstein Complains That She Has Been Robbed. Mrs. Henry Rosenstein of 1025 Carr street

called at the Third District Station yesterday afternoon and informed the police that she had been robbed of $172, which she had hidden in a cupboard. She said that her 12-year-old in a cupboard. She said that her 12-year-old son Lewis had taken the money and claimed that he had distributed it among several companions. Her son with Walter Abling and William Chilten of 1690 Carr street were arrested and locked up several hours later. Each boy told a different story, and each tried to lay the blame on the other. The police, however, managed to learn that a part of her money had been hidden in a stable in the rear of 1699 Carr street. The stable was searched and 355, together with a large quantity of toys, candy, etc., recovered. The bulk of the money, however, has not yet been found. The fathers of Abling and Chilten called at the station last night, and after negotiating with Mrs. Rosenstein secured the release of their sons. Young Rosenstein was left to languish in the holdover all night in the hope that he would reveal the whereabouts of the missing money. He will be released this morning.

A Cow in the River.

This afternoon Edward Batchelor caught a black moolley cow swimming in the river and landed her in good condition at the foot of Dorcas street, where she awaits her owner. She jumped off the ferry boat above the bridge, it is supposed, and is thought to belong to the Union Stock Yards Co. When first seen she was making the trip down the river in good style, on her way, apparently, to meet the United States cruiser Concord.

Lumber Exchange Meeting.

A special meeting of the St. Louis Lumber Exchange will be held next Friday to revise the inspection laws and to make them conform to the laws governing the inspection of hardwoods in Chicago.

The recent gathering of the wholesale lumbermen here has suggested the feasibility of organizing a Wholesalers Association. An effort is being made to realize its formation. It would be exclusive to the yellow pine industry.

On a Hot Stove.

Mrs. Henry Harris of 903 Carr street complained at the Third District Station last night that her husband had come home drunk and after beating her severely had thrown her on a hot stove. The woman had no marks on her face, but her clothes were torn and looked as though she had been dragged about a dirty floor. Two officers were detailed to arrest the man but were unable to find him.
